—PANEL RECOMMENDS KEEPING VA FACILITY—

Callan Believes LBJ Likely To Accept Hospital Report

Nebraska Rep. Clair Callan said Tuesday afternoon that he thinks President Johnson will accept a blue ribbon presidential committee recommendation that the Veterans Administration keep open the Veterans Hospital at Lincoln.

It was reported earlier in the day that the committee recommended keeping open the Lincoln hospital and four others of the 11 hospitals that the Veterans Administration had planned to close by June 30.

Contacted in Washington, Callan said there is a question, "but not a very valid one," that the President will not accept the recommendation.

Not Much Point

"I think he will. If he doesn't, there would not have been much point in appointing the committee," Callan said.

The congressman said he expects an announcement by the White House Wednesday morning.

Callan said that he had not been officially notified, but that Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., had been informed of the recommendation by committee member Sen. Milton Young of North Dakota.

Meanwhile, the House voted extra money to keep open all 11 hospitals and four rest homes planned for closing by adding $23.5 million to a $14 billion omnibus appropriation bill.

Order Nullified

A voice vote on an amendment by Rep. Olin Teague, D-Tex., nullified a House Appropriations Committee order refusing the money to keep the installations going after June 30.

Teague is chairman of the House veterans subcommittee which held lengthy hearings on the closings.

His amendment was opposed by Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex., floor manager of the bill, who told the House that if it finally should be decided to keep some of the facilities open, funds could be provided later.

Sponsors of the House move said this did not mean that President Johnson's closing order would be vacated. They said it meant only that the money would be there to keep the installations open in event it was decided to retain some or all of them.

Callan said that a member of the presidential committee told him that his suggestion that the federal government close down or transfer the VA hospital at Grand Island to the state as an alternative to closing the Lincoln facility "was a factor in determining whether or not to close the Lincoln hospital."

He said that he had received a copy of a telegram from four veterans groups in Grand Island stating their united opposition to his proposal.

Logical Move

The congressman reiterated his stand that the alternative is a logical move if the patient-bed ratio in the state is low enough to support only one of the two hospitals.

The Lincoln hospital can afford better service to veterans, Callan said.

In addition to the Lincoln facility, the blue ribbon committee recommened retention of hospitals at Bath and Castle Point, N.Y., Grand Junction, Colo., and Miles City, Mont.

The hospitals the committee agreed should be closed are the Broadview Heights division at Brecksville, Ohio; Dwight, Ill.; McKinney, Tex.; Rutland Heights, Mass.; Fort Bayard, N.M., and Sunmount N.Y.

The committee also recommended keeping open two of four VA rest homes tabbed for closing.

Furor

The committee investigation and recommenations are a result of congressional furor raised over the presidential closing order.

Gov. Morrison, the Nebraska congressional delegation and veterans groups promptly urged the Veterans Administration to rescind the order to close the Lincoln facility and the President ordered a study made.

Nebraskans contend that the Lincoln Hospital serves a wide area, not only in Nebraska but in adjoining states and its closing would work a hardship on veterans in need of VA services.

—AT MEETING—

Aid For Victims Outlined

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Albion—About 100 residents of the tornado ravaged central Nebraska area attended a meeting here Tuesday night to learn what assistance will be available for reconstruction.

Led by State Sen. William Wylie of Elgin, the panel included officials from the Office of Emergency Planning, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Soil Conservation Service, Federal Housing Authority, the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service, the Statistical Reporting Service, Small Business Administration, Veterans Administration and the state military and insurance departments.

Also attending were State Senators Rudolf Kokes of Ord, Peter Claussen of Leigh and Elvin Adamson of Valentine.

Around $3 Million

Lt. Col. Burl Johnson said a survey of the 16-county area showed some 70 farms with major damage and 70 homes, both urban and rural, with extensive damage. He said a conservative estimate would place the total loss at around $3 million.

Following the meeting Primrose Mayor Charles Dresch said that a meeting of his townspeople would probably be called within a week or so to discuss rebuilding.

"If we can see how many are going to build, it will help others decide," he said.

"We're sure going to try to get everyone we can," the mayor said. "We feel that as soon as some start to rebuild, others will fall in."

After Cleanup

Sunday many said they were "all done," the mayor noted, but after seeing cleanup progress in the last two days they think it's "kinda nice and if they put up some new buildings they'll stay."

Major Harry Dahlgren said that he felt about 80% of the cleanup of loose debris has been accomplished in Primrose.

A few National Guard personnel will remain until Friday, he said. The Columbus infantry unit, in town since Saturday evening, returned home Tuesday evening, and engineer personnel from Grand Island, Hastings and Kearney are expected to leave Wednesday evening.

Song Be Battle Offensive's Sign

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—An estimated 1,500 Communist guerrillas pulled back into the jungled hills around Song Be Wednesday, ending a savage daylong battle in the provincial capital that cost five American dead.

The guerrillas occupied Song Be, 74 miles north of Saigon, for seven hours Tuesday morning until they were forced back by U.S.-advised Vietnamese troops and a withering barrage from U.S. jets. Fighting continued around the town of 15,000 until after nightfall.

Another Marine combat battalion of 1,400 landed Wednesday at Da Nang, site of a strategic U.S.-Vietnamese airbase 380 miles north of Saigon. The batallion boosts the number of Leathernecks to 14,000 in the Vietnamese war.

Marine Landing

The landing reinforced speculation that nearly all of the 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa would eventually be thrown into the battle against the Viet Cong.

The Viet Cong attack had been regarded as possibly the start of a major guerrilla offensive during the summer rainy season.

In addition to the five Americans killed, 13 were wounded. Twenty-seven Vietnamese troops were killed and 66 wounded, a spokesman said. Viet Cong losses were estimated at up to 170 killed.

The ground war picked up elsewhere too.

Marine Killed

A U.S. Marine was killed and six were injured in a seize-and-hold operation by a Marine company that secured a row of troublesome hamlets eight miles west of the Da Nang Air Base, 380 miles north of Saigon.

The casualties raised the total U.S. combat dead in Viet Nam in the last 3½ years to 372.

Belated reports from a battle last Sunday 25 miles west of Saigon disclosed 116 Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 78 wounded in one of the worst government beatings in recent weeks.

U.S. Air Force and Navy planes continued the initiative in the air with two strikes against Communist North Viet Nam and with no reported losses of planes.

Pouring It On

"We're really pouring the air on them," a U.S. military spokesman said. "We're giving them everything we can lay our hands on."

Despite the determined government counterattack and the pounding by U.S. planes, the Communists remained entrenched in the jungle brush around Song Be.

The airstrip had served during the afternoon to land relief forces and ammunition and to fly out some casualties. But at sunset fighting was within a few hundred yards of the strip once again and the Viet Cong were moving in fast.

Shells Land Nearby

This correspondent, aboard the last plane to leave the strip, could see what appeared to be mortar shells landing to the right of the plane us it took off.

The town of Song Be, 2½ miles½ away, was precariously back in government hands at nightfall after a day of mopping up Viet Cong snipers and rear guard fighters.

There was relatively little direct ground contact between the roughly 1,500 government troops and perhaps an equal number of Viet Cong during the afternoon. Airstrikes by B57 jets, A1 propeller-driven fighters and armed helicopters continued incessantly, and the sky over the countryside for miles around was gray with bomb smoke.

Antiaircraft

One of the many craft hit by antiaircraft fire during the day was a helicopter which had been assigned for the day to take five newsmen (including this correspondet) to Song Be

The pilot landed at the airstrip, and the craft was pressed into service to help remove casualties. Several thousand yards out from the airstrip one .50-caliber slug ripped through the tail of the craft, severing its main throttle control road and grazing the fuel pump. The helicopter landed safely, however.

The helicopter's crew was Capt. Larry E. Lowe of Topeka, Kan., Capt. William E. Volk of Elk City, Okla., Sgt. Digno Abella of Scofield Barracks, Hawaii, and Sp. 4 Raymond O'Neill of Port Royal, Pa.

"I was shook," gunner Abella said. "I got off 200 rounds from my gun before letting up. We could see the tracers coming at us from a ridgeline, and you could hear the thump thump of the Viet Cong gun."

NU BUDGET CUTS FAIL

Boost In Tuition Survives Attack

. . . BATCHELDER BEATEN

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Tuesday soundly rejected efforts to cut deeply into recommended appropriations for the University of Nebraska and the state colleges, and buried a bid to eliminate the proposed tuition hike at NU.

Only change accepted in LB889, the Budget Committee's appropriation package for education, welfare and public institutions, was an amendment earmarking the $8,197,237 in funds proposed for the NU College of Medicine.

Debate on the $192.4 million measure was scheduled to continue Wednesday.

Turned down on a 10-29 voet was Sen. Clifton Batchelder's effort to reduce University general fund appropriations by $2,144,030.

Recommended Cuts

While Batchelder's amendment proposed the $2 1 million decrease, he recommened cuts in the NU budget totaling $2,853,642.

The Omaha lawmaker's attempt to reduce general fund appropriations for the four state colleges by $2,311,612 was defeated on a 14-26 count.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff won only two supporting votes in his promised bid to eliminate the proposed tuition increases at the University.

Only Sens. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln and Edward Danner of Omaha joined Carpenter in attempting to appropriate an additional $2,660,000 from the general fund to remove the need for tuition hikes to fund NU's 1965-67 budget. Vote was 3-37.

Carpenter won 27-12 approval of his proposal to earmark funds for the College of Medicine "in order to make sure the medical center gets all the money recommended for it."

Tuesday marked the third day of debate on the bill, which proposes a 19% spending increase for the University, state colleges, Department of Education, Department of Public Welfare and Department of Public Institutions.

$14.3 Million Boost

Included is a recommended $14.3 million boost in spending from the tax-supported general fund.

All efforts to change committee recommendations have failed, but more challenges will be forthcoming.

Batchelder's proposed NU decrease was constructed largely around the net costs represented by educating nonresident students, an estimated $1.5 million.

In addition to that reduction, Batchelder proposed a $602,000 cut in funds for the agricultural extension service; $385,000 for scholarships; $145,000 for public relations, $100,000 for alumni services, and $20,000 for teacher placement services.

Educators, he said, have asked for "everything but the kitchen sink" in an effort to "milk the populace." They have "just begun to feel their political muscle," he declared.

Voting with Batchelder were Sens. Danner, Sam Klaver, Pat Moulton, Harold Moylan and Henry Pedersen Jr., all of Omaha; Elvin Adamson of Valentine, S. H. Brauer Sr. of Norfolk, Ira Paine of Grand Island, and Chet Paxton of Thedford.

Batchelder's proposed $2 3 million reduction in state college appropriations represented the net costs of educating non-resident students, he told the Legislature, including a roughly estimated $858,000 at Wayne, $862,000 at Chadron, $485,000 at Peru and $101,000 at Kearney.

'No Pressure'

Resident student pressure "does not exist" at the state colleges, he said, for they have made room for non-residents representing 30% of the students at Wayne, 26.5% at Peru, 20% at Chadron and 2.2% at Kearney.

Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance argued that the state "cannot close our doors to non-residents." Nebraska sends as many of its students out of the state for a higher education as it receives in return, he noted.

Gerdes said that the colleges will experience a 30% increase in students over the biennium, and noted that faculty wages are $700 under the average for comparable institutions.

"Any cut in this budget will reduce the quality of education," he warned. "This budget is already cut to the bone."

Supporting Batchelder were Sens. Fred Carstens of Beatrice, Cecil Craft of North Platte, Rudolf Kokes of Ord, Dale Payne of Papillion, George Syas of Omaha, William Wylie of Elgin, and Brauer, Klaver, Moulton, Moylan, Paine, Paxton and Pedersen.

Carpenter said NU tuition rates should be "stabilized," so as not to deny an education to students from low-income families.

'Ample Scholarships'

Sen. Stanley Matzke of Milford argued that there now are "ample provisions for scholarships for needy students."

Under committee recommendations, tuition hikes are proposed from $204 to $260 a year for residents, and from $540 to $800 annually for nonresidents.

Sorensen Wins Omaha Election

. . . URBAN RENEWAL LOSES

Omaha (AP)—Businessman A. V. Sorensen was elected mayor of Omaha Tuesday, unseating controversial James Dworak.

With all precincts counted, Sorensen had 59,525 votes and Dworak had 35,636.

The City Council race found Robert Cunningham, brother of Rep. Glenn Cunningham of Omaha, leading the field with Betty Abbott, the first woman to win a council seat second.

Others in the top seven were incumbents Fred Jacobberger, Al Veys and Arthur Bradley, former Nebraska football player Sam Vacanti and former public safety director Lynn Carey.

Incumbent Harry Trustin, council president, was eighth.

Seven are to be elected and the final spot, between Carey and Trustin, may hinge on the count of over 1,000 absentee votes.

The final vote on urban renewal was 64,319 no and 31,121 yes.

Dworak, a 39-year-old mortician, who faces a bribery indictment, was seeking his second four year term.

Sorensen, 59, is board chairman of an electrical equipment firm. He has served as president of the city council.

Dworak and four others, three of them city officials, were indicted by a grand jury for bribery and conspiracy. The charges grew out of a Chicago real estate developer's allegations of a shakedown in a city zoning case.

All pleaded innocent.

The Chicagoan, John Coleman, accused Dworak of seeking a $25,000 "campaign contribution" but there was no allegation that the money was paid.

Shortage Seen In Kerr-Mills Funds

. . . FOR FULL PROGRAM

State Welfare Director John Gage said Tuesday the state cannot provide full services under the expnded Kerr-Mills medical care program enacted by the Legislature without additional financing.

However, Gage noted, medical care legislation pending in the U.S. Senate would provide "a sizeable amount" of the needed additional financing by funding a hospital care program through the federal Social Security system.

"That would knock quite a hole in our expenditures," he pointed out.

Exact Expanded Plan

An expanded and liberalized Kerr-Mills program for the needy aged was enacted by the Legislature earlier Tuesday. See story on Page 12.

The Department of Public Welfare has estimated that the bill, LB367, will result in $2,332,800 in additional costs for the 1965-67 biennium, including $1,098,400 in state general fund monies.

The state's share of the program's cost is financed by a $2 head tax, which raises $1,084,000 a year.

None By January

While there is currently a balance in the state's Kerr-Mills funding, Gage noted, "there will be none by next January" based on the increasing growth of the number of participants in the present program

The current balance only represents "advance financing," Gage said, which is needed until new tax money flows into the fund.

Under terms of the bill, Gage said, the department has no choice but to pay eligible applicants in full, then "suspend payments" if the money runs out before the completion of the 1965-67 biennium.

Growth in the program has already increased the spending level to about $120,000 a month, he noted.

New Program

Gage said the pending federal legislation (which has already passed the House) also provides a new Kerr-Mills program for all ages "with favorable matching incentives" for states which enact enabling legislation.

"If the bill passes in time, we would certainly do some hard thinking about presenting enabling legislation yet this session," Gage said.

"Otherwise, it would probably be proposed at the next session, or there is always the possibility of a special session if the advantages are considerably worthwhile."

Report That LHS Has No Paper Denied

A report from Lincoln High students that the school was out of paper and examinations were being taken orally was denied Tuesday by principal William Bogar who said that all the schools in the system were trying to conserve paper "in every way that they could."

"We are not completely out of paper, but we are in the same situation as the rest of the school system," Bogar declared. "And we are not taking examinations orally."

But reports from General Arnold Elementary School teachers indicate that the school is completely out of writing paper and was practically out of some kinds of art supplies two weeks ago. Teachers were told that writing paper supplies were exhausted at the school supply center.

Reed N. Schaefer, assistant superintendent in charge of business affairs for the Lincoln system, said Tuesday that it is "absolutely not true" that schools are out of paper.

Schools have been asked to cut down on consumption, Schaefer said, "but no schools are out of paper that I know of. The only thing I know we are out of is medium-size paper clips.

GOPs Make Inroads In Mississippi

Jackson, Miss. (AP)—Democrats Tuesday outdrew the first Republican challenges in municipal elections by wide margins but the GOP promised it was only the beginning of a battle for two-party government.

The young Mississippi Republican Party had its first primary contests for mayor in Laurel and Hattiesburg and their candidates got only about 10% of the vote.

In all, the Republicans put up 55 candidates in 18 cities in this traditionally Democratic state, where they have benefited from discontent with the national Democratic Party.

In both cities, however, their primary winners will force the Democratic nominees to go into a general election contest.

In Hattiesburg, Democratic Mayor Claude Pittman Jr. got 2,119 of the 3,242 Democratic votes, while Republican Paul Grady got 371 of the 381 GOP votes.

In Laurel, Democrat Henry Bucklew got 2,386 of the 3,609 Democratic votes, while Republican J. Y. Downing got 374 of the 390 GOP votes.

"The primaries are an indication of our growing strength," a GOP spokesman said.

Russian Lunik To Try Soft Landing On Moon

Moscow (AP)—An unmanned Soviet space capsule will try to alight gently on the moon Wednesday in the most advanced experiment toward landing men there, an official Soviet announcement indicated.

The Lunik 5 a 3,250-pound spacecraft launched Sunday —will try the landing at least half a year ahead of an American attempt to set down a functioning device on the moon.

Previous Soviet and American shots at the moon have either crashed into it, stopping the flow of radioed information, or missed it. But a soft landing could provide a continued flow of surface data vital for sending men to the moon safely.

To Sea Of Clouds

The brief announcement, distributed by the Tass news agency, said the Lunik 5 is scheduled to reach the Sea of Clouds area, near the moon's South Pole, about 1:15 p.m.

The announcement about a soft landing came after the course of the Lunik 5 had been corrected.

This apparently giving Soviet authorities confidence that everything was going according to plan and a soft landing would be a success.

Heavyweight

At 3,250 pounds, the apparatus is far heavier than previous moonshots.

The electronic instrument package was rocketed aloft Sunday on the day of a giant Red Square parade on the 20th anniversary of the World War II victory in Europe.

Western observers regard the lunar probe as a Soviet challenge to the recent U. S. lead in moon exploration.

NU BUDGET CUTS FAIL

. . . BATCHELDER BEATEN

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Tuesday soundly rejected efforts to cut deeply into recommended appropriations for the University of Nebraska and the state colleges, and buried a bid to eliminate the proposed tuition hike at NU.

Only change accepted in LB889, the Budget Committee's appropriation package for education, welfare and public institutions, was an amendment earmarking the $8,197,237 in funds proposed for the NU College of Medicine.

Debate on the $192.4 million measure was scheduled to continue Wednesday.

Turned down on a 10-29 voet was Sen. Clifton Batchelder's effort to reduce University general fund appropriations by $2,144,030.

Recommended Cuts

While Batchelder's amendment proposed the $2.1 million decrease, he recommened cuts in the NU budget totaling $2,853,642.

The Omaha lawmaker's attempt to reduce general fund appropriations for the four state colleges by $2,311,612 was defeated on a 14-26 count.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff won only two supporting votes in his promised bid to eliminate the proposed tuition increases at the University.

Only Sens. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln and Edward Danner of Omaha joined Carpenter in attempting to appropriate an additional $2,660,000 from the general fund to remove the need for tuition hikes to fund NU's 1965-67 budget. Vote was 3-37.

Carpenter won 27-12 approval of his proposal to earmark funds for the College of Medicine "in order to make sure the medical center gets all the money recommended for it."

Tuesday marked the third day of debate on the bill, which proposes a 19% spendiny increase for the University, state colleges, Department of Education, Department of Public Welfare and Department of Public Institutions.

$14.3 Million Boost

Included is a recommended $14.3 million boost in spending from the tax-supported general fund.

All efforts to change committee recommendations have failed, but more challenges will be forthcoming.

Batchelder's proposed NU decrease was constructed largely around the net costs represented by educating nonresident students, an estimated $1.5 million.

In addition to that reduction, Batchelder proposed a $602,000 cut in funds for the agricultural extension service; $385,000 for scholarships; $145,000 for public relations, $100,000 for alumni services, and $20,000 for teacher placement services.

Educators, he said, have asked for "everything but the kitchen sink" in an effort to "milk the populace." They have "just begun to feel their political muscle," he declared.

Voting with Batchelder were Sens. Danner, Sam Klaver, Pat Moulton, Harold Moylan and Henry Pedersen Jr., all of Omaha; Elvin Adamson of Valentine, S. H. Brauer Sr. of Norfolk, Ira Paine of Grand Island, and Chet Paxton of Thedford.

Batchelder's proposed $2.3 million reduction in state college appropriations represented the net costs of educating non-resident students, he told the Legislature, including a roughly estimated $858,000 at Wayne, $862,000 at Chadron, $485,000 at Peru and $101,000 at Kearney.

'No Pressure'

Resident student pressure "does not exist" at the state colleges, he said, for they have made room for non-residents representing 30% of the students at Wayne, 26.5% at Peru, 20% at Chadron and 2.2% at Kearney.

Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance argued that the state "cannot close our doors to non-residents." Nebraska sends as many of its students out of the state for a higher education as it receives in return, he noted.

Gerdes said that the colleges will experience a 30% increase in students over the biennium, and noted that faculty wages are $700 under the average for comparable institutions.

"Any cut in this budget will reduce the quality of education," he warned. "This budget is already cut to the bone."

Supporting Batchelder were Sens. Fred Carstens of Beatrice, Cecil Craft of North Platte, Rudolf Kokes of Ord, Dale Payne of Papillion, George Syas of Omaha, William Wylie of Elgin, and Brauer, Klaver, Moulton, Moylan, Paine, Paxton and Pedersen.

Carpenter said NU tuition rates should be "stabilized," so as not to deny an education to students from low-income families.

'Ample Scholarships'

Sen. Stanley Matzke of Milford argued that there now are "ample provisions for scholarships for needy students."

Under committee recommendations, tuition hikes are proposed from $204 to $260 a year for residents, and from $540 to $800 annually for nonresidents.

—AT MEETING—

Aid For Victims Outlined

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Albion—About 100 residents of the tornado ravaged central Nebraska area attended a meeting here Tuesday night to learn what assistance will be available for reconstruction.

Led by State Sen. William Wylie of Elgin, the panel included officials from the Office of Emergency Planning, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Soil Conservation Service, Federal Housing Authority, the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service, the Statistical Reporting Service, Small Business Administration, Veterans Administration and the state military and insurance departments.

Also attending were State Senators Rudolf Kokes of Ord, Peter Claussen of Leigh and Elvin Adamson of Valentine.

Around $3 Million

Lt. Col. Burl Johnson said a survey of the 16-county area showed some 70 farms with major damage and 70 homes, both urban and rural, with extensive damage. He said a conservative estimate would place the total loss at around $3 million.

Following the meeting Primrose Mayor Charles Dresch said that a meeting of his townspeople would probably be called within a week or so to discuss rebuilding.

"If we can see how many are going to build, it will help others decide," he said.

"We're sure going to try to get everyone we can," the mayor said. "We feel that as soon as some start to rebuild, others will fall in."

After Cleanup

Sunday many said they were "all done," the mayor noted, but after seeing cleanup progress in the last two days they think it's "kinda nice and if they put up some new buildings they'll stay."

Major Harry Dahlgren said that he felt about 80% of the cleanup of loose debris has been accomplished in Primrose.

A few National Guard personnel will remain until Friday, he said. The Columbus infantry unit, in town since Saturday evening, returned home Tuesday evening, and engineer personnel from Grand Island, Hastings and Kearney are expected to leave Wednesday evening.

GOPs Make Inroads In Mississippi

Jackson, Miss. (AP)—Democrats Tuesday outdrew the first Republican challenges in municipal elections by wide margins but the GOP promised it was only the beginning of a battle for two-party government.

The young Mississippi Republican Party had its first primary contests for mayor in Laurel and Hattiesburg and their candidates got only about 10% of the vote.

In all, the Republicans put up 55 candidates in 18 cities in this traditionally Democratic state, where they have benefited from discontent with the national Democratic Party.

In both cities, however, their primary winners will force the Democratic nominees to go into a general election contest.

In Hattiesburg, Democratic Mayor Claude Pittman Jr. got 2,119 of the 3,242 Democratic votes, while Republican Paul Grady got 371 of the 381 GOP votes.

In Laurel, Democrat Henry Bucklew got 2,386 of the 3,609 Democratic votes, while Republican J. Y. Downing got 374 of the 390 GOP votes.

"The primaries are an indication of our growing strength," a GOP spokesman said.

Song Be Battle Offensive's Sign

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—An estimated 1,500 Communist guerrillas pulled back into the jungled hills around Song Be Wednesday, ending a savage daylong battle in the provincial capital that cost five American dead.

The guerrillas occupied Song Be, 74 miles north of Saigon, for seven hours Tuesday morning until they were forced back by U.S.-advised Vietnamese troops and a withering barrage from U.S. jets. Fighting continued around the town of 15,000 until after nightfall.

Another Marine combat battalion of 1,400 landed Wednesday at Da Nang, site of a strategic U.S.-Vietnamese airbase 380 miles north of Saigon. The batallion boosts the number of Leathernecks to 14,000 in the Vietnamese war.

Marine Landing

The landing reinforced speculation that nearly all of the 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa would eventually be thrown into the battle against the Viet Cong.

The Viet Cong attack had been regarded as possibly the start of a major guerrilla offensive during the summer rainy season.

In addition to the five Americans killed, 13 were wounded. Twenty-seven Vietnamese troops were killed and 66 wounded, a spokesman said. Viet Cong losses were estimated at up to 170 killed.

The ground war picked up elsewhere too.

Marine Killed

A U.S. Marine was killed and six were injured in a seize-and-hold operation by a Marine company that secured a row of troublesome hamlets eight miles west of the Da Nang Air Base, 380 miles north of Saigon.

The casualties raised the total U.S. combat dead in Viet Nam in the last 3½ years to 372.

Belated reports from a battle last Sunday 25 miles west of Saigon disclosed 116 Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 78 wounded in one of the worst government beatings in recent weeks.

U.S. Air Force and Navy planes continued the initiative in the air with two strikes against Communist North Viet Nam and with no reported losses of planes.

Pouring It On

"We're really pouring the air on them," a U.S. military spokesman said. "We're giving them everything we can lay our hands on."

Despite the determined government counterattack and the pounding by U.S. planes, the Communists remained entrenched in the jungle brush around Song Be.

The airstrip had served during the afternoon to land relief forces and ammunition and to fly out some casualties. But at sunset fighting was within a few hundred yards of the strip once again and the Viet Cong were moving in fast.

Shells Land Nearby

This correspondent, aboard the last plane to leave the strip, could see what appeared to be mortar shells landing to the right of the plane us it took off.

The town of Song Be, 2½ miles½ away, was precariously back in government hands at nightfall after a day of mopping up Viet Cong snipers and rear guard fighters.

There was relatively little direct ground contact between the roughly 1,500 government troops and perhaps an equal number of Viet Cong during the afternoon. Airstrikes by B57 jets, A1 propeller-driven fighters and armed helicopters continued incessantly, and the sky over the countryside for miles around was gray with bomb smoke.

Antiaircraft

One of the many craft hit by antiaircraft fire during the day was a helicopter which had been assigned for the day to take five newsmen (including this correspondet) to Song Be.

The pilot landed at the airstrip, and the craft was pressed into service to help remove casualties. Several thousand yards out from the airstrip one .50-caliber slug ripped through the tail of the craft, severing its main throttle control road and grazing the fuel pump. The helicopter landed safely, however.

The helicopter's crew was Capt. Larry E. Lowe of Topeka, Kan., Capt. William E. Volk of Elk City, Okla., Sgt. Digno Abella of Scofield Barracks, Hawaii, and Sp. 4 Raymond O'Neill of Port Royal, Pa.

"I was shook," gunner Abella said. "I got off 200 rounds from my gun before letting up. We could see the tracers coming at us from a ridgeline, and you could hear the thump thump of the Viet Cong gun."

Russian Lunik To Try Soft Landing On Moon

Moscow (AP)—An unmanned Soviet space capsule will try to alight gently on the moon Wednesday in the most advanced experiment toward landing men there, an official Soviet announcement indicated.

The Lunik 5 a 3,250-pound spacecraft launched Sunday—will try the landing at least half a year ahead of an American attempt to set down a functioning device on the moon.

Previous Soviet and American shots at the moon have either crashed into it, stopping the flow of radioed information, or missed it. But a soft landing could provide a continued flow of surface data vital for sending men to the moon safely.

To Sea Of Clouds

The brief announcement, distributed by the Tass news agency, said the Lunik 5 is scheduled to reach the Sea of Clouds area, near the moon's South Pole, about 1:15 p.m.

The announcement about a soft landing came after the course of the Lunik 5 had been corrected.

This apparently giving Soviet authorities confidence that everything was going according to plan and a soft landing would be a success.

Heavyweight

At 3,250 pounds, the apparatus is far heavier than previous moonshots.

The electronic instrument package was rocketed aloft Sunday on the day of a giant Red Square parade on the 20th anniversary of the World War II victory in Europe.

Western observers regard the lunar probe as a Soviet challenge to the recent U. S. lead in moon exploration.

Papal Nuncio Is Optimistic

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Vatican's special peacemaker in Santo Domingo described himself Tuesday as "highly optimistic" of a settlement of the 17-day-old civil war.

Msgr. Emanuele Clarizio, papal nuncio to the Dominican Republic, spoke to newsmen after he and former U.S. Ambassador John Bartlow Martin, President Johnson's personal envoy, emerged from talks with the rebel chieftain.

The meeting was the first between a U.S. official and Col. Francisco Caamano Deno since he was installed as the provisional president of the so-called constitutional forces.

Sniping Goes On

Despite peacemaking efforts, sniping continued in the palm-lined streets of this old city.

A U.S. airborne lieutenant was killed and seven other paratroopers were wounded Monday night when they were caught in a sniper crossfire from shabby stucco apartments along Calle Calcedo.

The death raised the unofficial number of American soldiers killed in the Dominican Republic to 14. Nearly 100 have been wounded.

Caamano's talks with the papal nuncio and Martin caused a flurry of speculation the 32-year-old rebel chief would meet soon with Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barreras, president of the rival civilian-military junta.

Scoffs At Junta

In an address over rebel-held Radio Santo Domingo Tuesday night, Caamano scoffed at the junta as "an inoperative force" and vowed:

"I will not take a step backward in spite of the enormous U.S. force."

He again asserted that President Johnson had sent 20,000 soldiers to the Dominican Republic on the false assumption the country was threatened by a Communist takeover.

Refusing

Caamano has refused to meet with Imbert until several officers identified with the junta are purged from the armed forces. Chief among these is Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, commander of the elite troops and tanks at the San Isidro Air Base outside Santo Domingo.

Caamano holds Wessin mainly responsible for air attacks that took more than 1,300 lives in Santo Domingo shortly after the uprising began April 24.

Wessin was reported to have resigned under U.S. pressure Monday night but then changed his mind.

American officials meanwhile sought to discount any idea that they have exerted pressure on Wessin to quit in order to placate the rebels.

Wessin could not be reached for comment.

Besides fighting the rebels, he led the military coup that ousted President Juan Bosch in September 1963. The rebels rallied around Bosch in launching their revolution.

Mao Says Dominicans Aren't Alone

Tokyo (AP)—Mao Tze-tung of Red China said Tuesday "U.S. military intervention in the Dominican Republic has aroused a new wave against U. S. imperialism among the people of Latin America and the world."

"You, the heroic Dominican people, are definitely not alone in your struggle," he declared in a statement calling on the world to unite for a "tit-for-tat struggle" against the United States.

China's top leader said the United States is carrying out its "armed intervention" in the Dominican Republic under the banner of fighting communism.

Imperialism's Meaning

"By fighting communism, U.S. imperialism means fighting all those who are unwilling to be the slaves of the United States, fighting all those who defend the independence, sovereignty and national dignity of their countries, fighting all those who refuse to submit to U.S. imperialism control, bullying, intervention and aggression.

"This is what Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo did in the past. This is what U.S. imperialism is doing today on an even greater scale."

The statement, a rare one for Mao, was carried in full on a Peking Radio broadcast of the New China News Agency.

Mao asserted that "the Johnson administration of the United States has dispatched more than 30,000 troops to carry out sanguinary suppression," after a "cabal dictatorship of traitors" was overthrown by the people.

Armed Intervention

The U.S. government has "abandoned all such deceptive phrases as 'the Good Neighbor policy' and 'the principle of nonintervention,' and carried out naked intervention and aggression," Mao said.

"This has laid bare the true features of the U.S. imperialist gangsters," he added. "Under the banner of 'defending freedom,' the United States is carrying out its armed intervention in Dominica."

"What kind of 'freedom' is this? It is the freedom to use airplanes, warships and guns to slaughter the people of other countries. It is the freedom to violate the sovereignty of other countries at will . . ."

Mao charged that international organizations such as the United Nations and the Organization of American States are "tools of U.S. imperialism."

41 Colleges Each Award Students Over $1 Million

Washington (AP) — Forty-one colleges and universities each awarded $1 million or more in financial aid to their students during the 1963-64 academic year.

Another 74 institutions each handed out from $500,000 to $999,999 in scholarships, loans and jobs.

These figures, from a report issued Tuesday night by the Educational Testing Service (ETS), show that helping their students get through college has become a multimillion-dollar business for the nation's institutions of higher learning.

The ETS said the 1,221 colleges and universities participating in the survey awarded more than $251 million in student aid.

Only Part Of Scene

But the report admittedly reveals only part of the true situation. It includes only aid given to students selected by the colleges themselves.

It does not include awards made by national scholarship programs such as the National Merit Scholarship programs, state scholarship and loan programs, work-study grants, or even loans and jobs which students get after arriving on campus.

The $251 million went to 454,000 students. The average student award was $553. About $120 million was in scholarships, $85 million in loans, and $45 million in jobs.

Between Lines

Individuul institutions were not identified, but there were some lines to read between.

For instance, the figures clearly indicate that relatively few of the richest schools —which usually are also the most expensive — gave a disproportionate share of the awards.

Those 41 institutions which awarded $1 million or more —their total was $69.3 million —made up only four per cent of the institutions surveyed.

Almost half the $251 million reported was awarded by only 10% of the institutions.

Plane Carrying 126 Loses Wheel During Takeoff

El Paso, Tex. (AP)—An American Airlines jet airliner with 126 persons aboard lost a wheel on takeoff here Tuesday and then made a tension-packed landing without incident while firemen and emergency crews stood by.

The Boeing 707 had circled El Paso International Airport for 80 minutes prior to the landing, dumping all but 3,500 pounds of its fuel out over the desert.

No one among the plane's 119 passengers and crew of seven was injured, an airlines spokesman said, but a two-by-14-inch hole was discovered in the fuselage after the landing, apparently caused by a swinging brake drum.

King Promises New March If Legislature Doesn't Listen

Selma, Ala. (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., suffering from a cold, outlined Tuesday plans for massive new demonstrations at the state capital if the Alabama legislature fails to heed demands for improving the Negro's economic and political status.

King's rallying tour of target areas in his 4-month-old Negro voter drive took him to nearby Camden where he told about 200 Negroes that petitions will be presented to the legislature next week.

While King was making his fourth stop in the two-day Black Belt tour to pump new life into his voter drive, police at Demopolis—where he spoke Monday night—arrested about 50 persons for trying to lead a march of Negro school children. Those arrested were charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

King told the Camden crowd that the Alabama legislature "is not concerned one iota about you and about me and about the Negro people.

"It is concerned merely with preserving white supremacy, concerned with issues about keeping Negroes in their place."

King spelled out some of the grievances which Negroes will seek to present in petitions to the lawmakers beginning next week. He said Negroes are tired of:

"Living in slums and broken-down houses . . .

"Getting the worst jobs . . .

"Living as sharecroppers and not being able to own land . . .

"The fact that we can't register and can't vote."

King said of the U.S. Senate's vote against outlawing pool taxes: "For Congress to say we've got to pay money to vote evil forces out of office is indeed an insult and blasphemy."

Milwaukee Road Stockholders OK Uniting With CNW

Chicago (AP) — Milwaukee Road stockholders overwhelmingly approved Tuesday merger of their railroad and the Chicago North Western Railway into a 15-state system 20,975 miles long.

The vote was taken at the annual shareowners meeting of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Co.

The result was 1,568,601 common shares for 10,951 against; 379,577 Series A preferred shares for 4,334 against.

The Milwaukee-North Western consolidation would make the system the second longest in the nation.

Oklahoma Teachers Okay Boycott

Oklahoma City (AP)— Oklahoma teachers, bolstered by nationwide sanctions against the state's educational system, voted Tuesday to boycott state schools next fall.

The vote was described as a means to learn the teachers' feelings and did not necessarily indicate future action.

In turn, Gov. Henry Bellmon boycotted the meeting of more than 8,000 teachers after learning the National Education Association in Washington had imposed sanctions against the state.

Bellmon demanded an immediate retraction of the sanctions which he called "disgusting, distasteful and disgraceful."

The teachers voted by more than a 4-to-1 margin to boycott state schools next year unless their demands are met. The actual vote was 5,383 for the boycott, 1,275 against it and 1,038 undecided.

However, the Oklahoma Education Association board of directors adjourned after learning of the vote without giving it their stamp of approval. An OEA spokesman said the poll was atken "merely as a means to learn the consensus of those attending this convention. It does not dictate a future course of action."

Main source of irritation to Oklahoma teachers is the average annual salary of $5,160. The national average is more than $1,000 higher at $6,235 and ranks Oklahoma 37th in the nation.

Soviets Expel Yankee 'Trouble-Maker'

Moscow (AP) — The Soviet government Tuesday expelled an American diplomat on charges of whipping up racial discontent among African students with gifts of food and liquor.

"I deny the charges," said the diplomat, Norris D. Garnett. The U.S. embassy backed him up.

Garnett, 33, a Negro cultural attache, was expected to leave within a week.

Africans Charge Prejudice

The expulsion followed public complaints of African students that they had suffered racial discrimination in the Soviet Union.

Izvestia, the government newspaper, accused Garnett of bribing African students "to make slanderous statements" against the Soviet Union.

Twenty-nine students returned home from Russia to Kenya last month complaining bitterly of racial discrimination and beatings. The Kenyans also complained that their courses in Soviet universities were Communist indoctrination classes.

NORRIS D. GARNETT

Delighted

The Russians have delighted in reporting racial troubles in the United States. They have taken pains to picture their own country as free from racial strife.

They appeared sensitive to doubts the Kenyans threw on this picture. Since the Kenyans returned home, the Soviet press has quoted Kenyan students who stayed here as denying the charges.

The Soviet press reports announcing Garnett's expulsion did not mention that he is a Negro. The only other Negro diplomat expelled by the Russians in recent memory was the Congolese charge d'affairs, who was ordered out early this year.

Garnett came to Moscow last Oct 2 on a two-year assignment.

An embassy statement said his work involved "considerable contact with American students and it was only natural that he would also meet students of other nationalities."

"Garnett has not at any time been guilty of behavior incompatible with his status as an accredited diplomat," the statement added.

Garnett was formerly assigned to the U.S. embassy in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, and had a fluent knowledge of Sawhili.

Garnett, a native of Newton, Kan., whose parents now live in Los Angeles, said he would take leave in Europe, awaiting a new assignment. A bachelor, he is planning to marry soon but declined to discuss the bride.

He was the only Negro on the embassy staff.

While King was making his fourth stop in the two-day Black Belt tour to pump new life into his voter drive, police at Demopolis—where he spoke Monday night—arrested about 50 persons for trying to lead a march of Negro school children. Those arrested were charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

King told the Camden crowd that the Alabama legislature "is not concerned one iota about you and about me and about the Negro people.

"It is concerned merely with preserving white supremacy, concerned with issues about keeping Negroes in their place."

King spelled out some of the grievances which Negroes will seek to present in petitions to the lawmakers beginning next week. He said Negroes are tired of:

"Living in slums and broken-down houses . . .

"Getting the worst jobs . . .

"Living as sharecroppers and not being able to own land . . .

"The fact that we can't register and can't vote."

King said of the U.S. Senate's vote against outlawing pool taxes: "For Congress to say we've got to pay money to vote evil forces out of office is indeed an insult and blasphemy."

Oklahoma Teachers Okay Boycott

Oklahoma City (AP)— Oklahoma teachers, bolstered by nationwide sanctions against the state's educational system, voted Tuesday to boycott state schools next fall.

The vote was described as a means to learn the teachers' feelings and did not necessarily indicate future action.

In turn, Gov. Henry Bellmon boycotted the meeting of more than 8,000 teachers after learning the National Education Association in Washington had imposed sanctions against the state.

Bellmon demanded an immediate retraction of the sanctions which he called "disgusting, distasteful and disgraceful."

The teachers voted by more than a 4-to-1 margin to boycott state schools next year unless their demands are met. The actual vote was 5,383 for the boycott, 1,275 against it and 1,038 undecided.

However, the Oklahoma Education Association board of directors adjourned after learning of the vote without giving it their stamp of approval. An OEA spokesman said the poll was atken "merely as a means to learn the consensus of those attending this convention. It does not dictate a future course of action."

Main source of irritation to Oklahoma teachers is the average annual salary of $5,160. The national average is more than $1,000 higher at $6,235 and ranks Oklahoma 37th in the nation.

Milwaukee Road Stockholders OK Uniting With CNW

Chicago (AP) — Milwaukee Road stockholders overwhelmingly approved Tuesday merger of their railroad and the Chicago North Western Railway into a 15-state system 20,975 miles long.

The vote was taken at the annual shareowners meeting of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Co.

The result was 1,568,601 common shares for 10,951 against; 379,577 Series A preferred shares for 4,334 against.

The Milwaukee-North Western consolidation would make the system the second longest in the nation.

Soviets Expel Yankee 'Trouble-Maker'

Moscow (AP) — The Soviet government Tuesday expelled an American diplomat on charges of whipping up racial discontent among African students with gifts of food and liquor.

"I deny the charges," said the diplomat, Norris D. Garnett. The U.S. embassy backed him up.

Garnett, 33, a Negro cultural attache, was expected to leave within a week.

Africans Charge Prejudice

The expulsion followed public complaints of African students that they had suffered racial discrimination in the Soviet Union.

Izvestia, the government newspaper, accused Garnett of bribing African students "to make slanderous statements" against the Soviet Union.

Twenty-nine students returned home from Russia to Kenya last month complaining bitterly of racial discrimination and beatings. The Kenyans also complained that their courses in Soviet universities were Communist indoctrination classes.

NORRIS D. GARNETT

Delighted

The Russians have delighted in reporting racial troubles in the United States. They have taken pains to picture their own country as free from racial strife.

They appeared sensitive to doubts the Kenyans threw on this picture. Since the Kenyans returned home, the Soviet press has quoted Kenyan students who stayed here as denying the charges.

The Soviet press reports announcing Garnett's expulsion did not mention that he is a Negro. The only other Negro diplomat expelled by the Russians in recent memory was the Congolese charge d'affairs, who was ordered out early this year.

Garnett came to Moscow last Oct. 2 on a two-year assignment.

An embassy statement said his work involved "considerable contact with American students and it was only natural that he would also meet students of other nationalities."

"Garnett has not at any time been guilty of behavior incompatible with his status as an accredited diplomat," the statement added.

Garnett was formerly assigned to the U.S. embassy in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, and had a fluent knowledge of Sawhili.

Garnett, a native of Newton, Kan., whose parents now live in Los Angeles, said he would take leave in Europe, awaiting a new assignment. A bachelor, he is planning to marry soon but declined to discuss the bride.

He was the only Negro on the embassy staff.

Western Drought Cuts Winter Wheat Forecast

...'One Of Sharpest Drops In Recent History'

By The Associated Press

The continuing drought in western Nebraska has taken a huge cut out of Nebraska's 1965 winter wheat crop prospects, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's monthly forecast indicated Tuesday.

While the per-acre yield of 20 bushels forecast on the basis of conditions April 1 remained unchanged, the wheat crop was forecast as of May 1 at 56,700,000 bushels, a decline of 12.5 million bushels from the previous month's forecast.

This forecast also reflected abandonment and winterkill as it showed a wheat acreage for harvest of 2,835,000 compared with 3,461,000 acres planted to wheat in the fall.

The 1964 winter wheat crop harvested from 2,953,000 acres, compared with 3,235,000 planted.

The 1964 wheat crop in Nebraska amounted to 73,825,000 bushels and the 1959-1963 average crop was 69,885,000 bushels.

In Lincoln, Kenneth Logan, state-federal agricultural statistician, said the decline in the May 1 forecast represented "one of the sharpest drops in recent history."

He attributed the decline to severe dry weather and high winds in the west, and extensive winterkill in the east.

Generally, rainfall is needed to bring the crop along, he said.

"The economic impact on the wheat farmer will be devastating unless some moisture is received soon," he declared.

Less Than 10 Acres Of Grain Declared Left In Sioux County

Chadron (AP) — A check of northwest Nebraska counties, which received a dash of rain and snow this past weekend, shows them still critically dry.

Rainfall at Chadron in Dawes County is still more than an inch below normal and 1½ inches below the mark recorded at this time a year ago.

Agricultural officials in Sioux County reported that the severe drought, coupled with winterkill, has left the county with less than 10 acres of grain.

Reservoirs Nearly Dry

Vic Nissen, Dawes County ASCS manager, said 80 to 90% of the reservoirs in the northern half of the county are dry or nearly so and, with pastures three to four weeks behind schedule in growth, feed supplies are running out.

In Sheridan County, Jim Peters, extension agent, reported the drought situation in the county is the worst it has been for a number of years.

Lester Skeen, manager of water in the Mirage Flats area south of Hay Springs, reported that based on the present reservoir level, the big irrigation district will receive only six-tenths of a foot of water per acre, compared with a normal allocation of one acre foot. He said the district reservoir, Lake Felton, near Hemingford, is less than half full.

Charles Fenster of the Box Butte County Experiment station said the dry weather and wind erosion have destroyed 20 to 30% of the wheat in the entire western Nebraska area.

The dry weather has created a forest problem as well as evidenced by the disastrous fire at the Halsey National Forest last week. Forest service officials in Chadron reported that the fire danger to grasslands and timber areas is extremely high and there have been numerous lightning fires.

Nissen said the situation is such that many counties may be declared disaster areas.

Meanwhile, directors of the Custer Public Power District at Broken Bow in a resolution adopted by the board "considers all of the corporate area of the Custer District including the counties of Custer, Loup, Blaine, Thomas, Logan, Hooker and McPherson and bordering areas in Cherry, Lincoln, Keith and Sherman, in a critical drought condition and that all of said area be included in the drought area declaration and request, by the governor of the State of Nebraska, to the Federal Government."

Copies of the resolution were sent to the governor, boards of supervisors of the mentioned counties, and Hans Jensen, chairman of the State Disaster Committee.

UP Stockholders Approve Merger With Rock Island

Salt Lake City (AP) — Stockholders gave formal approval Tuesday to the Union Pacific Railroad Company's proposed plan to take over the Rock Island line.

Rock Island shareholders have already approved. The Interstate Commerce Commission must still rule on it. This is expected within about two years.

The merger would give Union Pacific a line to the railroad hub in Chicago and direct connections with the eastern railroads.

Announcement of stockholder approval was made at the annual stockholders' meeting in Salt Lake City Tuesday. The Union Pacific is a Utah corporation.

Union Pacific President Edd H. Bailey said the line expects "1965, as a whole, will be equally as good as 1964, barring prolonged steel strikes or other serious unusual occurrences."

Agricultural Importance To Continue

...Says Haagensen

By Glenn Kreuscher
Farm Editor

Agriculture is not a declining industry; it is going to continue to be ever important in the nation's economy where brain power has replaced horsepower on the nation's farms and ranches in producing efficiency unmatched by any other industry.

This was a summary of the charge given the Nebraska Committee on Agricultural Public Relations at a Tuesday meeting by Kenneth Haagensen, co-ordinator of special projects for Allis Chalmers Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

Haagensen, a nationally recognized public relations spokesmen, said it was important that a favorable image be created for agriculture where facts and truth are combined in a program of understanding for the public.

He said the fast growing population of the world now doubles every 38 years, that 325 million people will need food by the end of the century and that requirements for urban land will double in that time.

Dr. William E. Colwell of Hay Springs, suggested the Agricultural Public Relations Committee first established by Governor Morrison be set up on a continuing charter to assure it's existence and not be dependent upon the occupancy of the governor's office.

He suggested that the frame work of the organization includes representation from every organization in the state that has a public relations committee.

National Outlook Declines 6 Pct.

Washington (AP) — The 1965 winter wheat crop lost ground under April drought conditions but a slightly above average harvest of 977,779,000 bushels was forecast by the Agriculture Department Tuesday.

This was 6% below last month's official forecast and 5% less than last year. However, a crop of this size would be one per cent larger than the 1959-63 average.

The department said continued dry weather during April over the western great plains and larger-than-expected acreage losses in the corn belt reduced production prospects.

No forecast was given for spring wheat but a harvest of 262 million bushels is indicated as a possibility on the basis of projected plantings. This would give a total 1965 wheat crop of 1,239,799,000 bushels compared with 1,290,468,000 last year.

In its May crop report, the department said general field work lagged across the northern half of the nation as wet soils and cool temperatures prevailed.

The department said a critically dry area center in eastern Colorado extends from the panhandle areas of Oklahoma and Texas north to western Nebraska. The report said crops continued to deteriorate in this area and that acreage losses of winter grains have been extensive.

Lutherans Elect Welchert Secretary; Tabitha Home Expansion Plans OKd

Hastings (AP)—The Rev. Hugo Welchert of Omaha was named secretary of the Nebraska Synod, Lutheran Church in America Tuesday.

The Rev. Mr. Welchert succeeds Homer Forsthrup of Omaha, who has been serving both as secretary and assistant to the president. By constitution he may not hold both positions, so he will continue in the latter post.

The 260 voting delegates to the annual meeting also elected two lay members and two clegymen to the 15-member Synod board for three year terms.

The Rev. Arthur H. Pinkall of Omaha and the Rev. Karl Konig of Pender were the pastors elected. Lay members are Carroll Thompson of Lincoln, southeast district member, and Howard Peterson of Grand Island, re-elected from the central district.

Earlier Tuesday the 276 voting delegates approved plans for construction of a 100-bed skilled nursing care unit at Tabitha Home in Lincoln. The action is part of a stepped-up social work program adopted.

The Rev. Lorin Wolff, executive director of Tabitha Home, said it is planned to begin construction of the new unit within a year. Estimated cost for the nursing unit and other renovation is $1,052,000.

Tabitha also received approval for implementation of a noninstitutional care program for the aged.

In other actions Tuesday the synod voted to assume ownership and control of Immanuel, Inc., formerly Immanuel Deaconess Institute, in Omaha.

More than 400 delegates and visitors were in attendance at the three-day convention which closes Wednesday noon.

Four Primrose Firms Are Back In Business

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Primrose — Despite Saturday night setbacks, four Primrose business houses had their doors open again Tuesday.

The first was the general store owned by Mrs. Olga Primrose followed by the Farmers Co-op Grocery Store.

Tony Fisher, manager of the Co-op service station, had new gas pumps brought in Monday afternoon.

"It isn't complete yet, but it's enough so we can serve the public," he said.

He had been spending most of his time fixing flat tires. "I don't know how many," he remarked, "but there were four on one flatbed truck."

The fourth was the tavern operated by Mrs. Dorothy Carrher, who escaped injury in the tornado when she and several others took refuge in an old bank vault in the old bank building housing the tavern.

Mayor Charles Dresch said he didn't know yet which businesses would be rebuilt.

Dresch noted that he was working with Gov. Frank Morrison to "see if we can get some kind of industry to get young blood in town."

He noted that seven of the houses destroyed were occupied by elderly single women of low income. The question is "Who's going to support the town?" he said.

Pleased with the progress of clean up operations, the mayor was still optimistic about his town's recovery.

"We're going to have all underground telephone cables, new poles and wires,' he said. "All we need now is new homes and people."

National Guardsmen and volunteers continued clearing up massive piles of debris along the main street Tuesday.

Dozens of trucks formed a steady stream to dumping sites east and west of town.

Three hundred high school students from Albion joined with 57 volunteers organized through the Albion Chamber of Commerce to help with the cleanup.

Dick Gavit, district extension forester from Pierce, has been in Primrose since Monday helping to determine what trees can be saved.

"There are not many that are salvagable," he said. "We won't be able to remove all that should be right at the present."

A Union Pacific work train arrived Tuesday morning to pick up two railroad cars dumped over by the twister and to help clear the tracks.

Olesen Services Set Wednesday

Primrose — Double funeral services for Mrs. Lorell Olesen, 62, and her son Wayne, 36, of Omaha, two of the four victims of Saturday's tornado, will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Primrose Presbyterian Church with burial at Cedar Rapids, Neb.

Mrs. Olesen's survivors includes a sister, Mrs. Ruth Meyer of Wolbach, and a brother, Howard Foreman of Rainier, Ore.; and meces and nephews.

Nine-year-old Sara McBride, who died in a Spalding hospital of tornado injuries, will be buried at Dublin Cemetery at Primrose following 10:30 a.m. services Thursday in the Primrose Presbyterian Church.

Rites for the fourth victim, Mrs. Myrtle Barry, 76, were held at Primrose Tuesday afternoon.

Agricultural Importance To Continue

... Says Haagensen

By Glenn Kreuscher
Farm Editor

Agriculture is not a declining industry; it is going to continue to be ever important in the nation's economy where brain power has replaced horsepower on the nation's farms and ranches in producing efficiency unmatched by any other industry.

This was a summary of the charge given the Nebraska Committee on Agricultural Public Relations at a Tuesday meeting by Kenneth Haagensen, co-ordinator of special projects for Allis Chalmers Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

Haagensen, a nationally recognized public relations spokesmen, said it was important that a favorable image be created for agriculture where facts and truth are combined in a program of understanding for the public.

He said the fast growing population of the world now doubles every 38 years, that 325 million people will need food by the end of the century and that requirements for urban land will double in that time.

Dr. William E. Colwell of Hay Springs, suggested the Agricultural Public Relations Committee first established by Governor Morrison be set up on a continuing charter to assure it's existence and not be dependent upon the occupancy of the governor's office.

He suggested that the frame work of the organization includes representation from every organization in the state that has a public relations committee.

Lutherans Elect Welchert Secretary; Tabitha Home Expansion Plans OKd

Hastings (AP)—The Rev. Hugo Welchert of Omaha was named secretary of the Nebraska Synod, Lutheran Church in America Tuesday.

The Rev. Mr. Welchert succeeds Homer Forsthrup of Omaha, who has been serving both as secretary and assistant to the president. By constitution he may not hold both positions, so he will continue in the latter post.

The 260 voting delegates to the annual meeting also elected two lay members and two clegymen to the 15-member Synod board for three year terms.

The Rev. Arthur H. Pinkall of Omaha and the Rev. Karl Konig of Pender were the pastors elected. Lay members are Carroll Thompson of Lincoln, southeast district member, and Howard Peterson of Grand Island, re-elected from the central district.

Earlier Tuesday the 276 voting delegates approved plans for construction of a 100-bed skilled nursing care unit at Tabitha Home in Lincoln. The action is part of a stepped-up social work program adopted.

The Rev. Lorin Wolff, executive director of Tabitha Home, said it is planned to begin construction of the new unit within a year. Estimated cost for the nursing unit and other renovation is $1,052,000.

Tabitha also received approval for implementation of a noninstitutional care program for the aged.

In other actions Tuesday the synod voted to assume ownership and control of Immanuel, Inc., formerly Immanuel Deaconess Institute, in Omaha.

More than 400 delegates and visitors were in attendance at the three-day convention which closes Wednesday noon.

Four Primrose Firms Are Back In Business

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Primrose — Despite Saturday night setbacks, four Primrose business houses had their doors open again Tuesday.

The first was the general store owned by Mrs. Olga Primrose followed by the Farmers Co-op Grocery Store.

Tony Fisher, manager of the Co-op service station, had new gas pumps brought in Monday afternoon.

"It isn't complete yet, but it's enough so we can serve the public," he said.

He had been spending most of his time fixing flat tires. "I don't know how many," he remarked, "but there were four on one flatbed truck."

The fourth was the tavern operated by Mrs. Dorothy Carrher, who escaped injury in the tornado when she and several others took refuge in an old bank vault in the old bank building housing the tavern.

Mayor Charles Dresch said he didn't know yet which businesses would be rebuilt.

Dresch noted that he was working with Gov. Frank Morrison to "see if we can get some kind of industry to get young blood in town."

He noted that seven of the houses destroyed were occupied by elderly single women of low income. The question is "Who's going to support the town?" he said.

Pleased with the progress of clean up operations, the mayor was still optimistic about his town's recovery.

"We're going to have all underground telephone cables, new poles and wires,' he said. "All we need now is new homes and people."

National Guardsmen and volunteers continued clearing up massive piles of debris along the main street Tuesday.

Dozens of trucks formed a steady stream to dumping sites east and west of town.

Three hundred high school students from Albion joined with 57 volunteers organized through the Albion Chamber of Commerce to help with the cleanup.

Dick Gavit, district extension forester from Pierce, has been in Primrose since Monday helping to determine what trees can be saved.

"There are not many that are salvagable," he said. "We won't be able to remove all that should be right at the present."

A Union Pacific work train arrived Tuesday morning to pick up two railroad cars dumped over by the twister and to help clear the tracks.

Olesen Services Set Wednesday

Primrose — Double funeral services for Mrs. Lorell Olesen, 62, and her son Wayne, 36, of Omaha, two of the four victims of Saturday's tornado, will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Primrose Presbyterian Church with burial at Cedar Rapids, Neb.

Mrs. Olesen's survivors includes a sister, Mrs. Ruth Meyer of Wolbach, and a brother, Howard Foreman of Rainier, Ore.; and nieces and nephews.

Nine-year-old Sara McBride, who died in a Spalding hospital of tornado injuries, will be buried at Dublin Cemetery at Primrose following 10:30 a.m. services Thursday in the Primrose Presbyterian Church.

Rites for the fourth victim, Mrs. Myrtle Barry, 76, were held at Primrose Tuesday afternoon.

State's Agresearch Studied By Panel

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska's five-year-old agresearch program is being critically evaluated by a panel of three nationally prominent scientific research directors

State Agriculture Director Pearle F. Finigan said Tuesday that study findings are expected to be reported in three to four weeks.

Team members are Dr. Jesse E Hobson of Southern Methodist University; Dr. Norwood C. Thornton, associate research director for United Fruit Co., and Paul J. Lovewell, head of Management and Research Association of Palto Alto, Calif

Major Areas

Finigan said the study covers the Nebraska Agriculture Products Research Fund (Agresearch) since its inception in 1959, and will evaluate these major areas·

— work accomplished through contract research (as used by Nebraska) in comparison with such methods of establishing a research center or using a university.

—the projects undertaken to ascertain their effectiveness in terms of accomplishing goals established by the Legislature for the program.

—the results of research projects and their use in terms of potential benefit to Nebraska.

Authorized

Finigan said the $5,000 study was authorized in February by the Agresearch Committee.

The study panel has interviewed key administrative and project personnel and visited the five private research institutes participating in the Nebraska program, the USDA's Albany Laboratory and the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, he said.

Finigan said research programs should be evaluated every five years and the state committee agreed "it was time to have the Nebraska program reviewed by independent experts."

Dr. Hobson, director of the famed Stanford Research Institute from 1948 to 1957, has been research consultant to both industry and government.

Lovewell was also associated with Stanford for 16 years until he formed his own consulting firm in 1964

Dr. Thornton, a plant pathologist and biochemist, has been in the research field since 1928.

Stricter Standards For 93 Approved Schools Get 1st OK

Fremont (UPI)—The State Board of Education Tuesday gave preliminary approval to new—and stricter—regulations for Nebraska's 93 approved high schools.

The board set a public hearing for June 8 at 9 a.m. In Lincoln on the new standards for the non-accredited schools that meet only marginal requirements.

The regulations call for a general upgrading in teacher preparation, courses taught, the sequence in which the courses are offered and library standards.

The State Education Department has estimated that high schools with less than 25 students may have difficulty meeting the new rules. The schools would be given at least two years to comply with the standards.

The approved schools range in size from Max, with seven students, to Wolbach, which has 81

The board also approved an application for some $380,000 in federal funds by the proposed East High School in Lincoln. The money—to be matched 50-50 by the Lincoln School District—will be used to build the vocational education wing of the new school.

The money recently became available to the state under the new Federal Vocational Education Act of 1963

Critical

Some board members were critical of Mrs. Millie Wells, head of the School for Trainable Retarded Children at Cozad, for statements she made about the size of the state appropriation for the school.

Frank Landis of Lincoln, board president, said "there is only one captain on this ship and that's the board"

The board also:

—called for June 4 bids for the estimated $69,500 remodeling of the Nebraska School for the Deaf's vocational building at Omaha and authorized $42,000 for installation of a new boiler and other repairs.

—approved appointment of Glen Nicklaus of Curtis as consultant in vocational agriculture at $7,200 annually, replacing Roland Peterson on July 1

NU Request Approved

—approved a University of Nebraska request that the School of Agriculture at Curtis be approved as a vocational-technical school to serve the entire state

—accepted resignation of Dr Harry Hilton, who headed civil defense work and supervised private vocational schools. He will join the U.S. Office of Education at an estimated $4,000 salary increase.

Load Limitations To Lift On 600 Miles Of Highway

Axle load limitations imposed during the spring thaw on 600 miles of state highways will be lifted at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, State Engineer John Hossack announced Tuesday.

Hossack said the roads, restricted since March 3, are low-cost, dustless surfaced routes not designed to support heavy loads under adverse conditions

Restrictions were lifted earlier than normal because warm, dry weather in April and early May speeded drying of subgrade soils

However, conditions are not suitable yet to allow overweight loads and no special permits will be issued until further notice, he said.

Witch Burners Jailed

Blantyre, Malawi (AP) — A magistrate has sentenced 11 men to jail terms of three to five years for attempting to burn some villagers at Palombe, 70 miles southeast of Blantyre. Authorities said the 11 thought the death of the villagers whom they accused of witchcraft would stop a torrential rain

City's New Political Year

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The city's political year starts the second Monday following the first Tuesday in May, election day. This year, that will be Monday, May 17, the first meeting of the newly elected City Council. On that day the old council will meet to clean up whatever business is left and the new members of the City Council will be sworn into office. It will not be much of a real change at City Hall this year.

Only one member of the council will change. Councilman Ed Becker will be replaced by newcomer Carroll Thompson and Councilmen Lloyd Hinkley and John Comstock will be sworn in for a continuation of their services for another four years. Mayor Dean Petersen took a few minutes out of this week's council meeting to thank Becker for his four years of service. The thanks the mayor gave were very much in order. Not everyone always agreed with the philosophy and decisions that Mr. Becker brought to city government but no one ever questioned that he acted in what he believed to be the best interests of Lincoln.

Thanks To Becker

Some people have the idea that public service is a favor bestowed by the electorate on a candidate. It might be an expression of confidence on the part of the electorate but it is no favor. The favor is done by the candidate for office. The fact that an individual seeks public office with every hope of winning it does not make his election any utopia.

There, of course, is pleasure in serving in a public capacity but if public service depended upon what the individual could get out of it, we would have no government such as we know today. Men and women elected to public office will give much more to it than they ever receive from it, assuming that they do a conscientious job.

Mr. Becker has said he wants to "thank the people of Lincoln for four wonderful years." Now, just what exactly is it that he is thanking them for? Is it for the salary he received? Hardly. As a member of the City Council he has gotten $20 for every Monday meeting he attended. If he missed a Monday meeting, he received nothing for that week, regardless of how many other meetings he might have attended that week. Now, you might say that $20 a week is $80 a month and that isn't bad retirement income. The only trouble is that they are not retirement hours. If Mr. Becker were interested in earning $20 a week, he could easily find much easier ways of doing so than by serving on the City Council.

Is it because of the distinction that comes with public service that he is now thankful? To some extent, perhaps, as all of us should have a decent amount of vanity in us. But such distinction works both ways. Nearly every vote you cast as a member of the council is a controversial one. With such votes, you make as many enemies as you do friends. When you make one person happy, you make another angry. This is not the major reason that Mr. Becker is thankful. He is thankful because he had the opportunity to be of public service to the best of his ability and this will always be to his credit and his satisfaction.

Many people, of course, do not believe this. They believe that men and women seek office for personal glory and for the purpose of grinding some political ax. Or, they believe that they seek public office strictly as a livelihood and generally because they are incapable of success in private life.

These are some of the myths that Gov. Frank B. Morrison wanted to discuss and, hopefully, destroy in meeting with other governors on the University of Nebraska campus. When he and Gov. William H. Avery of Kansas appeared this week on campus and were greeted with a student audience of 50, he was discouraged.

He was discouraged because the poor turnout, in some respects, reflected the existence of the very myths that the governor would like to see exploded. The myth of politics as a second-class profession was evident in the fact that so few students turned out to discuss the profession with two of its highly successful and articulate members. Because of this myth, most people will not understand at all why Mr. Becker is thankful or they will attribute his feelings to some non-existent reason. How few of them will actually understand that he is grateful for having had the opportunity of serving his fellow citizens.

Example Of Myth

He knows he did not serve all of them as each of them might have wanted him to but he did serve them as he believed was best for most of them. He has earned this satisfaction and the thanks extended to him on behalf of the people of Lincoln by Mayor Petersen. As the city's new political year starts next Monday, all members of the council might reflect upon the gratitude they have earned and will continue to earn. The hard knocks that will inevitably follow may then be a little easier to accept.

"Any Guess On How Many Have Joined Up With The Communists Since We Moved In?"

MARQUIS CHILDS

Bundy Puts His Mark On U.S. Policy

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — On June 15 one of Harvard's own, one who embodies both the academic and the Brahmin tradition, will come back to deliver the annual Phi Beta Kappa lecture. For McGeorge Bundy and for Harvard this will be an event of signal importance quite apart from the academic distinction attaching to the lectureship.

Beginning with the era of the late Justice Felix Frankfurter in 1933, Harvard has been sending her faculty to work in high government office. But it is safe to say that none has held a post so critical as Bundy. Special assistant to the President on national security affairs, he serves the President in the White House 12 to 14 hours a day as adviser on foreign and military policy.

Although he might prefer to be wholly a background assistant, Bundy has increasingly become a public figure and a controversial one. Students and faculty hostile to or skeptical of the President's policy on Viet Nam consider him the hardest of the hard liners.

You can hear student murmurs of a possible picket line for his appearance on the eve of graduation or a boycott of the occasion.

On the other hand, his loyal and devoted followers speak with unstinting praise of his integrity, his capability and his remarkable self-discipline. At the age of 34, after serving as associate professor of government, he became in 1953 dean of the faculty of Arts and Sciences. In that powerful position for eight years, until President Kennedy called him to Washington, he left a deep imprint on the university.

As the academic community has become more and more dubious about the direction of Viet Nam policy Bundy is emerging as the principal exponent of that policy. His rise to power is in itself a fascinating story. He bears at least a family resemblance to the heroes of the novels of C. P. Snow, who writes of the complex interrelationship in England between the academic world and the government.

The latest Snow novel is called "Corridors of Power." It is jestingly said here that the air corridor between Boston and Washington was until recently at least the principal route of power between the groves of academe and the seat of authority. Kennedy brought into government a number of Harvard men whom he had known in his undergraduate days and later in his political campaigns.

Bundy has recently shown impatience with academic critics of Viet Nam policy. In declining an invitation to a debate from 150 faculty members of Washington University in St. Louis, he referred to distortions of fact in the letter of invitation adding:

"There are other distortions in your letter and other assumptions in its questions which are contrary to fact, but I may have written enough to suggest that if your letter came to me for grading as a professor of government, I would not be able to give it high marks."

In a correspondence with Prof. Anatol Rapoport of the University of Michigan Bundy showed considerable acerbity, concluding in his final letter that since Rapoport did not understand the situation he could not communicate with him. Rapoport and other professors at Michigan initiated the teach-in movement that has swept campuses across the country.

Bundy has consented to lead a pro-government team in a national teach-in in Washington on Saturday. With him will be Arthur Schlesinger Jr., former professor of history at Harvard whom Kennedy brought to Washington as one of his advisers. Other top-policy officials, including Averell Harriman and Walt Rostow, head of the planning council of the State Department, will participate. Leading the opposition team will be Hans Morgenthau, political scientist at the University of Chicago, and Prof. George Kahin of Cornell University. A telephone hookup will link campus groups in many states.

As a cool and self-diciplined defender of administration policy Bundy appeared recently on Meet The Press. In such appearances he seldom adds to the sum total of knowledge but his crisp, incisive academic style is impressive. His critics, both in the academic and the political world, find him overbearing.

Those who know him best say that he gives his complete loyalty to President Johnson, as he gave it to Kennedy, out of a dedicated sense of duty. They resent the suggestion — dean of the world, one analyst called him — that he is a professor enraptured with power.

Whether he will return to university life is a question that for the time being is academic. He is deeply engaged in a position and a policy demanding all of his exceptional qualities of mind and character. And that he should find this greatly rewarding is quite understandable.

Bad Advice Washed Out 30 Year Policy

WASHINGTON — Those who have worked with and watched President Johnson close-up during the Vietnamese and Dominican crises predict that his No. 1 problem will continue to be foreign affairs.

This is because, while he knows legislative problems as no other president in history, has an intimate feel for education, agriculture, poverty, taxes, economics and the entire field of domestic problems, he does not have a feel for foreign affairs. It's also because every president to some extent is a prisoner of those who feed him information, who advise him on problems he doesn't know firsthand.

In view of the fact that the Dominican crisis has set back our Pan American relations thirty years, it's important to call the roll of advisers who gave the President bum steers and what they did:

1. Ambassador Tapley Bennett in Santo Domingo flew to Washington two days before the crisis, told the State Department the political situation was deteriorating, but predicted no revolution.

2. Three days after the revolt started and one day before Johnson landed the Marines, Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, now rebel provisional president, came to see Bennett, offered to negotiate a cease-fire. The ambassador laughted in his face. This infuriated Caamano.

3. After the Marines landed, Ambassador Bennett sent them into the front lines to fight alongside and relieve the troops of Gen. Wessin Y. Wessin, who last year had helped kick out President Bosch, first duly-elected president in 32 years. The sight of U.S. Marines fighting to support Gen. Wessin Y. Wessin infuriated the pro-Bosch forces, created a lot of anti-American bitterness.

4. In Washington, Assistant Secretary of State Jack Vaughn and Ellsworth Bunker, cool-headed ambassador to the OAS, both favored full consultation with OAS ambassadors. They had little chance to make their point. The person LBJ leaned on was his old Texas friend, Tom Mann, rapidly promoted by Johnson to be No. 3 man in the State Department.

5. The President has no conception of the long, tough battle Latin Americans have waged to ban intervention by the "Colossus of the North." He has no conception of Latin-American hatred for Marines. They have become a symbol of "Yankee imperialism." Even if he had sent the U.S. Army instead of Marines, reaction would have been better.

6. The President has no realization of the fact that the standard excuse for landing Marines in Latin America has been the danger of communism.

Appreciation

Lincoln, Neb.

I wish to thank the Police Department and the Fire Department for the quick service they rendered my family recently. I had found my husband slumped over the fence. I also took sick, and we were both taken to the hospital.

They did everything they could to revive my husband but he was already gone. They were so kind to me and did all anyone could possibly have done.

So many people knock the police, but for my part, they are very efficient, polite and kind.

Rocking The Boat

Lincoln, Neb.

To man's abundance of opinions and the light or night they provide, I now add my opinion. May it provide soothing balm to the searing brain-strain of man understanding his (prodigal?) offspring.

As an interested grad student at our state's fair university, I take particular pleasure in noting the revival on campuses throughout the land of LIFE, sometimes called "radicalism" or even "existential radicalism" by older adults (See Post magazine, May 8). Many students feel honored to be called daring "radicals," and rightly so, I think. They have disturbed you, Father, Mother. They read books on Marxism, existentialism, socialism, and a wee bit of capitalism. (This last area pleases professors and helps get a degree). They are joining marches, sing-ins, sit-ins, ly-ins to the point where you feel there's a "radicalism-in" going on. You're sly, you fox, you! Of course they're radical! "Why?" you ask. Well, here's my simple, non-Freudian opinion.

First, let me give you at least three factors to keep in mind: (1) Students (includes your "little Johnny") are fed or allowed to obtain a diet of high-powered, rock-the-boat, intellectual or "sophisticated" ideas in the modern universities you support; (2) Students today live in a very affluent land of abundance, and they can be reasonably assured of a decent standard of living, come what may except war; (3) Students would like to live a meaningful life, which doesn't mean simply owning a second car or TV set. Therefore, they can thus afford to be idealistic, yet realistic, too (like you wanted to be when you were in college), and they are putting their well thought out ideas into action! For example, sit-ins to speed racial integration, demonstrations for free speech, and marches to protest our fighting in Viet Nam. They are not overthrowing the government. They are not smashing embassies. They are not following blindly and unthinkingly any movement of the moment.

Your "children" are growing up, Mom and Dad, and they're thinking and acting as they do so . . . within reason, at that. They may rock your boat and even spill water in it ("heaven forbid, my little Johnny!") but then they're alive, thinking, feeling, creative people . . . and more than just a "chip off the old block."

I salute you, my fellow students, and rest my pen (to await your parents' reply, of course!)

Election Figures

Lincoln, Neb.

This past week 64,140 city voters could have walked in to vote in this county. Unfortunately for some undeterminable reason, we had a light turnout at the polls. But this does not detract from the fact that we now have 70,840 city-county registered voters, 30,000 of whom established an all-time high vote for a city primary election on April 6.

The fact that over 70,000 registered voters in this county have a choice in going to the polls or staying home is due in large measure to the active interest and support The Star has given to this office's voter registration efforts.

We had only 65,412 registered voters in the county in September of 1963 and during this short period of a year and eight months, we have removed several thousand challenges from the file and have added a considerable number of re-registrations. I feel much credit should be given to the consistent support of the voter registration program by the Lincoln Star which has resulted in an all-time record high registration of 70,846 as of May 1.

Staff members Walt Switzer, Virgil Falloon, Don Walton, Bob Schrepf, Marvin McNeff and others have been very cordial and cooperative in promoting registration hours and reminding voters to go to the polls on election days during the past four elections. We are deeply appreciative of their efforts and interest on our behalf.

U.S. Not Going Own Way

Before critics of existing U.S. foreign policy go too far in their assertion of our extreme nationalism, they ought to examine the record. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, speaking before the American Society of International Law recently, was quoted on many of his explanations of the situation in Viet Nam.

It can be remembered, for instance, that he expressed sarcastic amazement at the "gullibility of educated men" who have taken issue with current Viet Nam policy. The text of his remarks also show that he said: "In the nineteenth century, the United States attended an average of one international conference a year. Now we attend nearly 600 a year. We are a party to 4,300 treaties and other international agreements in force. Three forths of these were signed in the last 25 years."

The secretary then went on to explain the great body of international law that has developed in use of the seas and to point to the progress being made in establishing such law to govern the use of space. The fact is that we are becoming, whether we like it ot not, much more international than national in our political activity.

That we might defend our position in such places as Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, even at the risk of some displeasure from various parts of the world, does not brand us as nationalistic. As the facts presented by Rusk show, this nation is more and more coming to a common meeting place with other people of the world.

International cooperation does not demand that a nation surrender all its sovereignty, that it not defend itself when it is clearly threatened. In meeting such threats as Viet Nam, we have called for no plague upon the rest of the world nor abandoned the pursuit of peaceful settlements of world conflicts.

Mari Sandoz Is Ill

All Nebraska was concerned to learn that its distinguished writer-citizen Mari Sandoz has an incurable ailment. But it is gratified to learn that she means to keep on writing in the hope of finishing six more books asked for by her publisher. She is a gritty woman.

Mari is a native Nebraskan, daughter of a notable pioneer whose life she pictured in the first book that brought her fame, "Old Jules." Miss Sandoz was part and parcel of the Old West, the most qualified of all present generation writers to tell its story with historical accuracy. Her books have given Nebraska its identification with the region known today as the Old West.

Her pioneer characteristic showed up when she was informed of her illness. She simply said, "I was shot twice before I was fourteen. I was blinded in one eye by a snow blizzard and I survived all of that. I might as well die of this illness than anything else. But I am going to fight it."

Miss Sandoz presently retains a writing office in Greenwich Village, New York City. The New York Times tells an interesting story of that. It is zoned as an office, not a residence. But Miss Sandoz will need a companion and must make a home in the rooms adjoining her office.

New York Building Commissioner Harold F. Birnes suspended the zoning rule to suit her needs. He did so after he received a letter from Governor Frank B. Morrison asking him to do so, remarking that New York City could seize this as "an opportunity to better its image" out in this Middlewestern region.

The Old Question

When an irrestible force meets an immovable body, which wins? This is an old question which has defied an answer for years. Now, of a sudden, there seems to be an answer.

Neither force loses. The strawberry crop is the victim.

At least this is the way it is working out in California. The government is in the role of the irresistible force. The law has expired which permitted Mexican stoop workers to come into this country to harvest the berry crop at low wages and minimum working conditions. The government has told the growers to hire unemployed Americans at better pay.

The fruit growers fear two things, unions and higher wages. They say these two things will price their products out of the market.

These inflexible, opposed attitudes are now threatening the California strawberry crop which is ripening without pickers.

A congressional committee has termed this critical situation as the one which will "determine whether the nation will settle for a palliative for the poor or whether it gets to the root causes of their poverty." Meantime, the rest of us may have to do without our fresh dish of strawberries.

In the long pull the fruit growers are going to lose no matter what Congress does. They will lose because Mexico is surging upward economically and in a few more years it will not be necessary for the Mexican poor to come into this country as migrant workers to earn whatever they can in order to hold body and soul together. And this country is not moving in the direction of down grading its own poverty stricken element.

Kennedys Emerge As Power Group

WASHINGTON—The Brothers Kennedy — Sen. Robert of New York and Sen. Edward of Massachusetts—are starting to put together a political coalition of the major beneficiaries of the Great Society.

Their chance has come early in the power vacuum left in the Senate by the refusal of Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield to lead his two-thirds majority in the formation of issues and passage of legislation. Instead, Mansfield has chosen an alliance with Republican Leader Everett Dirksen, who is the stronger and more ingenious of the two.

The Mansfield choice left a large number of liberal and moderate Democrats adrift, most of whom come from the big-city states and other regions where the main thrust of the President's program is felt. These areas today are the Democratic party's power base, as the President has shrewdly recognized.

Their leaders rebuffed the Johnson presidential aspirations in 1960, and their alliances with him are still infirm. Some of the group are themselves weak and controversial. The Great Society reaches over their heads to establish Johnson as the champion of the urban masses who so largely determine control of Congress and the presidency.

The ground-breaking Johnson aid-to-education bill is perhaps the most telling example, but more voting rights and medicare are not far behind.

Suddenly last week the President found himself standing at the voting rights barricade beside Edward Kennedy as leader of a bloc of 38 senators, not in opposition to voting rights but in a determined attempt to enlarge the measure. Win, lose or draw, and apart from the merits of the attempted change, this was remarkably good going for the freshman senator from Massachusetts.

The senator's helpers were saying that they could not follow their titular leader, Mansfield. For reason of conviction or their political imperatives at home, or a combination of both, they weren't going along.

The President chose to stick with the Mansfield-Dirksen line. But the lesson is clear. The Kennedys and their friends stand ready to lead whenever the formal leadership opens the way by inadequate recognition of urban spokesmen or consultation with them.

Similar developments are in the offing. Their timing and strength will be determined by events, and the Kennedys are well placed to watch the course of the Great Society. Both are members of the Education and Welfare committees.

Edward Kennedy put together his voting rights move from the Judiciary committee, formerly a Southern stronghold but now much liberalized.

State Pushes Federal Assistance For 16 Tornado-Whipped Counties

State efforts to have parts of 16 tornado-struck Nebraska counties declared federal disaster areas for possible financial assistance were pushed Tuesday.

The State Emergency Operations Center (EOC) released preliminary estimates putting total damage in the three "tornado alleys" at $2,773,000.

This includes homes, farms, businesses, community facilities and roads and bridges.

Will Be Higher

Lt. Col. Burl M Johnson, EOC executive officer, said actual damages will run much higher when the final assessment of the tornado devastation last Saturday is pleted.

Last year preliminary estimates from flood and tornado disasters was $3.5 million, but were later revised to nearly $30 million, he said.

Nebraska received about $600,000 in federal disaster relief funds under Public Law 875 in 1964.

Gov Frank Morrison has declared a state of emergency in the areas hit by tornadoes, mostly central and northeastern Nebraska, and has promised prompt aid in helping victims to rebuild.

Federal aid is available under two categories

—long term low-interest loans to private citizens through the Federal Housing Administration and the Small Business Administration

—financial assistance to political subdivisions and the state through the federal disaster act to help restoration of public utilities on a temporary basis and aid in the debris clean-up

The EOC listed these counties with damage from the tornadoes: Antelope, Boone, Brown, Filmore, Greeley, Holt, Hall, Howard, Hamilton, Keya Paha, Pierce, Platte, Rock, Stanton, Thayer and Thomas.

It said four persons were killed and 32 injured, five seriously.

49 Cattle Destroyed

Preliminary estimate of damage of livestock and crops was $1.5 million. Forty-nine cattle were listed as destroyed, and two horses.

Early reports on power line damage to six rural districts was $160,000.

Boone County, in which Primrose is located, suffered the most widespread damage, roughly estimated at $1 million.

Preliminary estimates for other counties are Brown, $768,000; Hall, $50,000; Howard, $20,000; Keya Paha, $8,000; Pierce, $30,000; Platte, $90,000; Rock, $288,000; Thayer, $60,000, and Thomas, $8,500;

Major Damage

Johnson pointed out the preliminary estimates include major damage and total destruction, but estimates are expected to increase as more details become available.

A more extensive survey will be made later by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and include crop and soil damages, he said.

STEEL TAKEOVER SUCCESS FORECAST

Keith Hindell, a British Labor Party ward leader, predicted here Tuesday that his part would "continue in office for several months" and that it would eventually accomplish the proposed steel nationalization.

Pointing out that British people were not particularly for or against the steel nationalization, Hindell said that Britons are "much more interested in housing and educational achievements."

Labor "got over the hump about which many had doubts when the party passed its first major test" in a trial vote last week on steel, according to Hindell.

He indicated that with this first obstacle eliminated Labor would be able to "exercise a strong government. This gave government a new lease on life."

Hard To Foresee

Other actions of the Labor Party are hard to foresee, the Englishman declared, because it is difficult to see how the House of Commons will water down the original proposals.

Hindell, a producer of daily current affairs programs for the British Broadcasting Co., was in Lincoln Tuesday to address University of Nebraska political science students. He has been in the United States for two weeks on a lecture tour for the British Information Services.

"Ten O'Clock" is a serious evening show, the BBC producer said, of "interviews with people who have made the day's news, plus commentary and analyses from independent journalists."

Offbeat

"Today," Hindell's morning show, is "only partially serious and deliberately offbeat."

Subject matter comes from character interviews and minor items of news, especially from regional centers, he said calling it "something to take with breakfast."

He is also considered an expert on unionism. He studied at the Institute of Labor Relations conducted at the University of Illinois and has published a Political and Economic Planning study of union organization in Britain.

Freeman Orders Work On Halsey

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has ordered a design drawn for the "complete restoration" of the burned area of the Nebraska National Forest at Halsey, it was reported Tuesday.

A telegram from Freeman to Gov. Frank Morrison's office said the design would come from the National Forest Service.

Freeman said the plan would include fire-break strips. He said the regional forester for the area has appointed a team of scientists to design the plan.

Meanwhile, he said, a grass seeding program is moving ahead so soil in the burned areas won't erode.

Freeman added that the Forest Service is "currently analyzing nearby nursery capacities to determine the possibility of accelerated restoration." The possibility of using rapid growing hardwoods in the vicinity of the 4-H camp is also being invetigated, he said.

Teacher Pay Increases Approved

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

Raises in salary which amounted to a four per cent increase for classroom teachers and as much as a $4,000 jump for Vice Superintendent Dr. Arzell Ball after his first year in the Lincoln system received Board of Education approval here Tuesday

With no discussion and unanimous voting, board members sanctioned pay raises for lunchroom workers, clerical personnel, operation and maintenance employes and certificated personnel teaching and administrative).

The district's recommendations presented to the board by Supt. Steven N. Watkins at a special meeting last week, estimated to add some $535,000 to the school budget, were accepted without change. In addition, board president James Stuart proposed a $1,000 raise for Dr. Watkins which was also ratified.

Watkins explained that the large pay jump for Dr. Ball was recommended primarily because the vice superintendent is "second in command," and, he should receive a corresponding salary.

The approximate four per cent increse voted for classroom teachers compares with a three per cent pay raise which they received for the 1964-65 year. The superintendent indicated that the raise would add about $300 to each teacher's paycheck, which Watkins said now averages $6,240.44.

The accepted salary schedule for administrative personnel which Watkins said last week "we are not calling merit pay" provides "differentials in salary for performance" for principals, directors and coordinators in seven groups. Each group has set minimum salary ranges.

Non-classified and non-scheduled administrators also received pay raises.

Salary recommendations presented by Watkins amounting to approximately a four per cent increase for each employe were also approved for operation and maintenance personnel and clerical employes. The superintendent noted that the increase suggested for food service personnel would come from the food operating costs.

Watkins said that the salary hike could mean a local school tax levy increase of two and a half mills. However, he said the exact increase will depend on the district's property valuation, the action of the Legislature in the tax field and the school district's 1965-66 budget.

In other action Tuesday the school board approved a request frm the Lincoln Community Council to participate in a survey of city recreational facilities and activities.

NISLEY'S TALK RESCHEDULED

State's Agresearch Studied By Panel

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska's five-year-old agresearch program is being critically evaluated by a panel of three nationally prominent scientific research directors.

State Agriculture Director Pearle F. Finigan said Tuesday that study findings are expected to be reported in three to four weeks.

Team members are Dr. Jesse E. Hobson of Southern Methodist University; Dr. Norwood C. Thornton, associate research director for United Fruit Co., and Paul J. Lovewell, head of Management and Research Association of Palto Alto, Calif.

Major Areas

Finigan said the study covers the Nebraska Agriculture Products Research Fund (Agresearch) since its inception in 1959, and will evaluate these major areas:

—work accomplished through contract research (as used by Nebraska) in comparison with such methods of establishing a research center or using a university.

—the projects undertaken to ascertain their effectiveness in terms of accomplishing goals established by the Legislature for the program.

—the results of research projects and their use in terms of potential benefit to Nebraska.

Authorized

Finigan said the $5,000 study was authorized in February by the Agresearch Committee.

The study panel has interviewed key administrative and project personnel and visited the five private research institutes participating in the Nebraska program, the USDA's Albany Laboratory and the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, he said.

Finigan said research programs should be evaluated every five years and the state committee agreed "it was time to have the Nebraska program reviewed by independent experts."

Dr. Hobson, director of the famed Stanford Research Institute from 1948 to 1957, has been research consultant to both industry and government.

Lovewell was also associated with Stanford for 16 years until he formed his own consulting firm in 1964.

Dr. Thornton, a plant pathologist and biochemist, has been in the research field since 1928.

Stricter Standards For 93 Approved Schools Get 1st OK

Fremont (UPI)—The State Board of Education Tuesday gave preliminary approval to new—and stricter—regulations for Nebraska's 93 approved high schools.

The board set a public hearing for June 8 at 9 a.m. In Lincoln on the new standards for the non-accredited schools that meet only marginal requirements.

The regulations call for a general upgrading in teacher preparation, courses taught, the sequence in which the courses are offered and library standards.

The State Education Department has estimated that high schools with less than 25 students may have difficulty meeting the new rules. The schools would be given at least two years to comply with the standards.

The approved schools range in size from Max, with seven students, to Wolbach, which has 81.

The board also approved an application for some $380,000 in federal funds by the proposed East High School in Lincoln. The money—to be matched 50-50 by the Lincoln School District—will be used to build the vocational education wing of the new school.

The money recently became available to the state under the new Federal Vocational Education Act of 1963.

Critical

Some board members were critical of Mrs. Millie Wells, head of the School for Trainable Retarded Children at Cozad, for statements she made about the size of the state appropriation for the school.

Frank Landis of Lincoln, board president, said "there is only one captain on this ship and that's the board."

The board also:

—called for June 4 bids for the estimated $69,500 remodeling of the Nebraska School for the Deaf's vocational building at Omaha and authorized $42,000 for installation of a new boiler and other repairs.

—approved appointment of Glen Nicklaus of Curtis as consultant in vocational agriculture at $7,200 annually, replacing Roland Peterson on July 1.

NU Request Approved

—approved a University of Nebraska request that the School of Agriculture at Curtis be approved as a vocational-technical school to serve the entire state.

—accepted resignation of Dr. Harry Hilton, who headed civil defense work and supervised private vocational schools. He will join the U.S. Office of Education at an estimated $4,000 salary increase.

Load Limitations To Lift On 600 Miles Of Highway

Axle load limitations imposed during the spring thaw on 600 miles of state highways will be lifted at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, State Engineer John Hossack announced Tuesday.

Hossack said the roads, restricted since March 3, are low-cost, dustless surfaced routes not designed to support heavy loads under adverse conditions.

Restrictions were lifted earlier than normal because warm, dry weather in April and early May speeded drying of subgrade soils.

However, conditions are not suitable yet to allow overweight loads and no special permits will be issued until further notice, he said.

Witch Burners Jailed

Blantyre, Malawi (AP) — A magistrate has sentenced 11 men to jail terms of three to five years for attempting to burn some villagers at Palombe, 70 miles southeast of Blantyre. Authorities said the 11 thought the death of the villagers whom they accused of witchcraft would stop a torrential rain.

4 Bills Clarifying Tax Laws Advance

Four bills amending or clarifying Nebraska's taxation statutes on real property were advanced 7-0 Tuesday by the Legislature s Revenue Committee

Action followed public hearing at which there was no opposition. All bills were introduced last week by the committee with an emergency clause attached at the request of the state tax commissioner's office.

LB896 amends LB84 enacted by the current session, to provide the state treasurer shall return 80% of withheld gasoline tax funds after a county corrects violations of tax laws or rules.

Other bills advanced, two with minor amendments, were:

LB897 providing for judicial appeal from any assessment made by the state tax commissioner of property not returned in accordance with the state tax laws

—LB898, granting the state tax commissioner authority to examine property, books, papers and records bearing on the correction of any tangible property return.

—LB899 to provide for the taxing of real property omitted from taxation and to modify penalty provisions for various categories

Also advanced 5-1 by the committee was LB849, an unfair trade practices act for the sale of cigarettes.

Educational Service Units Measure Advanced To Floor

The Legislature's Education Committee Tuesday advanced to the floor a bill dividing the state into 19 units for purposes of coordinating special educational services within geographical areas.

The measure, LB301, received 5-2 committee approval. It was introduced by Sens. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, committee chairman, and Richard Marvel of Hastings.

The committee stalled on LB482, a product of an interim study, which would establish a system of state-operated area vocational technical schools Motions to advance and to kill the measure both failed to generate the necessary votes

Services

The "educational service units" under LB301 would be able to provide services within the areas which counties and schools might be unable to handle individually. These services might include manpower training, education for the mentally retarded or establishment of junior colleges.

Each unit would be authorized to levy a tax of not more than one mill on property in the area and would be authorized to accept federal and state funds for educational service purposes.

The vote on LB482 indicated the committee still has not reached complete agreement on how it should approach the trade school issue. A motion to advance the bill failed 4-3, with five affirmative votes needed, and a kill motion registered a 4-3 tally.

Also pending in committee are bills calling for establishment of state-operated trade schools at Sidney, O'Neill, North Platte, Norfolk, Ogallala and Broken Bow, and a bill permitting two or more counties to join together to establish an area trade school.

Resolution Calls For A Research Unit At University

A resolution, No. 46, calling for the establishment of a Bureau of Institutional Research at the University of Nebraska was introduced in the Legislature Tuesday.

The resolution would instruct the University Board of Regents to establish the bureau as an arm of the chancellor's office to "promote administrative efficiency and educational planning."

Sen. Dale L. Payn of Papillion and two co-signers introduced the measure, which will be laid over one day under legislative rules.

The University "needs continuous internal re-examination" for planning and development, the resolution said.

ETV Unit Doesn't Have To Request Channel 16 Power

The Nebraska Educational Television Commission does not have any statutory obligation to request that Channel 16 in Omaha be authorized maximum power immediately, according to a Department of Justice opinion

The view was given Sen. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, chairman of the Legislature's Education Committee.

Omaha School Supt. Paul Miller has maintained that the Nebraska ETV network cannot be regarded as complete until Omaha Channel 16 goes to a full power operation.

Unicam Interim Study Of Special Education Urged

A resolution calling for a legislative interim study of the educational problems of mentally retarded, physically handicapped and exceptional children was introduced in the Legislature Tuesday

The resolution, No. 45, introduced by Sens George Gerdes, Richard Marvel, Albert Kjar, C. W. Holmquist, Henry F. Pedersen and Hal Bauer, was referred to the executive board of the Legislative Council, the research arm of the Unicameral.

The resolution calls for an interim study of the number of such children, a survey of the existing programs including costs and value and suggested changes to make the programs more worthwhile to the children and more economical to the state.

End To Grade, Prep Courses At NU, Peru Urged

A resolution proposing the elimination of elementary and high school courses at the University of Nebraska and at Peru State College was introduced into the Legislature Tuesday.

Introduced by Sen Jules Burbach of Crofton, Resolution 44 was held for a day, according to legislative rules.

Affected would be University High School and Peru Prep.

State Pushes Federal Assistance For 16 Tornado-Whipped Counties

State efforts to have parts of 16 tornado-struck Nebraska counties declared federal disaster areas for possible financial assistance were pushed Tuesday.

The State Emergency Operations Center (EOC) released preliminary estimates putting total damage in the three "tornado alleys" at $2,773,000.

This includes homes, farms, businesses, community facilities and roads and bridges.

Will Be Higher

Lt. Col. Burl M. Johnson, EOC executive officer, said actual damages will run much higher when the final assessment of the tornado devastation last Saturday is pleted.

Last year, preliminary estimates from flood and tornado disasters was $3.5 million, but were later revised to nearly $30 million, he said.

Nebraska received about $600,000 in federal disaster relief funds under Public Law 875 in 1964.

Gov. Frank Morrison has declared a state of emergency in the areas hit by tornadoes, mostly central and northeastern Nebraska, and has promised prompt aid in helping victims to rebuild.

Federal aid is available under two categories:

—long term, low-interest loans to private citizens through the Federal Housing Administration and the Small Business Administration.

—financial assistance to political subdivisions and the state through the federal disaster act to help restoration of public utilities on a temporary basis and aid in the debris clean-up.

The EOC listed these counties with damage from the tornadoes: Antelope, Boone, Brown, Filmore, Greeley, Holt, Hall, Howard, Hamilton, Keya Paha, Pierce, Platte, Rock, Stanton, Thayer and Thomas.

It said four persons were killed and 32 injured, five seriously.

49 Cattle Destroyed

Preliminary estimate of damage of livestock and crops was $1.5 million. Forty-nine cattle were listed as destroyed, and two horses.

Early reports on power line damage to six rural districts was $160,000.

Boone County, in which Primrose is located, suffered the most widespread damage, roughly estimated at $1 million.

Preliminary estimates for other counties are Brown, $768,000; Hall, $50,000; Howard, $20,000; Keya Paha, $8,000; Pierce, $30,000; Platte, $90,000; Rock, $288,000; Thayer, $60,000, and Thomas, $8,500;

Major Damage

Johnson pointed out the preliminary estimates include major damage and total destruction, but estimates are expected to increase as more details become available.

A more extensive survey will be made later by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and include crop and soil damages, he said.

STEEL TAKEOVER SUCCESS FORECAST

Keith Hindell, a British Labor Party ward leader, predicted here Tuesday that his party would "continue in office for several months," and that it would eventually accomplish the proposed steel nationalization.

Pointing out that British people were not particularly for or against the steel nationalization, Hindell said that Britons are "much more interested in housing and education achievements."

Labor "got over the hump about which many had doubts when the party passed its first major test" in a trial vote last week on steel, according to Hindell.

He indicated that with this first obstacle eliminated Labor would be able to "exercise a strong government. This gave government a new lease on life."

Hard To Foresee

Other actions of the Labor Party are hard to foresee, the Englishman declared, because it is difficult to see how the House of Commons will water down the original proposals.

Hindell, a producer of daily current affairs programs for the British Broadcasting Co., was in Lincoln Tuesday to address University of Nebraska political science students. He has been in the United States for two weeks on a lecture tour for the British Information Services.

"Ten O'Clock" is a serious evening show, the BBC producer said, of "interviews with people who have made the day's news, plus commentary and analyses from independent journalists."

Offbeat

"Today," Hindell's morning show, is "only partially serious and deliberately offbeat."

Subject matter comes from character interviews and minor items of news, especially from regional centers, he said calling it "something to take with breakfast."

He is also considered an expert on unionism. He studied at the Institute of Labor Relations conducted at the University of Illinois and has published a Political and Economic Planning study of union organization in Britain.

Freeman Orders Work On Halsey

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has ordered a design drawn for the "complete restoration" of the burned area of the Nebraska National Forest at Halsey, it was reported Tuesday.

A telegram from Freeman to Gov. Frank Morrison's office said the design would come from the National Forest Service.

Freeman said the plan would include fire-break strips. He said the regional forester for the area has appointed a team of scientists to design the plan.

Meanwhile, he said, a grass seeding program is moving ahead so soil in the burned areas won't erode.

Freeman added that the Forest Service is "currently analyzing nearby nursery capacities to determine the possibility of accelerated restoration." The possibility of using rapid growing hardwoods in the vicinity of the 4-H camp is also being invetigated, he said.

Ithaca, N.Y. (AP)—W. Averell Harriman, U.S. ambassador at large, said the rift between Communist China and the Soviet Union increased, rather than lessened, the danger to the free world of Communist subversion and aggression.

Teacher Pay Increases Approved

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

Raises in salary which amounted to a four per cent increase for classroom teachers and as much as a $4,000 jump for Vice Superintendent Dr. Arzell Ball after his first year in the Lincoln system received Board of Education approval here Tuesday.

With no discussion and unanimous voting, board members sanctioned pay raises for lunchroom workers, clerical personnel, operation and maintenance employes and certificated personnel teaching and administrative).

The district's recommendations presented to the board by Supt. Steven N. Watkins at a special meeting last week, estimated to add some $535,000 to the school budget, were accepted without change. In addition, board president James Stuart proposed a $1,000 raise for Dr. Watkins which was also ratified.

Watkins explained that the large pay jump for Dr. Ball was recommended primarily because the vice superintendent is "second in command," and, he should receive a corresponding salary.

The approximate four per cent increse voted for classroom teachers compares with a three per cent pay raise which they received for the 1964-65 year. The superintendent indicated that the raise would add about $300 to each teacher's paycheck, which Watkins said now averages $6,240.44.

The accepted salary schedule for administrative personnel which Watkins said last week "we are not calling merit pay" provides "differentials in salary for performance" for principals, directors and coordinators in seven groups. Each group has set minimum salary ranges.

Non-classified and non-scheduled administrators also received pay raises.

Salary recommendations presented by Watkins amounting to approximately a four per cent increase for each employe were also approved for operation and maintenance personnel and clerical employes. The superintendent noted that the increase suggested for food service personnel would come from the food operating costs.

Watkins said that the salary hike could mean a local school tax levy increase of two and a half mills. However, he said the exact increase will depend on the district's property valuation, the action of the Legislature in the tax field and the school district's 1965-66 budget.

In other action Tuesday the school board approved a request frm the Lincoln Community Council to participate in a survey of city recreational facilities and activities.

NISLEY'S TALK RESCHEDULED

State AFL-CIO President Richard W. Nisley will address University of Nebraska Young Republicans at the Nebraska Union Thursday night.

Nisley had been scheduled to appear before the group April 29 but was forced to cancel.

He will speak on "Trade Unionism and Republicanism."

4 Bills Clarifying Tax Laws Advance

Four bills amending or clarifying Nebraska's taxation statutes on real property were advanced 7-0 Tuesday by the Legislature's Revenue Committee.

Action followed public hearing at which there was no opposition. All bills were introduced last week by the committee with an emergency clause attached at the request of the state tax commissioner's office.

LB896 amends LB84, enacted by the current session, to provide the state treasurer shall return 80% of withheld gasoline tax funds after a county corrects violations of tax laws or rules.

Other bills advanced, two with minor amendments, were:

LB897, providing for judicial appeal from any assessment made by the state tax commissioner of property not returned in accordance with the state tax laws.

—LB898, granting the state tax commissioner authority to examine property, books, papers and records bearing on the correction of any tangible property return.

—LB899, to provide for the taxing of real property omitted from taxation and to modify penalty provisions for various categories.

Also advanced 5-1 by the committee was LB849, an unfair trade practices act for the sale of cigarettes.

Educational Service Units Measure Advanced To Floor

The Legislature's Education Committee Tuesday advanced to the floor a bill dividing the state into 19 units for purposes of coordinating special educational services within geographical areas.

The measure, LB301, received 5-2 committee approval. It was introduced by Sens. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, committee chairman, and Richard Marvel of Hastings.

The committee stalled on LB482, a product of an interim study, which would establish a system of state-operated area vocational technical schools. Motions to advance and to kill the measure both failed to generate the necessary votes.

Services

The "educational service units" under LB301 would be able to provide services within the areas which counties and schools might be unable to handle individually. These services might include manpower training, education for the mentally retarded or establishment of junior colleges.

Each unit would be authorized to levy a tax of not more than one mill on property in the area and would be authorized to accept federal and state funds for educational service purposes.

The vote on LB482 indicated the committee still has not reached complete agreement on how it should approach the trade school issue. A motion to advance the bill failed 4-3, with five affirmative votes needed, and a kill motion registered a 4-3 tally.

Also pending in committee are bills calling for establishment of state-operated trade schools at Sidney, O'Neill, North Platte, Norfolk, Ogallala and Broken Bow, and a bill permitting two or more counties to join together to establish an area trade school.

Resolution Calls For A Research Unit At University

A resolution, No. 46, calling for the establishment of a Bureau of Institutional Research at the University of Nebraska was introduced in the Legislature Tuesday.

The resolution would instruct the University Board of Regents to establish the bureau as an arm of the chancellor's office to "promote administrative efficiency and educational planning."

Sen. Dale L. Payn of Papillion and two co-signers introduced the measure, which will be laid over one day under legislative rules.

The University "needs continuous internal re-examination" for planning and development, the resolution said.

ETV Unit Doesn't Have To Request Channel 16 Power

The Nebraska Educational Television Commission does not have any statutory obligation to request that Channel 16 in Omaha be authorized maximum power immediately, according to a Department of Justice opinion.

The view was given Sen. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, chairman of the Legislature's Education Committee.

Omaha School Supt. Paul Miller has maintained that the Nebraska ETV network cannot be regarded as complete until Omaha Channel 16 goes to a full power operation.

Unicam Interim Study Of Special Education Urged

A resolution calling for a legislative interim study of the educational problems of mentally retarded, physically handicapped and exceptional children was introduced in the Legislature Tuesday.

The resolution, No. 45, introduced by Sens. George Gerdes, Richard Marvel, Albert Kjar, C. W. Holmquist, Henry F. Pedersen and Hal Bauer, was referred to the executive board of the Legislative Council, the research arm of the Unicameral.

The resolution calls for an interim study of the number of such children, a survey of the existing programs including costs and value and suggested changes to make the programs more worthwhile to the children and more economical to the state.

End To Grade, Prep Courses At NU, Peru Urged

A resolution proposing the elimination of elementary and high school courses at the University of Nebraska and at Peru State College was introduced into the Legislature Tuesday.

Introduced by Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton, Resolution 44 was held for a day, according to legislative rules.

Affected would be University High School and Peru Prep.

Bill Broadening Kerr-Mills Program OK'd, 48-1

The Legislature Tuesday enacted on a 48-1 vote a bill which will broaden eligibility and liberalize payments under Nebraska's version of the Kerr-Mills medical care for the aged program.

Only dissenter was Sen. William Wylie of Elgin.

The measure, LB367, next goes to Gov. Frank Morrison for his signature.

The bill raises the annual income ceiling on eligible recipients from $1,500 to $2,000 for one person, and from $2,100 to $2,800 for a couple.

It adds nursing home care to the program, liberalizes payments for other medical care, and eliminates relative responsibility for applicants.

Some Changes

Among the changes:

—Assistance for the "total personal and medical needs" of an individual receiving care in a licensed nursing home, chronic hospital care or convalescent hospital care.

—Liberalized hospital care, providing assistance for costs exceeding $35 in any one 12-month period, replacing current provisions for aid exceeding $65 in costs for a six-month period.

—Liberalized payment for nursing care, physicians, dentists, osteopaths, chiropractors, podiatrists, optometrists, drugs and medicines, or prosthetic appliances by extending from a six-month to a 12-month period the time in which a recipient must pay the first $35 in costs.

—Elimination of the provision which denies assistance if the applicant has a relative living in Nebraska who is financially able to pay for the applicant's medical expenses.

LB367 also clarifies administrative procedures by county division of public welfare under supervision of the Department of Public Welfare.

The Kerr-Mills program is designed to provide medical assistance for needy persons over 65. They must provide the first $35 in medical costs, except for nursing home care.

Federal funds meet 54.39% of the costs, while the state provides 45.61%.

The bill was sponsored by Sens. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln, Jules Burbach of Crofton, Ross Rasmussen of Hooper and Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

The full list of bills passed Tuesday (E-emergency clause):

LB367—Lowering eligibility requirements for Kerr-Mills medical assistance to the indigent aged. (Stromer, Burbach, R. Rasmussen, Carpenter). (E). (48-1).

LB502—Providing for the examination and licensing of plumbers within Omaha's zoning area. (Mahoney, Stromer, Skarda). (38-9).

LB302—Authorizing additional foreign area investments by domestic life insurance companies and otherwise revising related law. (Knight). (45-3).

LB311—Making it unlawful to violate an order of the Nebraska Water Pollution Control Council, and providing for prosecution and penalties. (Brauer, Nore, Claussen, Nelson). (48-0).

LB105—Creating a seven-member agricultural advisory board to advise state agriculture director on needs of the beekeeping industry, and revising importation regulations. (Lysinger, Kokes, Nore). (E). (46-3).

Brauer Plans Annual Sessions Bill

Sen. S. H. Brauer of Norfolk Tuesday said he is having steps taken to draft a bill to provide for annual unicameral sessions.

Brauer made the comment in connection with debate on the Budget Committee's first operational budget package.

The Norfolk senator said he opposed the fact that only nine members of the Legislature sit in on the budget hearings and the rest of the body doesn't have much of an idea of what goes on in the budget hearings.

He said his proposal would call for the entire Legislature to conduct budget hearings and legislate budget matters in the odd-numbered years.

The Legislature would then consider non-budgetary matters in the even-numbered years, he said.

Dairy Trade Practices Bill Legality In Doubt

An attorney general's opinion Tuesday raised questions as to the constitutionality of a pending legislative bill, LB161, establishing a fair trade practices act for the dairy industry.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff made public a Department of Justice letter in which Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer and Assistant Atty. Gen. Mel Kammerlohr said they would have "great difficulty" in defending the constitutionality of several portions of the act.

Among other things, LB161 would prohibit the selling of dairy products at less than cost, would prohibit discrimination in price between different purchasers, and ban sales to retailers on credit for a period of more than 60 days.

A spokesman for the Nebraska Dairy Industries Association told the Unicameral's Agriculture Committee at a public hearing on the bill in March that big chain operations are deliberately destroying small independent dairy operators and that unfair trade practices could jeopardize the supply of dairy products in Nebraska.

The bill was approved by the Agriculture Committee and now awaits floor debate.

The attorney general's letter said the Supreme Court has upheld the Legislature's right to pass laws designed to prevent trade restraints tending to establish monopolies or destroy lawful competition, but cannot indulge in arbitrary price fixing.

The letter questioned the constitutionality particularly of the below-cost selling provision, the 60-day credit limitation and the retroactive application of part of the act.

Pardon Board Bill Revival Attempt Fails

The Legislature Tuesday refused to revive a bill providing for a constitutional amendment for a new board of pardons.

Lincoln Sen. John Knight's motion to revive LB573, killed by the Government and Military Affairs Committee, lost 13-28.

The bill would have allowed the Legislature to set up a board of pardons, comprised of persons qualified in probation and parole work, to replace the current board comprised of the governor, secretary of state, and the attorney general.

Knight, in support of his motion, said the parole rate in Nebraska isn't as high as in many other states.

Sen. Fern Orme of Lincoln said that Warden Maurice Sigler supports the change.

Sen. Albert Kjar said that the board's responsibilities should remain with officers elected by the people.

Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly said the change would increase the expense of the system.

He also said the Government Committee thought the present system might be the best.

Fastest ASTHMA Relief

Known to Doctors... Brings relief in less than a minute!

Asthma sufferers hail mist medication that goes to work 50-100 times faster than tablets . . . faster than any oral medication you can buy . . . brings relief from attacks night or day, whenever they occur.

The fastest asthma relief known to doctors is "inhalation therapy"—the breathing in of a specially medicated mist through the mouth, directly to the lungs, where it brings relief split-seconds fast. The terror of the choking attack is stopped almost before it gets started. Relief comes in less than a minute. Prompt use often prevents a more severe attack from developing. Nothing compares with the speed of this method in reaching passages narrowed by mucous plugs, releasing trapped air, letting you breathe again — in and out — easily and effectively.

Now, this direct-to-the-lungs relief is available in its most convenient, easy-to-use form . . . AsthmaNefrin Automatic Aerosol Mist. Compact, leakproof, this patented aerosol unit is scarcely bigger than a pack of mints and can be carried in your pocket or purse, ready for use any time, anywhere—day or night . . . quickly bringing the medicated mist directly to the lungs. No more waiting, suffering. Just flip open the AsthmaNefrin Aerosol, press and breathe in. The once-dreaded paroxysm (attack) is relieved in less than a minute!

Money-Back Guarantee

AsthmaNefrin unconditionally guarantees you must get faster relief — any time, anywhere — at less cost per dose than you ever paid before—or your money will be refunded, without question, by Thayer Laboratories.

Only $3.50 about 1¢ a dose available without prescription.

Bill Broadening Kerr-Mills Program OK'd, 48-1

The Legislature Tuesday enacted on a 48-1 vote a bill which will broaden eligibility and liberalize payments under Nebraska's version of the Kerr-Mills medical care for the aged program.

Only dissenter was Sen. William Wylie of Elgin.

The measure, LB367, next goes to Gov. Frank Morrison for his signature.

The bill raises the annual income ceiling on eligible recipients from $1,500 to $2,000 for one person, and from $2,100 to $2,800 for a couple.

It adds nursing home care to the program, liberalizes payments for other medical care, and eliminates relative responsibility for applicants.

Some Changes

Among the changes:

—Assistance for the "total personal and medical needs" of an individual receiving care in a licensed nursing home, chronic hospital care or convalescent hospital care.

—Liberalized hospital care, providing assistance for costs exceeding $35 in any one 12-month period, replacing current provisions for aid exceeding $65 in costs for a six-month period.

—Liberalized payment for nursing care, physicians, dentists, osteopaths, chiropractors, podiatrists, optometrists, drugs and medicines, or prosthetic appliances by extending from a six-month to a 12-month period the time in which a recipient must pay the first $35 in costs.

—Elimination of the provision which denies assistance if the applicant has a relative living in Nebraska who is financially able to pay for the applicant's medical expenses.

LB367 also clarifies administrative procedures by county division of public welfare under supervision of the Department of Public Welfare.

The Kerr-Mills program is designed to provide medical assistance for needy persons over 65. They must provide the first $35 in medical costs, except for nursing home care.

Federal funds meet 54.39% of the costs, while the state provides 45.61%.

The bill was sponsored by Sens. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln, Jules Burbach of Crofton, Ross Rasmussen of Hooper and Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

The full list of bills passed Tuesday (E-emergency clause):

LB367—Lowering eligibility requirements for Kerr-Mills medical assistance to the indigent aged. (Stromer, Burbach, R. Rasmussen, Carpenter). (E). (48-1).

LB502—Providing for the examination and licensing of plumbers within Omaha's zoning area. (Mahoney, Stromer, Skarda). (38-9).

LB402—Authorizing additional foreign area investments by domestic life insurance companies and otherwise revising related law. (Knight). (45-3).

LB311—Making it unlawful to violate an order of the Nebraska Water Pollution Control Council, and providing for prosecution and penalties. (Brauer, Nore, Claussen, Nelson). (48-0).

LB105—Creating a seven-member agricultural advisory board to advise state agriculture director on needs of the beekeeping industry, and revising importation regulations. (Lysinger, Kokes, Nore). (E). (46-3).

Questions ranging from making the City Council a full-time paying job to strengthening the power of the mayor were debated by the City Charter Revision Committee Tuesday.

Committee Chairman Richard Hansen said he expects official committee action in the next few weeks on proposed revisions that would:

—Change from a simple 4-3 majority to 5-2 the positive council vote required to override the mayor's veto of council-passed legislation.

—Remove the present $2,000 bond required of city councilmen, or enlarge the sum to be more in line with their responsibility in fiscal matters.

—Increase compensation to council members to correspond with their expanded duties.

The possibility of granting additional salary to the council was discussed at length by the committee before Hansen appointed committee members Robert Danielson and L. K. Emry to seek out the present council's thoughts on the matter.

Committee members generally agreed that the problem of the time council members spend on city affairs contrasted to the salary they receive is a significant issue to present to the voters.

Paid $3,000 In Omaha

Lincoln councilmen now receive $20 per weekly meeting. By comparison, Omaha's council members are paid $3,000 annually.

Hansen said that the charter revision group would make a detailed study of the question including a review of charters of other cities, before deciding on any proposal to submit to the electorate.

Also discussed by the committee during a review of the council was the authority of the council to hire legal counsel on its own, a power which charters of some other cities have granted to the council in specific instances.

At present, the city legal department advises and represents both the mayor and council.

More Power

Also in line for considerable review is the proposal to increase the number of votes needed to over-ride a mayor's veto, a revision that would strengthen the power of the mayor.

Attending Tuesday evening's meeting of the 18-member committee, in addition to Hansen, were: Richard Harnsberger, Mrs. Dale Fahrnbruch L. K. Emry, Theodore Sick, William Casini, Robert Danielson, Frank Williams, Mrs. James Weber and Charles Knight.

'MISER' INVADES LOCAL BANK

Gerdes Plan Amendment To Construction Program

Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance said Tuesday he will propose an amendment to the proposed state capital construction program to allow state agencies limited flexibility in expending appropriations.

The bill, LB890, proposing a six-year, $68.5 million program financed by a 3.2 mill special property tax levy, is currently resting on select file on the floor of the Legislature.

Gerdes said he will propose that the bill recommend a total dollar figure for each state agency and construction projects to be undertaken, but not earmark specific dollar figures to each project.

In its present form, LB890 earmarks funds for specific projects and permits no flexibility.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff has prepared an amendment which would allocate a percentage of the total construction funds to each state agency, thus allowing them to expend their appropriations in a flexible manner.

Included in the bill is $23.0 million in building funds for the 1965-67 biennum. $15.9 million of which is allocated to the University of Nebraska.

Shippers 'Reluctant To Give Up Authority'

Middlewest Shippers and Motor Carriers defeated a resolution here Tuesday which would have requested the Interstate Commerce Commission to delete from regular route certificates points which are not being served as assigned.

"Carriers are reluctant to give up their authority even though they are not using it," John DuPont, manager of the transportation department of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, explained.

On the first day of their two-day meeting here, some 100 industrial traffic managers and motor carrier executives from the 15-state conference also voted to support a U.S. House Resolution providing a uniform period for Daylight Saving Time and approved support for a bill "amending and straightening out" the Interstate Commerce Act.

Informational sessions for discussions on freight claim loss and damage and classifications, rate and tariff were also held Tuesday for the benefit of conference participants, according to DuPont.

Following meetings Wednesday in which shippers and carriers will separate to discuss particular problems, Joseph A. Illes, will address the conference. Illes is director of transportation for Outboard Marine Corp. in Waukegan, Ill.

Illes will be speaking about industrial transportation management.

Havelock Unit Of Methodists Okays Budget

The Havelock Methodist Church approved a budget of $32,800 at its fourth quarterly conference Tuesday night.

A tentative date was set for a congregational vote to set the date when work on a church addition will begin.

Michael McMurtry was admitted on trial to the annual conference; Donald Yost was recommended for a local preachers license; and Bary Ballard was recommended for a continuation of his local preachers license.

Officers elected are: R. J. Edwards, lay leader; Elmer Owen, chairman of the board; and Melvin King (re-elected), chairman of the building Committee.

Commisison chairmen are: Walter Dale, Membership and Evangelism; Irvin Deeds, Education; Mrs. Ellis Jeffery, Missions, Martin Burgess, Finance; L. K. Emry, Christian Social Relations; and Mrs. Ruth Stough, Worship.

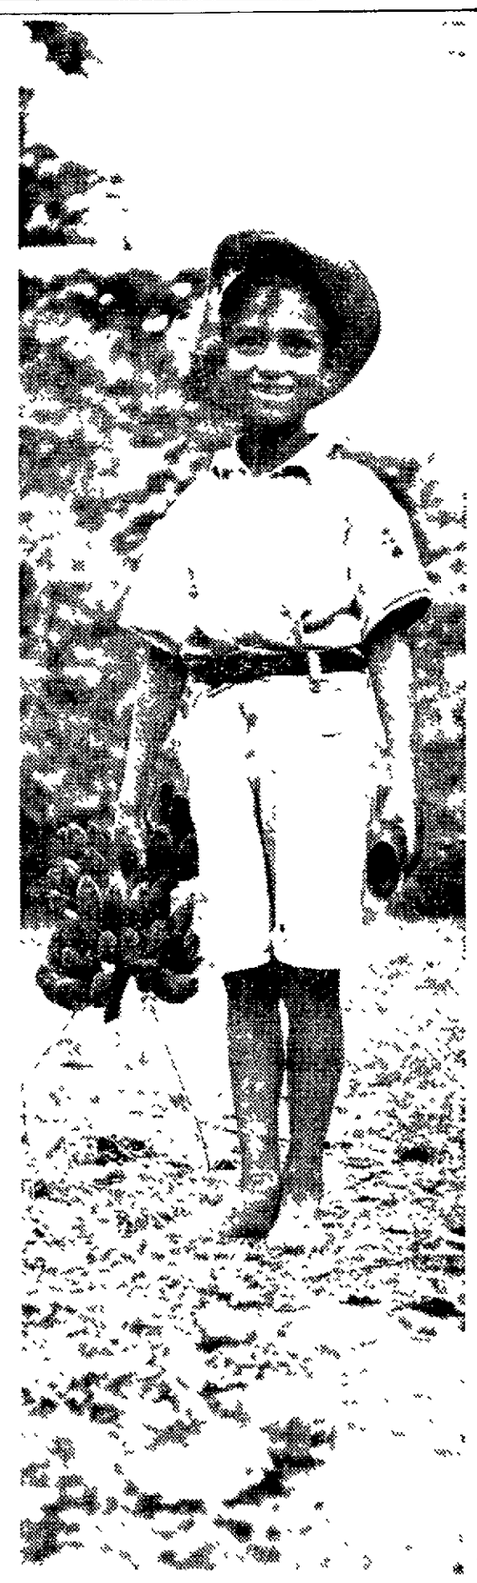
Will he know enough to stay free?



To stay free a country requires informed citizens. In today's world newspapers are the great information multipliers. They are the foundation of responsible citizenship on which every free nation depends.

LUIS is ten years old, bright but only half-literate. Luis lives in a developing country. It is a country emerging from poverty, ignorance, political instability and disorder, struggling to enter the 20th century world of high living standards, modern technology and free democratic institutions.

In a few years Luis will be an adult. Upon him the future of his country will rest. Luis will depend, as men do in all free countries, on a newspaper to teach him, keep him informed. Luis' country needs newspapers. Newspapers can stir Luis, awaken him to the needs and opportunities which face him and his country. Only to the extend that Luis can emerge from his semi literacy can he participate in the building of a free and modern nation. One hundred and fifty years ago, when America was an "emerging nation," Thomas Jefferson put it this way: "If a nation expects to be ignorant and free, in a state of civilization, it expects what never was and never will be."

In this struggle to enter "a state of civilization," repeated today in nations of Asia, Africa and Latin America, American citizens have a stake. For ignorance anywhere, as we see every day, threatens freedom everywhere. This year the American Newspaper Publishers Association Foundation, an organization founded to encourage freedom of speech and press around the world, has inaugurated the World Press Achievement Award. Its purpose: to recognize and honor those newspapers in the developing nations of the world which are contributing to the building of informed citizens. These newspapers need encouragement.

Often they operate with obsolete printing equipment. Their personnel are ill-trained. They must frequently combat government hostility. Their readers, often wretchedly poor, lack the education to read or understand. Frequently, it is a struggle for these newspapers to exist at all. Yet the newspaper is indispensable in these countries, as it is in free nations everywhere, because nothing substitutes for the newspaper's capacity to educate, to arouse, to challenge, to inform. A newspaper sets forth the face of its age. It interprets the manifold possibilities which lie before Luis, his nation, or any nation. A free and independent newspaper offers people the freedom to think and to know and thus the capacity to do. The world to stay free needs such newspapers.

The 1965 World Press Achievement Award was given last month to the Yeni Adana of Adana, Turkey.

The Yeni Adana had its birth as an instrument of resistance against French occupation forces in the Adana area. Since its founding in 1918 it has survived periods of revolutionary political change and has participated actively in an era of fruitful social change.

It is a small provincial newspaper of six pages and 2,500 daily circulation, but it has spoken with a strong independent voice. In its early days its founder had to flee for his life to a mountain village where he continued to publish with rudimentary equipment and clandestine distribution methods. Various governmental economic and legal sanctions have been taken against it. In 1960 the government closed it.

Despite these conditions and a community 75 per cent illiterate the Yeni Adana has pursued a bold independent editorial viewpoint. It has not hesitated to expose wrongdoing by government officials in its local communities. It has sought to acquaint its urban readers with conditions in the poor and remote villages surrounding them as well as reporting local national and foreign news.

The Yeni Adana has been a significant factor in the development and education of its community and an inspiration in the struggle for free expression and a fuller life.

The 1965 World Press Achievement Award was given last month to the Yeni Adana of Adana, Turkey.

The Yeni Adana had its birth as an instrument of resistance against French occupation forces in the Adana area. Since its founding in 1918, it has survived periods of revolutionary political change and has participated actively in an era of fruitful social change.

It is a small provincial newspaper of six pages and 2,500 daily circulation, but it has spoken with a strong, independent voice. In its early days its founder had to flee for his life to a mountain village where he continued to publish with rudimentary equipment and clandestine distribution methods. Various governmental, economic and legal sanctions have been taken against it. In 1960 the government closed it.

Despite these conditions and a community 75 per cent illiterate, the Yeni Adana has pursued a bold, independent editorial viewpoint. It has not hesitated to expose wrongdoing by government officials in its local communities. It has sought to acquaint its urban readers with conditions in the poor and remote villages surrounding them, as well as reporting local, national and foreign news.

The Yeni Adana has been a significant factor in the development and education of its community and an inspiration in the struggle for free expression and a fuller life.

Stamps Will Benefit 1,500 Families

. . . PROGRAM BEGINS JUNE 1

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

The Food Stamp Program to become effective in Lancaster County June 1 is expected to benefit an estimated 1,500 families in the county.

According to Ray W. Smeltzer of the U.S. Department of Agriculture Consumer and Marketing Service, who is in Lincoln to set up an office, Lancaster County's program is one of 106 such programs in 25 states in the country.

Designed to provide more food and a better balanced diet to needy families and to enlarge the domestic market for abundant supplies of farm products, the program now is benefiting some 440,000 persons in the U.S.

Permanent Program

Smeltzer said the program, set up under the Food Stamp Act of 1964, is a permanent one and gradually will expand in areas where it has been requested.

Persons receiving public assistance and direct relief, and low income families are eligible to buy the food coupons and in return are given a certain number of free coupons in proportion to family income and size.

According to Smeltzer, the number of coupons paid for by the federal government under the program averages 34% of the number sold.

He said the percentages range from 23% to 70% depending upon income and family size.

The amount of money recipients pay for food coupons and the amount of bonus or free coupons paid for by the federal government depends upon factors such as income of the family and its size, and previous experience as to need for various size families.

Maximums

For low-income families the following maximum monthly net incomes have been set for Lancaster County as limitations for qualification under the program:

No. in family	Maximum income
1	$ 85
2	142
3	188
6	294

An additional $25 income is allowed for each additional member of a family of more than six.

Sample Households

Shown below are figures for sample households of various size and income showing the coupons the recipients are required to purchase, and the amount of bonus coupons they will receive.

Mass Coverage

Bonn, Germany (AP) — The West German government says it expects about 1,200 newsmen and photographers to cover the arrival of Britain's Queen Elizabeth II May 18. More than 500 newsmen have asked for official accreditation to cover the 10-day visit.

Election Office Lacks Funds,

Lancaster County commissioners Tuesday deferred action on a request by Lancaster County Election Commissioner B. J. Holcomb for an additional $8,099.87 for her office until July 1.

Miss Holcomb, appearing before the board, explained that the shortage arose from the unexpected expense of a special election for the new city-county building.

She said that the county's share of the cost would be about $7,000 and the city's approximately the same.

However, the election commissioner noted that the city's share would not help the financial problem of her office since it would be paid to the county general fund.

According to Carl Hartman, county clerk, there are not sufficient funds left in the election office budget to meet May salaries.

Commissioners questioned whether they could award the election commissioner's office additional funds.

Miss Holcomb listed the following deficits:

Election ballots, $3,436.65; extra help, $2,876.54; polling place costs, $665; salaries other than regular, $586.60; supplies, $417.62; publication costs, $430.51, and miscellaneous, $78.65.

Morrison Signs Job Corps Contract

Washington (UPI) — Nebraska Gov. Frank B. Morrison Tuesday signed a contract with anti-poverty director Sargent Shriver for a Job Training Corps at Omaha, and sought another.

The Omaha project, to train 300-350 young women in office work, will be administered by the Burroughs Corp. At an estimated cost of $4.2 million, Morrison said. He said it is the first such training center for women in the Midwest.

The governor also hoped to persuade the Agriculture Department to assign another job corps to Halsey National Forest in central Nebraska Fire which swept the forest last week burned over about 22,000 acres, destroying 75% of the trees, he said.

Morrison said a job corps is needed to clear the rubble from the land and plant 1.5 million trees, work which he estimated will cost $800,000.

The cost of the women's job corps project, under the two-year contract signed with Burroughs, was set at $4,247,000. The contract may be renewed, it was said.

The cost includes salaries for teachers, administrators, and guidance counselors, operation costs of the job center and room and board for the girls who will be housed at the Regis Hotel.

Living Allowance

Their clothing, medical and dental costs also will be covered, as well as allowances. The girls will be given living allowance of $30 a month, plus a terminal allowance of $50 for each month of training. The girls can, if they wish, allocate up to $25 a month of the terminal allowance to be sent their families, and the government will match this allocation.

State Ag Dept. Can Stop, Check Livestock Trucks

The State Justice Department held Tuesday that State Agriculture Department inspectors have the authority to stop livestock trucks entering Nebraska to check for the required health certificates.

However, should truck drivers refuse to stop voluntarily, the department said it finds no authority for inspectors to use force.

"In such cases it would be necessary to take other legal steps," the department said.

The opinion was in response to a question from State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan.

Nebraska's Beef On Menu For Governor At NY Event

Gov. Frank Morrison said Tuesday he will travel to Rome N.Y., May 19 to enjoy a dinner of Nebraska beef.

The governor said he has accepted an invitation to attend the spring dinner of the Fraternus Gladius, an organization of leaders of business, industry and government and entertainment. They are mostly from New York but with representation in all states.

"Its members gather twice a year for the noble purpose of good fellowship and enjoyment of a dinner at which Nebraska beef is always featured," he continued.

The governor said one reason for his visit will be to "acknowledge to the Fraternus Gladius its excellent taste in beef." He said he also plans to discuss Nebraska's tourist attractions and industrial potential with businessmen and industrialists More than 1,000 are expected

The gatherings are always centered at the Roman Forum of The Beeches, a Rome resort. Gov. Morrison said he became a member of the Fraternus Gladius a year ago, but has not attended a gathering of the group before.

Since World War II, 33 countries have won their independence in Africa.

Stamps Will Benefit 1,500 Families

. . . PROGRAM BEGINS JUNE 1

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

The Food Stamp Program to become effective in Lancaster County June 1 is expected to benefit an estimated 1,500 families in the county.

According to Ray W. Smeltzer of the U.S. Department of Agriculture Consumer and Marketing Service, who is in Lincoln to set up an office, Lancaster County's program is one of 106 such programs in 25 states in the country.

Designed to provide more food and a better balanced diet to needy families and to enlarge the domestic market for abundant supplies of farm products, the program now is benefiting some 440,000 persons in the U.S.

Permanent Program

Smeltzer said the program, set up under the Food Stamp Act of 1964, is a permanent one and gradually will expand in areas where it has been requested.

Persons receiving public assistance and direct relief, and low income families are eligible to buy the food coupons and in return are given a certain number of free coupons in proportion to family income and size.

According to Smeltzer, the number of coupons paid for by the federal government under the program averages 34% of the number sold.

He said the percentages range from 23% to 70% depending upon income and family size.

The amount of money recipients pay for food coupons and the amount of bonus or free coupons paid for by the federal government depends upon factors such as income of the family and its size, and previous experience as to need for various size families.

Maximums

For low-income families the following maximum monthly net incomes have been set for Lancaster County as limitations for qualification under the program:

No. in family	Maximum income
1	$ 85
2	142
3	188

Mass Coverage

Bonn, Germany (AP) — The West German government says it expects about 1,200 newsmen and photographers to cover the arrival of Britain's Queen Elizabeth II May 18. More than 500 newsmen have asked for official accreditation to cover the 10-day visit.

Election Office Lacks Funds,

Lancaster County commissioners Tuesday deferred action on a request by Lancaster County Election Commissioner B. J. Holcomb for an additional $8,099.87 for her office until July 1.

Miss Holcomb, appearing before the board, explained that the shortage arose from the unexpected expense of a special election for the new city-county building.

She said that the county's share of the cost would be about $7,000 and the city's approximately the same.

However, the election commissioner noted that the city's share would not help the financial problem of her office since it would be paid to the county general fund.

According to Carl Hartman, county clerk, there are not sufficient funds left in the election office budget to meet May salaries.

Commissioners questioned whether they could award the election commissioner's office additional funds.

Miss Holcomb listed the following deficits:

Election ballots, $3,436.63; extra help, $2,?76.54; polling place costs, $665; salaries other than regular, $586.60; supplies, $417.62; publication costs, $430.51, and miscellaneous, $78.65.

This year's your last chance to see the New York World's Fair ...fly there on United!

This year, the New York World's Fair is better than ever . . . take the family there on a United vacation! Not only are last year's most popular exhibits back, but many new surprises have been added to just about all of them (for example, the "talking Lincoln" now walks!) After the Fair, rent a car and roam history-laden New England.

United makes it easy to go with the only one-airline service to New York. Choose United from Lincoln at 7:20 a.m., connect with a United jet in Omaha and arrive at 2:30 p.m. For reservations, see your Travel Agent or call United at 435-4371.

THERE'S never a dull day in suburbia

They say "Little bits of water, little grains of sand, made the mighty ocean and the pleasant land." Perhaps this is the way it happened or this is the meaning sand and water have to some philosophers, but to the residents of Cotner Terrace water and sand bring up ideas of land to cover for travelers and even gardening ideas.

For instance, Mrs. Donald McKinney needs a little of each to make her garden grow and produce vegetables of all kinds. For further connotations you'll have to read on into the morning news.

COTNER TERRACE

To Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weyers, water reminds them of Honolulu, Hawaii and Mrs. Weyer's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Janda. It just so happens that Mr. and Mrs. Janda arrived in Lincoln April 28 for a three-week stay as guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weyers. Besides their visit with Mr. and Mrs. Weyers, the couple also spends much of their time with Mr. Janda's mother, Mrs. Emma Janda. The vacationing pair will not return to their home in Hawaii until May 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cradock and their two children Gary Jr. and Tracy, have covered a lot of ground lately as they have been motoring through parts of Colorado, Missouri and Nebraska.

The foursome stopped in Lincoln Saturday for an overnight stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lamphere. The Cradock family was on their way home to Colorado Springs, Colo. Saturday, after visiting in Ozark, Mo. with Mrs. Cradock's mother, Mrs. Oral Payne. The Lincoln stop-off was on the way home and a visit with friends is always hard to resist. Mr. and Mrs. Lamphere's daughter, Mrs. Norman Duff, also was on hand to greet the traveling family.

The Mother's Day dinner which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwaine Karr last Sunday caused three individuals to set their wheels in motion.

The three dinner guests were Mrs. Karrs parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mull who motored to Lincoln from Beaver Crossing, and Mr. Karr's mother, Mrs. Mae Karr of Seward. Perhaps there were three travelers, but we suspect that as far as the family was concerned it was just a matter of honoring lovely mothers.

And speaking of honorees, there are three Scouts who were singled out a week ago Saturday at the Bethany Christian Church. The leaders and members of Troop 23 dined before the announcements of awards were made. Receiving the "God and Country Award" were three area boys, Greg Hiatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hiatt; Arthur Sexton III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sexton II; and Danny Damewood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Damewood.

We highly suspect that Miss Sandra Smith will be a single honoree for the next couple of months but come July 11 she will have to begin sharing most everything.

If you haven't guessed by now, let us then inform you that Miss Smith will become the bride of Larry Johnston on the 11th of June. Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith and Mr. Johnston is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Johnston of Lincoln.

A shower already has been given for the bride-elect and several are still in the making.

Last Sunday, the bride-to-be's cousin, Mrs. Ruth Anthes, and her aunt, Mrs. Erma Yeagley, were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Anthes when they entertained at a miscellaneous shower. The party was attended by 28 guests.

The future has much in store for Miss Smith but May 21 will mean another shower at which Mrs. Fae Ham, the bride-elect's aunt, will be the hostess. Twenty guests will present the honoree gifts along the personal lines.

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

More travelers to mention, but this time we must go to the Northeast Heights area to get the story.

Coming to Lincoln Saturday, from Littleton, Colo. were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Zitek and their three children Mick, Lori and Ron. The family came to the city for a visit with Mrs. Zitek's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Willemsen.

On Sunday, the five Ziteks motored to David City with Mr. and Mrs. Willemsen, and their children Larry and Nancy. A gathering of the family was the big event in David City and the activity for the day took place at the home of Mrs. Zitek's and Mrs. Willemsen s father, Joseph Klein. According to figures Mrs. Willemsen tabulated, 18 grandchildren were present. Indeed, it must have been a busy, but fun day for all. For Mr. and Mrs. Willemsen the busy weekend did not fold till Monday morning when they regretfully saw Mr. and Mrs. Zitek and their family off to their home in Colorado.

OPEN ladies golf season

Responsible for the varied activities of the women golfers at the Lincoln Country Club this season are three of the four club members pictured, (from the left) Mrs. E. Stewart Maness, Mrs. Paul Hyland, Mrs. Walter I. Black and Mrs. W. E. Swanson.

Mrs. Black will serve as ladies golf chairman, assisted by Mrs. Maness, Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Eugene A. Deeter. Mrs. Hyland is the club women's golf champion.

The foursome was pictured Tuesday at the buffet luncheon which followed the opening morning of golf for the current season.

TALK of the town

Well—it's that time again—The Ancient Order of Annual Mariners, all four of them, are about to secure the main sail for a weekend of fun and relaxation.

The members of this notable organization include Clark W. Faulkner, Harold Osborn, David Walcott and Mark Seacrest, and the adventurers leave on Thursday for Yankton, S.D. and Lewis and Clark lake where their vessel is ready for boarding.

* * *

Four go—and four come home. Arriving home on Tuesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henrion who have been spending the past several days in New York City.

* * *

And expected home on Sunday are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Agee who have been reveling in all of the delightful places in Spain, Portugal and various other spots in the Mediterranean area.

* * *

In town during the past weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cook of St Louis, Mo., who were the guestts of Mr. Cook's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Cook. The visitors arrived on Friday—Mrs. Cook from Omaha where she had been visiting her family—and returned to St. Louis on Sunday.

LWC entertains at tea

The Lincoln Woman's Club entertained at its annual membership tea Monday afternoon at the club house with state and district officers as special guests.

Greeting the guests, who included Mrs. Dean H. Petersen (second from right), the wife of Lincoln's mayor, were (from the left) Mrs. Kenneth L. McDonnell of Greenwood, secretary of District I of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Don Kolterman of Seward, state treasurer; and Mrs. George Mechling (at right), club president.

Co-chairmen for the tea were Mrs. Earl T. Luff and Mrs. Carl Mutchmore, and presiding at the tea table were club past presidents, Mrs. G. E. Abbott, Mrs. Glenn Mooberry, Mrs. Harley McCoid, Mrs. Ray C. Johnson and Mrs. Harry W. Hust.

YW Guest

Coming to Lincoln on Thursday to meet with members of the YWCA board and staff will be Miss Roberta Chapman, community division field staff member of the national YWCA.

Miss Chapman, who joined the national staff in January as a field consultant for the central region, will be in Lincoln two days conferring on activities in health education, community cooperation, public affairs and international program, as well as teen-age and young adult activities.

She is a former executive director of the Portland, Ore., YWCA.

Outdoor Beauty

That lovely fair complexion of yours was never meant to stand up to the harsh summer weather. Be kind to it, see that it is well protected when you're golfing, lazing on the beach, or anywhere in the great outdoors. Wear a wide, shady hat and sunglasses—this will keep you from squinting your eyes. Before you venture out smooth on your oil of Olay before making-up, and don't forget your neck. Your skin will maintain a milky look despite the drying effect of the summer.

Morrison Signs Job Corps Contract

Washington (UPI) — Nebraska Gov. Frank B. Morrison Tuesday signed a contract with anti-poverty director Sargent Shriver for a Job Training Corps at Omaha, and sought another.

The Omaha project, to train 300-350 young women in office work, will be administered by the Burroughs Corp. At an estimated cost of $4.2 million, Morrison said. He said it is the first such training center for women in the Midwest.

The governor also hoped to persuade the Agriculture Department to assign another job corps to Halsey National Forest in central Nebraska. Fire which swept the forest last week burned over about 22,000 acres, destroying 75% of the trees, he said.

Morrison said a job corps is needed to clear the rubble from the land and plant 1.5 million trees, work which he estimated will cost $800,000.

The cost of the women's job corps project, under the two-year contract signed with Burroughs, was set at $4,247,000. The contract may be renewed, it was said.

The cost includes salaries for teachers, administrators, and guidance counselors, operation costs of the job center and room and board for the girls who will be housed at the Regis Hotel.

Living Allowance

Their clothing, medical and dental costs also will be covered, as well as allowances. The girls will be given living allowance of $30 a month, plus a terminal allowance of $50 for each month of training. The girls can, if they wish, allocate up to $25 a month of the terminal allowance to be sent their families, and the government will match this allocation.

State Ag Dept. Can Stop, Check Livestock Trucks

The State Justice Department held Tuesday that State Agriculture Department inspectors have the authority to stop livestock trucks entering Nebraska to check for the required health certificates.

However, should truck drivers refuse to stop voluntarily, the department said it finds no authority for inspectors to use force.

"In such cases it would be necessary to take other legal steps," the department said.

The opinion was in response to a question from State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan.

Nebraska's Beef On Menu For Governor At NY Event

Gov. Frank Morrison said Tuesday he will travel to Rome, N.Y., May 19 to enjoy a dinner of Nebraska beef.

The governor said he has accepted an invitation to attend the spring dinner of the Fraternus Gladius, an organization of leaders of business, industry and government and entertainment. They are mostly from New York but with representation in all states.

"Its members gather twice a year for the noble purpose of good fellowship and enjoyment of a dinner at which Nebraska beef is always featured," he continued.

The governor said one reason for his visit will be to "acknowledge to the Fraternus Gladius its excellent taste in beef." He said he also plans to discuss Nebraska's tourist attractions and industrial potential with businessmen and industrialists. More than 1,000 are expected.

The gatherings are always centered at the Roman Forum of The Beeches, a Rome resort. Gov. Morrison said he became a member of the Fraternus Gladius a year ago, but has not attended a gathering of the group before.

Since World War II, 33 countries have won their independence in Africa.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Don Rohlf of Boulder, Colo., have announced the arrival of a son, David Christopher, on Friday, April 23. The baby's mother is the former Helen Louise Kreuch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kreuch of Lincoln—and a member of Towne Club on the Nebraska campus. Another interested member of the family is the small David's brother, Danny, who is three and a half years old.

★

Mrs. Eva Hutchings of San Francisco has arrived in Lincoln to spend some time as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Leola Reynolds, and also to visit her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Hill.

What They're Reading

It has been said that the great books constitute a transcript of a great conversation across the ages, and we share the thoughts, emotions and observations of the writers as if we were sitting with them around the fire.

Here are friends whose society is delightful. They are persons of all countries and of all ages, distinguished in war, government and letters, easy to live with, never out of humor, answering all questions with readiness.

We can invite to sit with us the ablest and sprightliest of all times, the most learned philosophers, the wisest counselors. All we need to do is give them a chance to tell us what they have of value to say, and then meet their ideas with ideas of our own.

Several literary figures gained Pulitzer Prizes for the way they put their ideas into print. Besides the best-seller list, this week, we would also like to mention those books which won the gold medal awards.

Shirley Ann Grau was awarded a Pulitzer Prize for fiction for her novel, "The Keepers of the House." The non-fiction award went to Howard Mumford Jones and his novel, "O Strange New World." Going on to the drama award we find Frank D. Gilroy the recipient and his book was "The Subject was Rose." Leonard Samuels produced a three-volume work called "Henry Adams" and captured the biography award while John Berryman's "77 Dream Songs" hailed the Pulitzer poetry award.

But, back to the best-seller list and 20 prize winners in their own right.

The bidding:

Opening lead — queen of clubs.

There is more to play of most hands than meets the eye. For example, take this hand where West led the queen of clubs, which held, continued with the jack, which also held. (East having played the 7-5), and then led a third club, which South ruffed.

West's last play was wrong because he should have known that East had precisely the A-10 left and that declarer would ruff the third round of clubs. South could not have the 10-x-x of clubs or he would have covered the jack with the king. West should therefore have shifted to a spade at trick three.

After ruffing the club, declarer cashed the ace of hearts but then realized that it might be fatal to continue with the king if the hearts were not divided 2-2.

He therefore played the ten of hearts next, planning to win the expected spade return with the ace, cash the A-K of diamonds, ruff a diamond, and then cross to the jack of hearts in order to discard two spades on the Q-6 of diamonds.

This scheme would have worked all right, but, unfortunately, when East took the ten of hearts with the queen, he returned a heart to the jack. As a result of this play, South eventually had to lose a spade trick and go down one.

Of course, South could always have made the contract by taking a heart finesse, but there was no particular reason for assuming that East had three to the queen.

What declarer should have done was lead the ten of hearts at trick four instead of trick five. This play would have made the contract. East would win with the queen but would be unable to make a damaging return.

Thus, if he returned a trump, South would win it in his hand, cash two diamonds and ruff a diamond, and then enter dummy with a trump to dispose of his spade losers.

ABBY

he's your weakness

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been a woman-chaser all the 44 years I have been married to him. We are now both in our early 70's. I never divorced him because we had four lovely children and, besides, I can honestly say he never mistreated me. He always provided well for the children and me, and our only arguments were over his weakness for women. When he was 69 years old he got a young girl in trouble. There was a lot of expense connected with that but no publicity, thank heavens. My lawyer says I could get a divorce and a very substantial settlement, but do you think it's advisable to break up after all these years? We have nine grandchildren who think "Gumpa" is tops.

"GUMPA'S" MATE

DEAR MATE: "Gumpa appears to be YOUR weakness. My guess is you'd be lost without him, so stick with him. If Father Time doesn't take care of his "weakness"—Mother Nature will.

DEAR ABBY: As a man who has to contend with the telephone in his office, I anticipate retreating to my nice quiet home at the end of the day. But, alas, this seems to be the prime time for the ladies to call each other to arrange their bridge parties, church socials, car pools, etc. What do these women do all day that they can't get these things arranged beforehand?

SICK OF PHONES

DEAR SICK: They're attending bridge parties, church socials and they're driving the kids around.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 24-year-old divorcee and I've never had any trouble getting dates. My problem is that every man I date thinks that just because I've been married anything goes. It is very discouraging to have to fight off men all the time. The first thing they suggest is going up to their apartments, or to a motel or something like that. I love to dance and I enjoy good clean fun. What happened to all the decent men?

SUZANNE

DEAR SUZANNE: They're still around. You seem to be attracting the wrong kind. Change bait.

THERE'S never a dull day in suburbia

They say "Little bits of water, little grains of sand, made the mighty ocean and the pleasant land." Perhaps this is the way it happened or this is the meaning sand and water have to some philosophers, but to the residents of Cotner Terrace water and sand bring up ideas of land to cover for travelers and even gardening ideas.

For instance, Mrs. Donald McKinney needs a little of each to make her garden grow and produce vegetables of all kinds. For further connotations you'll have to read on into the morning news.

COTNER TERRACE

To Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weyers, water reminds them of Honolulu, Hawaii and Mrs. Weyer's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Janda. It just so happens that Mr. and Mrs. Janda arrived in Lincoln April 28 for a three-week stay as guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weyers. Besides their visit with Mr. and Mrs. Weyers, the couple also spends much of their time with Mr. Janda's mother, Mrs. Emma Janda. The vacationing pair will not return to their home in Hawaii until May 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cradock and their two children Gary Jr. and Tracy, have covered a lot of ground lately as they have been motoring through parts of Colorado, Missouri and Nebraska.

The foursome stopped in Lincoln Saturday for an overnight stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lamphere. The Cradock family was on their way home to Colorado Springs, Colo. Saturday, after visiting in Ozark, Mo. with Mrs. Cradock's mother, Mrs. Oral Payne. The Lincoln stop-off was on the way home and a visit with friends is always hard to resist. Mr. and Mrs. Lamphere's daughter, Mrs. Norman Duff, also was on hand to greet the traveling family.

The Mother's Day dinner which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwaine Karr last Sunday caused three individuals to set their wheels in motion.

The three dinner guests were Mrs. Karrs parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mull who motored to Lincoln from Beaver Crossing, and Mr. Karr's mother, Mrs. Mae Karr of Seward. Perhaps there were three travelers, but we suspect that as far as the family was concerned it was just a matter of honoring lovely mothers.

And speaking of honorees, there are three Scouts who were singled out a week ago Saturday at the Bethany Christian Church. The leaders and members of Troop 23 dined before the announcements of awards were made. Receiving the "God and Country Award" were three area boys, Greg Hiatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hiatt; Arthur Sexton III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sexton II; and Danny Damewood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Damewood.

We highly suspect that Miss Sandra Smith will be a single honoree for the next couple of months but come July 11 she will have to begin sharing most everything.

If you haven't guessed by now, let us then inform you that Miss Smith will become the bride of Larry Johnston on the 11th of June. Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith and Mr. Johnston is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Johnston of Lincoln.

A shower already has been given for the bride-elect and several are still in the making.

Last Sunday, the bride-to-be's cousin, Mrs. Ruth Anthes, and her aunt, Mrs. Erma Yeagley, were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Anthes when they entertained at a miscellaneous shower. The party was attended by 28 guests.

The future has much in store for Miss Smith but May 21 will mean another shower at which Mrs. Fae Ham, the bride-elect's aunt, will be the hostess. Twenty guests will present the honoree gifts along the personal lines.

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

More travelers to mention, but this time we must go to the Northeast Heights area to get the story.

Coming to Lincoln Saturday, from Littleton, Colo. were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Zitek and their three children Mick, Lori and Ron. The family came to the city for a visit with Mrs. Zitek's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Willemsen.

On Sunday, the five Ziteks motored to David City with Mr. and Mrs. Willemsen, and their children Larry and Nancy. A gathering of the family was the big event in David City and the activity for the day took place at the home of Mrs. Zitek's and Mrs. Willemsen s father, Joseph Klein. According to figures Mrs. Willemsen tabulated, 18 grandchildren were present. Indeed, it must have been a busy, but fun day for all. For Mr. and Mrs. Willemsen the busy weekend did not fold till Monday morning when they regretfully saw Mr. and Mrs. Zitek and their family off to their home in Colorado.

OPEN ladies golf season

Responsible for the varied activities of the women golfers at the Lincoln Country Club this season are three of the four club members pictured, (from the left) Mrs. E. Stewart Maness, Mrs. Paul Hyland, Mrs. Walter I. Black and Mrs. W. E. Swanson.

Mrs. Black will serve as ladies golf chairman, assisted by Mrs. Maness, Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Eugene A. Deeter. Mrs. Hyland is the club women's golf champion.

The foursome was pictured Tuesday at the buffet luncheon which followed the opening morning of golf for the current season.

YW Guest

Coming to Lincoln on Thursday to meet with members of the YWCA board and staff will be Miss Roberta Chapman, community division field staff member of the national YWCA.

Miss Chapman, who joined the national staff in January as a field consultant for the central region, will be in Lincoln two days conferring on activities in health education, community cooperation, public affairs and international program, as well as teen-age and young adult activities.

She is a former executive director of the Portland, Ore., YWCA.

LWC entertains at tea

The Lincoln Woman's Club entertained at its annual membership tea Monday afternoon at the club house with state and district officers as special guests.

Greeting the guests, who included Mrs. Dean H. Petersen (second from right), the wife of Lincoln's mayor, were (from the left) Mrs. Kenneth L. McDonnell of Greenwood, secretary of District I of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Don Kolterman of Seward, state treasurer; and Mrs. George Mechling (at right), club president.

Co-chairmen for the tea were Mrs. Earl T. Luff and Mrs. Carl Mutchmore, and presiding at the tea table were club past presidents, Mrs. G. E. Abbott, Mrs. Glenn Mooberry, Mrs. Harley McCoid, Mrs. Ray C. Johnson and Mrs. Harry W. Hust.

TALK of the town

Well—it's that time again—The Ancient Order of Annual Mariners, all four of them, are about to secure the main sail for a weekend of fun and relaxation.

The members of this notable organization include Clark W. Faulkner, Harold Osborn, David Walcott and Mark Seacrest, and the adventurers leave on Thursday for Yankton, S.D. and Lewis and Clark lake where their vessel is ready for boarding.

* * *

Four go—and four come home. Arriving home on Tuesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henrion who have been spending the past several days in New York City.

* * *

And expected home on Sunday are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Agee who have been reveling in all of the delightful places in Spain, Portugal and various other spots in the Mediterranean area.

* * *

In town during the past weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cook of St Louis, Mo., who were the guestts of Mr. Cook's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Cook. The visitors arrived on Friday—Mrs. Cook from Omaha where she had been visiting her family—and returned to St. Louis on Sunday.

Outdoor Beauty

That lovely fair complexion of yours was never meant to stand up to the harsh summer weather. Be kind to it, see that it is well protected when you're golfing, lazing on the beach, or anywhere in the great outdoors. Wear a wide, shady hat and sunglasses—this will keep you from squinting your eyes. Before you venture out smooth on your oil of Olay before making-up, and don't forget your neck. Your skin will maintain a milky look despite the drying effect of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Rohlf of Boulder, Colo., have announced the arrival of a son, David Christopher, on Friday, April 23. The baby's mother is the former Helen Louise Kreuch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kreuch of Lincoln—and a member of Towne Club on the Nebraska campus. Another interested member of the family is the small David's brother, Danny, who is three and a half years old.

★

Mrs. Eva Hutchings of San Francisco has arrived in Lincoln to spend some time as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Leola Reynolds, and also to visit her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Hill.

What They're Reading

It has been said that the great books constitute a transcript of a great conversation across the ages, and we share the thoughts, emotions and observations of the writers as if we were sitting with them around the fire.

Here are friends whose society is delightful. They are persons of all countries and of all ages, distinguished in war, government and letters, easy to live with, never out of humor, answering all questions with readiness.

We can invite to sit with us the ablest and sprightliest of all times, the most learned philosophers, the wisest counselors. All we need to do is give them a chance to tell us what they have of value to say, and then meet their ideas with ideas of our own.

Several literary figures gained Pulitzer Prizes for the way they put their ideas into print. Besides the best-seller list, this week, we would also like to mention those books which won the gold medal awards.

Shirley Ann Grau was awarded a Pulitzer Prize for fiction for her novel, "The Keepers of the House." The non-fiction award went to Howard Mumford Jones and his novel, "O Strange New World." Going on to the drama award we find Frank D. Gilroy the recipient and his book was "The Subject was Rose." Leonard Samuels produced a three-volume work called "Henry Adams" and captured the biography award while John Berryman's "77 Dream Songs" hailed the Pulitzer poetry award.

But, back to the best-seller list and 20 prize winners in their own right.

The bidding:

Opening lead — queen of clubs.

There is more to play of most hands than meets the eye. For example, take this hand where West led the queen of clubs, which held, continued with the jack, which also held. (East having played the 7-5), and then led a third club, which South ruffed.

West's last play was wrong because he should have known that East had precisely the A-10 left and that declarer would ruff the third round of clubs. South could not have the 10-x-x of clubs or he would have covered the jack with the king. West should therefore have shifted to a spade at trick three.

After ruffing the club, declarer cashed the ace of hearts but then realized that it might be fatal to continue with the king if the hearts were not divided 2-2.

He therefore played the ten of hearts next, planning to win the expected spade return with the ace, cash the A-K of diamonds, ruff a diamond, and then cross to the jack of hearts in order to discard two spades on the Q-6 of diamonds.

This scheme would have worked all right, but, unfortunately, when East took the ten of hearts with the queen, he returned a heart to the jack. As a result of this play, South eventually had to lose a spade trick and go down one.

Of course, South could always have made the contract by taking a heart finesse, but there was no particular reason for assuming that East had three to the queen.

What declarer should have done was lead the ten of hearts at trick four instead of trick five. This play would have made the contract. East would win with the queen but would be unable to make a damaging return.

Thus, if he returned a trump, South would win it in his hand, cash two diamonds and ruff a diamond, and then enter dummy with a trump to dispose of his spade losers.

DEAR ABBY: As a man who has to contend with the telephone in his office, I anticipate retreating to my nice quiet home at the end of the day. But, alas, this seems to be the prime time for the ladies to call each other to arrange their bridge parties, church socials, car pools, etc. What do these women do all day that they can't get these things arranged beforehand?

SICK OF PHONES

DEAR SICK: They're attending bridge parties, church socials and they're driving the kids around.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a 24-year-old divorcee and I've never had any trouble getting dates. My problem is that every man I date thinks that just because I've been married anything goes. It is very discouraging to have to fight off men all the time. The first thing they suggest is going up to their apartments, or to a motel or something like that. I love to dance and I enjoy good clean fun. What happened to all the decent men?

SUZANNE

DEAR SUZANNE: They're still around. You seem to be attracting the wrong kind. Change bait.

Throwing Off What?

The announcement from the Nebraska Game Commission read, "Nebraskans are throwing off the edict of Paris designers and going western into the swing of things for the gala NEBRASKAland Days (And, that in itself is a horrible word. Isn't the name of the state Nebraska) celebration June 1 through 6.

"The trend is to western dress as the entire state dons boots and Stetsons or any other western garb for the big wild west festivities. At least, that is the word from fashion expert M. O. Steen, Game Commission director."

The "edict of Paris" isn't the only thing they're throwing off. And since when has Mel Steen become a fashion designer? He can hardly take care of all the land he has acquired, let alone dictate fashions to the state.

Going out the window with the "edict of Paris" also are the baseball uniforms of Lincoln's American Legion Junior baseball program.

The climax to the Nebraska promotion days is a rodeo at, of all places, Sherman Field. The American Legion opens its baseball season there May 30. The field must be torn up to stage the rodeo.

Nebraska hardly needs a rodeo to remind the nation that we are still living in a backward age here. East of Mississippi, they still think Indians run wild in the hills of Nebraska.

Those staging the rodeo say Sherman Field's infield can be torn up and resodded within a couple of days to allow baseball to continue.

If this can be done, those doing it should patent the process. They could make a bundle of money for Nebraska tourism promotion by selling their plan to thousands of home owners who try to sod their yards every year.

Typical Of Nebraska

But sacrificing baseball for Lincoln youngsters so they can stage a rodeo is typical of the way Nebraska has gone at tourism promotion.

They build a park in the middle of nowhere with a dirt road and a couple of outdoor toilet facilities, then tell visitors, "There it is, go use it."

Meanwhile other states provide things for tourists to do other than pitch a tent and watch the ground hogs play games at night.

The Jaycees have been brought into this rodeo promotion also. You would think they would have learned from the last cowboy and Indian venture they undertook.

Lincoln's city officials who are in charge of Sherman Field should hang their heads for allowing such a debacle to be held at one of the state's finest baseball fields. And Gov. Frank Morrison and the Nebraska Game Commission should join them for even thinking of Sherman Field.

Nebraska is full of places to stage rodeos without using a baseball diamond that will be occupied nearly every night this summer with youngsters in Midget and Junior Legion programs.

Parents of these youngsters have every right to be irate. It makes one wonder in which direction Nebraska is headed. Maybe Cowboys and Indians really is the national pastime in Nebraska...

Distance, Relays Records May Stand In Big 8

. . . HUSKERS POST LEADING TIMES IN BOTH BATON EXCHANGING EVENTS

(Third of a Series)
By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

The safest records in the Big Eight Track and Field Championships this weekend at Nebraska's Memorial Stadium could be those in the distances and relays.

Records in two of the three distance events have not been bettered this spring and the two relay races require precision handoffs in addition to fast feet for records.

Only Robin Lingle in the mile and Nebraska in the mile relay have dipped below the Big Eight records this spring. Nebraska's 440-yard relay team has matched the loop standard.

Lingle, who has the top time in both the mile and three-mile races ran a 4:01.7 two weeks ago in a dual against Kansas State and could crack Ray Stevens' Big Eight mark of 4:04.9 in a possible bid for a four-minute mile.

Lingle won both events a year ago at Stillwater, Okla., running the mile in 4:05.9 and the three-mile in 14:26.9. He is far ahead of his nearest competitors in the two events this season.

Lingle's best three-mile time thus far is 14:38.4, three seconds ahead of Colorado's Dave Wighton.

Kansas' Herald Hadley, along with teammate John Lawson, are Lingle's top mile threats.

Both Hadley and Lawson have run 4:09.6 miles, times that will leave them one turn behind Lingle if the Missouri star runs his best.

Nebraska's Jim Wendt is the 880 leader with a 1:50.7, but the Perry boys from Oklahoma State are pressing. Dave Perry has run 1:51.0 and brother John is only one-tenth of a second behind.

Wendt fell too far behind Missouri's Bill Rawson in Saturday's dual and lost by 25 yards, a mistake that, if repeated, could cost him the conference title in the half mile.

Joe Mullins of Nebraska set the 880 record at 1:49.0 in 1959.

Nebraska is the leader in both relay events with the :40.5 posted in winning the Texas and Kansas Relays the best in the quarter-mile field. The mark equals the Big Eight record set by Colorado in winning a year ago.

The Cornhuskers are defending champions in the mile relay and hold a three-tenths of a second lead over Oklahoma State going into the weekend activities.

Nebraska's 3:09.3 is the leading Big Eight time and is 1.6 seconds faster than the winning time recorded a year ago. It also is under the Big Eight record of 3:10.5 posted by Oklahoma State in 1959.

KNAUB PACES NWU WIN

Plainsmen End Doane Streak

. . . W-CLUB TRACK TEST

By TOM HENDERSON
Star Sports Writer

Nebraska Wesleyan, led by a triple effort by Mike Knaub, ended Doane's five-year reign in the W-Club Invitational Track and Field Meet Tuesday, outdistancing the Tigers, 106-93.

Knaub won the broad jump, the triple jump, and the pole vault, setting new meet records in the latter two, in a meet riddled with seven new marks. Two meet records were equalled.

Knaub's vault of 14-2¼ braks his own standard of 13-6, set in last year's meet. His hop-skip-and-jump of 43-11 also erases his own meet record of 42-10½, in 1964.

It was clearly a two-team battle between the Plainsmen and Doane. Wesleyan took a quick lead, winning the javelin and triple jump, and then had to keep up a fast pace set by the Tigers.

Doane's sensational relay teams made it tough on the Plainsmen, as Crete quartets won the 880-yard relay, and the mile baton race, both in record time.

NWU, however, placed second in both races to maintain its lead. The Plainsmen also finished second in the two-mile relay, but were disqualified.

The Plainsmen had a 99-89 margin over Doane after 16 of the 18 events were completed, but the NWU disqualification in the two-mile relay gave Doane second place in the event, and kept the meet in doubt down to the wire.

Knaub's 14-2¼ leap in the pole vault was the signal for the Wesleyan thinclads to hoist coach Woody Greeno to their shoulders and straight to a shower, complete with clothes.

It was the sixth W-Club title for Nebraska Wesleyan, but the last one was six years back. Doane has won the title for the last five years.

Hastings' Tom Bassett equalled the meet record in the 100-yard dash in the preliminaries, with a :09.8 clocking, but could only muster a :09.9 sprint in winning the finals.

Other records broken or tied in the meet were Dave Newlon's 192-2¾ toss in the javelin, and a 6-5 leap by Jim Booher in the high jump. Both are from Nebraska Wesleyan.

On the track Doane's Dennis Dondlinger ran a 4:24.3 mile, bettering the old mark of 4:26.4. Rick Wood of Doane bettered the 440 standard with a clocking of :49.1, Dick Petersen of Hastings equalled the 330-yard intermediate burdles mark of :39.8, and the Midland two-mile relay team lowered the record in that event to 8:05.5...

Links Down Pius For Repeat Trip To State Baseball Meet

. . . BOUMAN NEEDS RELIEF HELP IN WIN

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Lincoln High earned a repeat trip to the state Class A baseball tourney Tuesday as it scrambled past Pius X, 8-6, in an error-plagued district final at Muny Field.

Mike Bouman kept his unbeaten pitching record intact against the Thunderbolts, but had to have help from Mike Delaney as Pius X made a last-ditch bid in the bottom of the seventh.

Consecutive singles by Dana Stephenson, Mike Bohaty and Bill Barclay chased Bouman, who had given up five hits and three unearned runs through the first six innings.

Delaney got Mike Dalton and John McEniry on infield outs, then Dick Burke kept the Pius X rally going with a two-run single before Delaney fanned John Hadwick.

The Thunderbolts took a 1-0 lead in the first as Stephenson tripled an scored on an error.

Bouman clouted a two-run homer in the top of the second, however, and the Links were never headed.

Bill Bauer produced run scoring singles in both the second and sixth innings to boost the Links into the state meet which opens Monday at Municipal Stadium in Omaha.

All but two of the Lincoln High runs were unearned as the Pius X defense, which came up with errorless play in the first round against Southeast, leaked for five errors.

The Links also committed five errors, but Bouman weathered most of the prospective Pius X rallies.

He got out of a big jam in the fifth after loading the bases with none out. The lefthander got Bohaty to ground into a double play, then gave up an unearned run on an error before getting the side out.

—NO TRACK CHAMPION RETURNING WITH OKLAHOMA SQUAD—

Sooners Will Display National Oldtime Fiddle Champ

Norman, Okla. — Although Oklahoma has no returning champions in the Big Eight outdoor track meet this week, the Sooners will display the 1964 national oldtime fiddle champion.

He's Byron Berline, a big, blond javelin-thrower who lives on a Grant county wheat farm in northern Oklahoma. Last year, Berline placed third in the Big Eight javelin at Stillwater, pegging 200 feet 9 inches.

Last week, he hurled 205-3 against Oklahoma State in a dual but got beat and lamed his fiddle arm besides.

"It hurts now when I play," Berline frowns, "especially when I do the back swing of the bow." Illustrating, he raised his sore flipper and swung it backwards in the fiddler's true reverse motion. The elbow popped. "Hear that?"

Berline has organized a pretty fair Western band on the Sooner track squad that's going to Lincoln, Neb., Friday and Saturday. Berline plays the fiddle, two-miler Johnny English the guitar, Sprinter Frank Deramus the bass.

"I taught Frank to play that bass," grins Berline, proudly. "He's only been playing it since Christmas. He bought himself a real good instrument. Course he had to go in debt for it. Went down to Bill Carroll's bank and borrowed the money" (Carroll, former Sooner track coach, is now vice-president of a Norman bank.)

J. D. Martin, new Sooner coach, occasionally picks a guitar in the noon sessions at Jefferson House here. "J.D.'s all right on that geetar," Berline praises, "Even if he hasn't backed up a fiddle very much."

What's the difference between a fiddle and a violin? "A fiddle has four strings and a violin has, too," he answers that one, straight-faced.

Berline won his first national oldtime fiddle championship last summer at Missoula, Mont., vanquishing Lloyd Wanzer, a left-handed redheaded phenom from Caldwell, Idaho, who had beaten him the year before at Weiser, Idaho.

More than a hundred crack fiddlers from all over the nation competed in the three-day competition that sometimes attracts 10,000 spectators. The judges were placed in an adjacent building where they listened to the fiddling over microphones and couldn't see the players or hear the applause.

"It was tense," Berline remembers. "They got it down to three fiddlers and kept calling us back trying to decide who'd won. I had to play 24 different songs."

How many tunes did he know? The question seemed to startle him. "Oh man—I'd say—wild guess—about a thousand. Maybe more. I know an old boy—Bennie Thomason, real fine fiddler from Texas—Fort Worth, I think — who knows 2,000 songs."

Berline remembers, when he was four years old, ducking between his father's legs and grabbing the bow when his dad was fiddling on the farm. His father, Lue Berline, now 71, last year won the nationals at Missoula for fiddlers over 70.

"Dad taught me to play on a little three-quarter copy of a Stradivarius given to me by my cousin Bob Berline of Blackwell." Byron recalls, "The first time I learned was "Mississippi Sawyer."

At the age of ten, Berline entered his first contest.

"I won that dude," he laughs, "It was an open event at Blackwell. Dad was in it, too, I played 'Mississippi Sawyer' and 'Ragtime Annie.' They let the audience judge it by applause. I was the littlest and that sure didn't hurt my chances.

"The number I play nowadays that impresses lots of judges is 'Apple Blossom.'" he confides, "It goes to minor key in the middle and has some smart alec licks. I was playing it at a little stage contest last fall at Cement, Okla. I was watching one judge. It was really tearin' him up. He'd laugh, and shake his head, and look at the other judges. He might not have been likin's it, for all I know."

Berline says his mother Elizabeth is the best piano backer-upper he's ever had. "We own about 12 or 13 fiddles at home," he adds. "We keep 'em all in the big closet. It's full of fiddles. We have one worth $10,000. It's a Carlo Bogonza that my dad found in a Wichita hock shop. It was busted and dad traded a $125 mandolin for it. That hock shop man didn't know what he had."

Berline and his father are looking forward to their next two engagements. They've been invited to play late in May at the International Fiddling and Step-Dancing Contest at Ontario, Canada, and July 22-25 at the well-known Newport Folk Festival at Newport, R.I.

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

The general use of O and Mac in Irish family names dates back to the period of King Brian Boru in the 11th Century. The O means of; Mac means son of.

Maryland's John Hanson, who served as national president under the Articles of Confederation, designated the last Thursday of 1781 as Thanksgiving. He said the future nation should not only offer up supplication for help in distress but give praise "for His goodness in general."

The International Hydrological Decade, which began Jan. 1, 1965, is the first concerted attempt to world scale to take stock of increasingly hard-pressed fresh water resources. President Johnson has urged American universities and scientific societies to cooperate in the 10-year program, supported by the United Nations Scientific, Educational and Cultural Organization.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. Gibson, Giusti Win 6th Games

. . . ASTROS DOWN DODGERS

By The Associated Press

Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals and Dave Giusti of the Houston Astros became the leading pitchers in the major leagues Tuesday night. Each won their sixth straight game against no defeats.

Gibson gained a 4-3 victory over veteran Warren Spahn and the New York Mets helped by a great fielding play by shortstop Dick Groat in the ninth. Giusti, helped by Jose Gaines' two-run homer, beat the first place Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1.

Spahn held a 3-1 lead over Gibson after six innings, but the Cards tied it with three runs in the seventh, climaxed by Lou Brock's two-run homer.

Groat then took over and won it for Gibson. Groat tripled in the eighth and scored the winning run on an infield out. In the ninth with a Met runner on second, he held the tying run on third by making a great stop of Johnny Lewis' infield hit over second. The Card shortstop then gobbled up Joe Christopher's grounder and started a double play that ended the game.

Ron Hunt, the Mets' All-Star second baseman, suffered a separation of his left shoulder in a fifth inning collision and likely will be out for the season.

Del Crandall's single with the bases loaded in the sixth drove in two runs and gave Pittsburgh a 4-3 victory over Milwaukee. Pete Rose got four hits in five at bats to pace Cincinnati to a 9-1 romp over Philadelphia.

Baltimore spoiled Ralph Terry's bid for his fifth straight by edging Cleveland 3-2 in 11 innings. Relief pitcher Dick Hall singled home the winning run off Dick Donovan, Cleveland's fifth pitcher.

Their new first baseman, Ray Barker, helped the New York Yankees beat Boston 5-3 with an RBI double in the fourth inning. Detroit spotted Washington a 6-0 lead then pulled the game out 7-6 on Willie Horton's two-out, two-run single in the ninth.

The Chicago White Sox and Kansas City had an open date, but in the other American League game first place Minnesota beat the Los Angeles Angels 3-2. The winning run crossed in the ninth on Harmon Killebrew's infield single off Dean Chance's leg.

Ron Herbel and Frank Linzy combined to pitch a shutout as San Francisco blanked Chicago 3-0.

Bridgeport Boy Shoots Record Rainbow Trout

A 10-year-old Bridgeport bowman has claimed the state record for rainbow trout, the Game Commission reports.

Shot from the bank near the Bridgeport bridge over the North Platte River, Jerry Edwards' prize weighed six pounds, one ounce. No previous claims exist in state records for this category.

In other Nebraska waters, high winds and cold weather put a damper on fishing.

A capsule report by area:

NORTHEAST: Sand Pits (Columbus)—crappie and bullheads on artificials and crawdads.

Missouri River (Ponca area)—few catfish and occasional sauger on minnows and commercial stink bait; sturgeon on worms and nightcrawlers; carp on corn, and small bullheads.

Omadi Bend—crappie to one and a half pounds on small minnows and artificials, fair size bullheads and some carp.

DeSoto Bend—some crappie high as 6 to 10 inches on minnows, 1 to 6 pound catfish and largemouth bass 1 to 4 pounds.

Fort Calhoun Chutes—small carp on prepared cornmeal, 6 to 10 inch crappie on artificials, occasional catfish and bass.

Elkhorn River (Stanton area)—catfish 1 to 4 pounds on worms and chicken livers, 1 to 6 pound carp on corn.

Gavins Point Dam—white bass along south side on white jigs, nice sauger to 3 pounds off wall on dike using minnows and fishing off bottom; Miller Creek, crappie on minnows to 12 inches; South Shore Area, white bass and crappie.

Missouri River (Niobrara)—few sauger to 2½ pounds on minnows fishing off bottom.

SOUTHWEST: Harlan County Reservoir—some white bass averaging 8 to 10 inches being taken in Republican River on artificials.

Medicine Creek Reservoir—crappie fishing fair around willows and bays on white doll flies and minnows; a few walleye and black bass.

Red Willow Reservoir—a few largemouth and black bass being taken, bluegill fishing picking up with some running a pound. Best fishing area is on north side of lake.

Lake McConaughy—some walleye being taken on dam; night fishing best; white bass picking up, occasional small mouth bass; catfishing good at west end of lake.

Sutherland Reservoir—few white bass at inlet, occasional catfish on minnows.

Lake Maloney—a lot of white bass at inlet and a few walleye, trolling in lake; white bass, black bass, crappie, and catfish being taken in canal systems in North Platte area.

Jeffrey Reservoir—crappie being taken in fair numbers in bay area.

PANHANDLE: Lake Minatare—walleye being taken on minnows from bank.

Smith Lake—bluegill, crappie, and northern pike on minnows and artificials.

Kimball Reservoir—few walleye, white bass, and black bass on minnows.

Whitney Lake—fair catfishing on large minnows and worms; some walleye; crappie expected to start hitting.

Otter Creek—taking white bass on doll flies and meps spinners, some smallmouth bass, and nice walleye from bank and stillfishing with minnows.

Trout Streams—fair trout with minnows and spinners on Big and Little Bordeaux creeks, trout fishing good on Chadron Creek in state park area, trout at Chadron City reservoir running 10 inches; Terry's and Bridgeport pits.

SOUTHEAST: Big and Little Blue rivers—catfishing good on worms and minnows, also some carp and drum.

Stagecoach Lake—small bass on minnows and artificials.

West Blue River—catfish up to 2 pounds being taken using beef brains for bait.

SAND HILLS: Merritt Reservoir—trout on small flies and spinners on west end and boat ramp.

Pelican Lake—northern pike and bass on weedless spoons and spinners.

Hackberry Lake—northern pike and bass on weedless spoons and spinners, bluegills up to a pound on worms.

Fort Hayes Wins CIC Golf Title By One Stroke

Hays, Kan. (UPI) — Fort Hays State won the Central Intercollegiate Conference Golf Championship Tuesday by one stroke to climax a come from behind spurt on the final 18 holes.

The Tigers were 11 strokes behind Washburn going into the final 18 holes and trailed by six going into the final nine. The winners tied the score on the sixth hole of the final nine and, when Washburn's Ray Chotlos overshot the green on the final hole, R. J. Smiley tapped in a short one-stroke margin.

Fort Hays finished with 894 strokes in the 54-hole tournament. Washburn followed with 895, Omaha University with 959, Pittsburg State 974, and Emporia State 991.

Mets Acquire Hiller From Giants For Cash

New York (AP) — The New York Mets announced early Wednesday they had purchased second baseman Chuck Hiller from the San Francisco Giants in a straight cash transaction. Hiller will replace the injured Ron Hunt.

Hunt suffered a separation of his left shoulder in the game against St. Louis Tuesday night and probably will be out for the season. He was placed on the disabled list.

Thornton Mauls Way To Win Over Cotton

Seattle (AP) — Wayne Thornton of Fresno, Calif., blood splattered from a cut beside his left eye, mauled his way Tuesday night to his third straight victory over 38-year-old Eddie Cotton of Seattle, a 12-round decision.

The skinny Seattle lightheavy obviously over-eager to gain some revenge, put Thornton down in the second round with a looping left hook to the head.

Clay Opens Final Two Weeks Of Training

Chicopee, Mass. (AP) — Cassius Clay bounced his way through nine rounds of sparring Tuesday as he opened the final two weeks of training for the May 25 defense of his heavyweight boxing title against Sonny Liston.

Clay did two rounds each with his brother, Rudolph, Cody Jones and Dave Bailey, and three with James Ellis, the light heavyweight on his training staff.

Sophomore Wrestlers

Don Behm and Jeff Richardson, Michigan State sophomores, won Big Ten wrestling champions last winter.

Yanks Call Infielder; Bring Roster To Limit

Boston (AP)—The New York Yankees filled their roster Tuesday by bringing up infielder Horace Clarke, the International League's leading hitter, from Toledo.

Addition of the 24-year-old Virgin Islander puts the Yankees at the 25-man limit. Clarke, in his eighth season as a professional, was batting .361 for Toledo.

Groundwork Set For New Loop

Chicago (AP) — Groundwork was established Tuesday for a new athletic loop including at least 10 schools to be called the National Collegiate Conference, possibly starting in the 1966-67 school year.

The new league, competing in basketball and spring sports, will be formally organized at a mid-June meeting in Washington, D.C., during the NCAA's summer conclave of athletic directors.

Schools represented at the daylong meeting were Canisius, University of Detroit, Dayton, DePaul, Loyola of the South, Memphis State, Marquette, Oklahoma City University and Xavier of Ohio.

Rick Redman To Play In All-America Game

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP) — Linebacker Rick Redman, who averaged 18 tackles per game for the Washington Huskies last year, has agreed to play in the fifth anual All-America football game here June 26, it was announced Tuesday.

Redman, a 220-pounder, has signed with the San Diego Chargers of the American Fotball League.

Middleweight Boxer Fined In New Jersey

Paterson, N.J. (AP) — Paterson Municipal Court disposed Tuesday of five charges of assault and battery, disorderly conduct and gambling against middleweight boxing contender Rubin (Hurricane) Carter.

The 27-year-old fighter was fined $25 for being an inmate of a gambling house, and a disorderly conduct charge arising from that incident was dismissed by Magistrate Charles J. Alfand.

Throwing Off What?

The announcement from the Nebraska Game Commission read, "Nebraskans are throwing off the edict of Paris designers and going western into the swing of things for the gala NEBRASKAland Days (And, that in itself is a horrible word. Isn't the name of the state Nebraska) celebration June 1 through 6.

"The trend is to western dress as the entire state dons boots and Stetsons or any other western garb for the big wild west festivities. At least, that is the word from fashion expert M. O. Steen, Game Commission director."

The "edict of Paris" isn't the only thing they're throwing off. And since when has Mel Steen become a fashion designer? He can hardly take care of all the land he has acquired, let alone dictate fashions to the state.

Going out the window with the "edict of Paris" also are the baseball uniforms of Lincoln's American Legion Junior baseball program.

The climax to the Nebraska promotion days is a rodeo at, of all places, Sherman Field. The American Legion opens its baseball season there May 30. The field must be torn up to stage the rodeo.

Nebraska hardly needs a rodeo to remind the nation that we are still living in a backward age here. East of Mississippi, they still think Indians run wild in the hills of Nebraska.

Those staging the rodeo say Sherman Field's infield can be torn up and resodded within a couple of days to allow baseball to continue.

If this can be done, those doing it should patent the process. They could make a bundle of money for Nebraska tourism promotion by selling their plan to thousands of home owners who try to sod their yards every year.

Typical Of Nebraska

But sacrificing baseball for Lincoln youngsters so they can stage a rodeo is typical of the way Nebraska has gone at tourism promotion.

They build a park in the middle of nowhere with a dirt road and a couple of outdoor toilet facilities, then tell visitors, "There it is, go use it."

Meanwhile other states provide things for tourists to do other than pitch a tent and watch the ground hogs play games at night.

The Jaycees have been brought into this rodeo promotion also. You would think they would have learned from the last cowboy and Indian venture they undertook.

Lincoln's city officials who are in charge of Sherman Field should hang their heads for allowing such a debacle to be held at one of the state's finest baseball fields. And Gov. Frank Morrison and the Nebraska Game Commission should join them for even thinking of Sherman Field.

Nebraska is full of places to stage rodeos without using a baseball diamond that will be occupied nearly every night this summer with youngsters in Midget and Junior Legion programs.

Parents of these youngsters have every right to be irate. It makes one wonder in which direction Nebraska is headed. Maybe Cowboys and Indians really is the national pastime in Nebraska...

Distance, Relays Records May Stand In Big 8

. . . HUSKERS POST LEADING TIMES IN BOTH BATON EXCHANGING EVENTS

(Third of a Series)
By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

The safest records in the Big Eight Track and Field Championships this weekend at Nebraska's Memorial Stadium could be those in the distances and relays.

Records in two of the three distance events have not been bettered this spring and the two relay races require precision handoffs in addition to fast feet for records.

Only Robin Lingle in the mile and Nebraska in the mile relay have dipped below the Big Eight records this spring. Nebraska's 440-yard relay team has matched the loop standard.

Lingle, who has the top time in both the mile and three-mile races, ran a 4:01.7 two weeks ago in a dual against Kansas State and could crack Ray Stevens' Big Eight mark of 4:04.9 in a possible bid for a four-minute mile.

Lingle won both events a year ago at Stillwater, Okla., running the mile in 4:05.9 and the three-mile in 14:26.9. He is far ahead of his nearest competitors in the two events this season.

Lingle's best three-mile time thus far is 14:38.4, three seconds ahead of Colorado's Dave Wighton.

Kansas' Herald Hadley, along with teammate John Lawson, are Lingle's top mile threats.

Both Hadley and Lawson have run 4:09.6 miles, times that will leave them one turn behind Lingle if the Missouri star runs his best.

Nebraska's Jim Wendt is the 880 leader with a 1:50.7, but the Perry boys from Oklahoma State are pressing. Dave Perry has run 1:51.0 and brother John is only one-tenth of a second behind.

Wendt fell too far behind Missouri's Bill Rawson in Saturday's dual and lost by 25 yards, a mistake that, if repeated, could cost him the conference title in the half mile.

Joe Mullins of Nebraska set the 880 record at 1:49.0 in 1959.

Nebraska is the leader in both relay events with the :40.5 posted in winning the Texas and Kansas Relays the best in the quarter-mile field. The mark equals the Big Eight record set by Colorado in winning a year ago.

The Cornhuskers are defending champions in the mile relay and hold a three-tenths of a second lead over Oklahoma State going into the weekend activities.

Nebraska's 3:09.3 is the leading Big Eight time and is 1.6 seconds faster than the winning time recorded a year ago. It also is under the Big Eight record of 3:10.5 posted by Oklahoma State in 1959.

KNAUB PACES NWU WIN

Plainsmen End Doane Streak

. . . W-CLUB TRACK TEST

By TOM HENDERSON
Star Sports Writer

Nebraska Wesleyan, led by a triple effort by Mike Knaub, ended Doane's five-year reign in the W-Club Invitational Track and Field Meet Tuesday, outdistancing the Tigers, 106-93.

Knaub won the broad jump, the triple jump, and the pole vault, setting new meet records in the latter two, in a meet riddled with seven new marks. Two meet records were equalled.

Knaub's vault of 14-2¼ braks his own standard of 13-6, set in last year's meet. His hop-skip-and-jump of 43-11 also erases his own meet record of 42-10½, in 1964.

It was clearly a two-team battle between the Plainsmen and Doane. Wesleyan took a quick lead, winning the javelin and triple jump, and then had to keep up a fast pace set by the Tigers.

Doane's sensational relay teams made it tough on the Plainsmen, as Crete quartets won the 880-yard relay, and the mile baton race, both in record time.

NWU, however, placed second in both races to maintain its lead. The Plainsmen also finished second in the two-mile relay, but were disqualified.

The Plainsmen had a 99-89 margin over Doane after 16 of the 18 events were completed, but the NWU disqualification in the two-mile relay gave Doane second place in the event, and kept the meet in doubt down to the wire.

Knaub's 14-2¼ leap in the pole vault was the signal for the Wesleyan thinclads to hoist coach Woody Greeno to their shoulders and straight to a shower, complete with clothes.

It was the sixth W-Club title for Nebraska Wesleyan, but the last one was six years back. Doane has won the title for the last five years.

Hastings' Tom Bassett equalled the meet record in the 100-yard dash in the preliminaries, with a :09.8 clocking, but could only muster a :09.9 sprint in winning the finals.

Other records broken or tied in the meet were Dave Newlon's 192-2¾ toss in the javelin, and a 6-5 leap by Jim Booher in the high jump. Both are from Nebraska Wesleyan.

On the track Doane's Dennis Dondlinger ran a 4:24.3 mile, bettering the old mark of 4:26.4. Rick Wood of Doane bettered the 440 standard with a clocking of :49.1, Dick Petersen of Hastings equalled the 330-yard intermediate burdles mark of :39.8, and the Midland two-mile relay team lowered the record in that event to 8:05.5...

Links Finish 2nd In Fremont Meet

Fremont—Host school Fremont finished 14 strokes ahead of runner-up Lincoln High to easily win the eight-team Fremont Invitational Golf Meet Tuesday.

How they scored:

Fremont 226, Lincoln High 240, Norfolk 244, Omaha Benson 249, Omaha Westside 250, Omaha Central 256, Omaha South 256, Omaha North 267.

Medalist—(Tie) Charles Weir, Gary Gregnrich, Fremont 37-38—75.

LINCOLN HIGH — Sam Beechner 36-42—78; Dick Pelletier 37-42—79; Arvid Kaulins 40-43—83.

Debut A Flop

Nelson Mathews of the Kansas City Athletics went hitless when he broke into baseball with Paris in the Midwest league in 1959—with good reason. His team was the victim of a no-hitter.

Links Down Pius For Repeat Trip To State Baseball Meet

. . . BOUMAN NEEDS RELIEF HELP IN WIN

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Lincoln High earned a repeat trip to the state Class A baseball tourney Tuesday as it scrambled past Pius X, 8-6, in an error-plagued district final at Muny Field.

Mike Bouman kept his unbeaten pitching record intact against the Thunderbolts, but had to have help from Mike Delaney as Pius X made a last-ditch bid in the bottom of the seventh.

Consecutive singles by Dana Stephenson, Mike Bohaty and Bill Barclay chased Bouman, who had given up five hits and three unearned runs through the first six innings.

Delaney got Mike Dalton and John McEniry on infield outs, then Dick Burke kept the Pius X rally going with a two-run single before Delaney fanned John Hadwick.

The Thunderbolts took a 1-0 lead in the first as Stephenson tripled an' scored on an error.

Bouman clouted a two-run homer in the top of the second, however, and the Links were never headed.

Bill Bauer produced run scoring singles in both the second and sixth innings to boost the Links into the state meet which opens Monday at Municipal Stadium in Omaha.

All but two of the Lincoln High runs were unearned as the Pius X defense, which came up with errorless play in the first round against Southeast, leaked for five errors.

The Links also committed five errors, but Bouman weathered most of the prospective Pius X rallies.

He got out of a big jam in the fifth after loading the bases with none out. The lefthander got Bohaty to ground into a double play, then gave up an unearned run on an error before getting the side out.

—NO TRACK CHAMPION RETURNING WITH OKLAHOMA SQUAD—

Sooners Will Display National Oldtime Fiddle Champ

Norman, Okla. — Although Oklahoma has no returning champions in the Big Eight outdoor track meet this week, the Sooners will display the 1964 national oldtime fiddle champion.

He's Byron Berline, a big, blond javelin-thrower who lives on a Grant county wheat farm in northern Oklahoma. Last year, Berline placed third in the Big Eight javelin at Stillwater, pegging 200 feet 9 inches.

Last week, he hurled 205-3 against Oklahoma State in a dual but got beat and lamed his fiddle arm besides.

"It hurts now when I play," Berline frowns, "especially when I do the back swing of the bow." Illustrating, he raised his sore flipper and swung it backwards in the fiddler's true reverse motion. The elbow popped. "Hear that?"

Berline has organized a pretty fair Western band on the Sooner track squad that's going to Lincoln, Neb., Friday and Saturday. Berline plays the fiddle, two-miler Johnny English the guitar, Sprinter Frank Deramus the bass.

"I taught Frank to play that bass," grins Berline, proudly. "He's only been playing it since Christmas. He bought himself a real good instrument. Course he had to go in debt for it. Went down to Bill Carroll's bank and borrowed the money" (Carroll, former Sooner track coach, is now vice-president of a Norman bank.)

J. D. Martin, new Sooner coach, occasionally picks a guitar in the noon sessions at Jefferson House here. "J.D.'s all right on that geetar," Berline praises, "Even if he hasn't backed up a fiddle very much."

What's the difference between a fiddle and a violin? "A fiddle has four strings and a violin has, too," he answers that one, straight-faced.

Berline won his first national oldtime fiddle championship last summer at Missoula, Mont., vanquishing Lloyd Wanzer, a left-handed redheaded phenom from Caldwell, Idaho, who had beaten him the year before at Weiser, Idaho.

More than a hundred crack fiddlers from all over the nation competed in the three-day competition that sometimes attracts 10,000 spectators. The judges were placed in an adjacent building where they listened to the fiddling over microphones and couldn't see the players or hear the applause.

"It was tense," Berline remembers. "They got it down to three fiddlers and kept calling us back trying to decide who'd won. I had to play 24 different songs."

How many tunes did he know? The question seemed to startle him. "Oh man—I'd say—wild guess—about a thousand. Maybe more. I know an old boy—Bennie Thomason, real fine fiddler from Texas—Fort Worth, I think — who knows 2,000 songs."

Berline remembers, when he was four years old, ducking between his father's legs and grabbing the bow when his dad was fiddling on the farm. His father, Lue Berline, now 71, last year won the nationals at Missoula for fiddlers over 70.

"Dad taught me to play on a little three-quarter copy of a Stradivarius given to me by my cousin Bob Berline of Blackwell." Byron recalls. "The first time I learned was "Mississippi Sawyer."

At the age of ten, Berline entered his first contest.

"I won that dude," he laughs, "It was an open event at Blackwell. Dad was in it, too, I played 'Mississippi Sawyer' and 'Ragtime Annie.' They let the audience judge it by applause. I was the littlest and that sure didn't hurt my chances.

"The number I play nowadays that impresses lots of judges is 'Apple Blossom.' " he confides, "It goes to minor key in the middle and has some smart alec licks. I was playing it at a little stage contest last fall at Cement, Okla. I was watching one judge. It was really tearin' him up. He'd laugh, and shake his head, and look at the other judges. He might not have been likin's it, for all I know."

Berline says his mother Elizabeth is the best piano backer-upper he's ever had. "We own about 12 or 13 fiddles at home," he adds. "We keep 'em all in the big closet. It's full of fiddles. We have one worth $10,000. It's a Carlo Bogonza that my dad found in a Wichita hock shop. It was busted and dad traded a $125 mandolin for it. That hock shop man didn't know what he had."

Berline and his father are looking forward to their next two engagements. They've been invited to play late in May at the International Fiddling and Step-Dancing Contest at Ontario, Canada, and July 22-25 at the well-known Newport Folk Festival at Newport, R.I.

Crampton Wins Colonial Golf

. . . KNUDSON FALLS TO 2ND

Fort Worth, Tex. (AP)—Bruce Crampton erased a lingering nightmare with a four-under-par 66 Tuesday and won the $100,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament by three strokes. He carded a 72-hole total of 276

The handsome Australian swept past several challengers with a birdie string beginning at the 13th to win his second tournament of the year and a plump paycheck totaling $20,000.

He birdied four of the last six holes for a 34-32-66 to overtake George Knudson on the final nine and coast to a rain-delayed triumph over four other contenders.

Knudson, who lost the tournament lead with a bogey at the 10th hole, carded a closing par 70 for 279 and second place, worth $11,500.

Chi Chi Rodriguez, Gardner Dickinson Jr., Tony Lema and Don January shared third place at even par 280. Rodriguez, clowning and joking with the crowd, closed with a 68.

Crampton's victory over the water-soaked, 7,132-yard Colonial course helped wipe out a disastrous finish here in 1962.

Three years ago he approached the final green needing only a par for the title, but his approach shot landed in a lake and he took a double-bogey 6. A day earlier he could have seized the third-round lead with a par at the final hole, but his second shot also flew into the water. It also resulted in a double bogey

Legislature Gives Approval To NU Stadium Growth

The State Legislature Tuesday approved a 6,000 seat addition to the University of Nebraska Memorial Stadium.

It authorized, through adoption of a legislative resolution, the issuance of up to $225,000 in revenue bonds to finance the construction.

The addition will be built by the Peter Kiewit and Sons' Construction Co. of Omaha at the north end of the stadium. It will boost permanent seating capacity to nearly 53,000.

AK-Sar-Ben Boosts Stakes

Omaha — General Manager Tom Brock Tuesday announced an increase in the stakes handicaps and feature money distribution at Ak-Sar-Ben for the remainder of the 1965 meeting

The boost was made possible because of the new agreement with the HBPA which now gives 42% of the mutuel take and breakage for purse monies.

Eleven stakes and handicaps were boosted Top increase goes to the George Brandeis Memorial Handicap, upped from $15,000 to $20,000. This gives Ak-Sar-Ben three $20,000 races for the 1965 meeting The $20,000 Gold Cup and the $20,000 Ak-Sar-Ben Handicap will remain the same

The Ak-Sar-Ben Governors' Handicap which will be run this Saturday was upped from $12,500 to $15,000

The King's Plate Handicap on May 31 also was jumped from $12,500 to $15,000 along with the Ambassador's Handicap on June 5.

The 4-H Handicap, the Ak-Sar-Ben Juvenile Stakes and the Ak-Sar-Ben Breeders' Special will all be jumped from $10,000 to $12,500

Gibson, Giusti Win 6th Games

. . . ASTROS DOWN DODGERS

By The Associated Press

Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals and Dave Giusti of the Houston Astros became the leading pitchers in the major leagues Tuesday night. Each won their sixth straight game against no defeats.

Gibson gained a 4-3 victory over veteran Warren Spahn and the New York Mets helped by a great fielding play by shortstop Dick Groat in the ninth. Giusti, helped by Jose Gaines' two-run homer, beat the first place Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1.

Spahn held a 3-1 lead over Gibson after six innings, but the Cards tied it with three runs in the seventh, climaxed by Lou Brock's two-run homer.

Groat then took over and won it for Gibson. Groat tripled in the eighth and scored the winning run on an infield out. In the ninth with a Met runner on second, he held the tying run on third by making a great stop of Johnny Lewis' infield hit over second. The Card shortstop then gobbled up Joe Christopher's grounder and started a double play that ended the game.

Ron Hunt, the Mets' All-Star second baseman, suffered a separation of his left shoulder in a fifth inning collision and likely will be out for the season.

Del Crandall's single with the bases loaded in the sixth drove in two runs and gave Pittsburgh a 4-3 victory over Milwaukee. Pete Rose got four hits in five at bats to pace Cincinnati to a 9-1 romp over Philadelphia.

Baltimore spoiled Ralph Terry's bid for his fifth straight by edging Cleveland 3-2 in 11 innings. Relief pitcher Dick Hall singled home the winning run off Dick Donovan, Cleveland's fifth pitcher.

Their new first baseman, Ray Barker, helped the New York Yankees beat Boston 5-3 with an RBI double in the fourth inning. Detroit spotted Washington a 6-0 lead then pulled the game out 7-6 on Willie Horton's two-out, two-run single in the ninth.

The Chicago White Sox and Kansas City had an open date, but in the other American League game first place Minnesota beat the Los Angeles Angels 3-2. The winning run crossed in the ninth on Harmon Killebrew's infield single off Dean Chance's leg.

Ron Herbel and Frank Linzy combined to pitch a shutout as San Francisco blanked Chicago 3-0.

Bridgeport Boy Shoots Record Rainbow Trout

A 10-year-old Bridgeport bowman has claimed the state record for rainbow trout, the Game Commission reports.

Shot from the bank near the Bridgeport bridge over the North Platte River, Jerry Edwards' prize weighed six pounds, one ounce. No previous claims exist in state records for this category.

In other Nebraska waters, high winds and cold weather put a damper on fishing.

A capsule report by area:

NORTHEAST: Sand Pits (Columbus)—crappie and bullheads on artificials and crawdads.

Missouri River (Ponca area)—few catfish and occasional sauger on minnows and commercial stink bait; sturgeon on worms and nightcrawlers; carp on corn, and small bullheads.

Omadi Bend—crappie to one and a half pounds on small minnows and artificials, fair size bullheads and some carp.

DeSoto Bend—some crappie high as 6 to 10 inches on minnows, 1 to 6 pound catfish and largemouth bass 1 to 4 pounds.

Fort Calhoun Chutes—small carp on prepared cornmeal, 6 to 10 inch crappie on artificials, occasional catfish and bass.

Elkhorn River (Stanton area)—catfish 1 to 4 pounds on worms and chicken livers, 1 to 6 pound carp on corn.

Gavins Point Dam—white bass along south side on white jigs, nice sauger to 3 pounds off wall on dike using minnows and fishing off bottom; Miller Creek, crappie on minnows to 12 inches South Shore Area, white bass and crappie.

Missouri River (Niobrara)—few sauger to 2½ pounds on minnows fishing off bottom.

SOUTHWEST: Harlan County Reservoir—some white bass averaging 8 to 10 inches being taken in Republican River on artificials.

Medicine Creek Reservoir—crappie fishing fair around willows and bays on white doll flies and minnows: a few walleye and black bass.

Red Willow Reservoir—a few largemouth and black bass being taken, bluegill fishing picking up with some running a pound. Best fishing area is on north side of lake.

Lake McConaughy—some walleye being taken on dam; night fishing best; white bass picking up, occasional small mouth bass; catfishing good at west end of lake.

Sutherland Reservoir—few white bass at inlet, occasional catfish on minnows.

Fort Hayes Wins CIC Golf Title By One Stroke

Hays, Kan. (UPI) — Fort Hays State won the Central Intercollegiate Conference Golf Championship Tuesday by one stroke to climax a come from behind spurt on the final 18 holes.

The Tigers were 11 strokes behind Washburn going into the final 18 holes and trailed by six going into the final nine. The winners tied the score on the sixth hole of the final nine and, when Washburn's Ray Chotlos overshot the green on the final hole, R. J. Smiley tapped in a short winning one-stroke margin.

Fort Hays finished with 894 strokes in the 54-hole tournament. Washburn followed with 895, Omaha University with 959, Pittsburg State 974, and Emporia State 991.

Mets Acquire Hiller From Giants For Cash

New York (AP) — The New York Mets announced early Wednesday they had purchased second baseman Chuck Hiller from the San Francisco Giants in a straight cash transaction. Hiller will replace the injured Ron Hunt.

Hunt suffered a separation of his left shoulder in the game against St. Louis Tuesday night and probably will be out for the season. He was placed on the disabled list.

Thornton Mauls Way To Win Over Cotton

Seattle (AP) — Wayne Thornton of Fresno, Calif., blood splattered from a cut beside his left eye, mauled his way Tuesday night to his third straight victory over 38-year-old Eddie Cotton of Seattle, a 12-round decision.

The skinny Seattle light-heavy obviously over-eager to gain some revenge, put Thornton down in the second round with a looping left hook to the head.

Clay Opens Final Two Weeks Of Training

Chicopee, Mass. (AP) — Cassius Clay bounced his way through nine rounds of sparring Tuesday as he opened the final two weeks of training for the May 25 defense of his heavyweight boxing title against Sonny Liston.

Clay did two rounds each with his brother, Rudolph, Cody Jones and Dave Bailey, and three with James Ellis, the light heavyweight on his training staff.

Yanks Call Infielder; Bring Roster To Limit

Boston (AP)—The New York Yankees filled their roster Tuesday by bringing up infielder Horace Clarke, the International League's leading hitter, from Toledo.

Addition of the 24-year-old Virgin Islander puts the Yankees at the 25-man limit. Clarke, in his eighth season as a professional, was batting .361 for Toledo.

Groundwork Set For New Loop

Chicago (AP) — Groundwork was established Tuesday for a new athletic loop including at least 10 schools to be called the National Collegiate Conference, possibly starting in the 1966-67 school year.

The new league, competing in basketball and spring sports, will be formally organized at a mid-June meeting in Washington, D.C., during the NCAA's summer conclave of athletic directors.

Schools represented at the daylong meeting were Canisius, University of Detroit, Dayton, DePaul, Loyola of the South, Memphis State, Marquette, Oklahoma City University and Xavier of Ohio.

Rick Redman To Play In All-America Game

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP) — Linebacker Rick Redman, who averaged 18 tackles per game for the Washington Huskies last year, has agreed to play in the fifth anual All-America football game here June 26, it was announced Tuesday.

Redman, a 220-pounder, has signed with the San Diego Chargers of the American Fotball League.

Middleweight Boxer Fined In New Jersey

Paterson, N.J. (AP) — Paterson Municipal Court disposed Tuesday of five charges of assault and battery, disorderly conduct and gambling against middleweight boxing contender Rubin (Hurricane) Carter.

The 27-year-old fighter was fined $25 for being an inmate of a gambling house, and a disorderly conduct charge arising from that incident was dismissed by Magistrate Charles J. Alfand.

Ted's Move To Ban State Poll Taxes Loses

Washington (AP)—Backing its Democratic and Republican leaders, the Senate refused Tuesday to write a ban on state poll taxes into President Johnson's Negro voting rights bill.

The 49-45 decision was built upon alliances which saw freind and foe of the Johnson bill stand together.

With it, the Senate rejected an amendment first proposed by Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., to rule out the poll tax as a qualification for voters in state and local elections.

Instead, it stuck to the version proposed by Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Congress' Declaration

Their measure would arm the attorney general with a congressional declaration that there is evidence that poll taxes are used in some areas to deny Negro voting rights, and send him to court to challenge the levies still imposed in Alabama, Mississippi, Virginia and Texas.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenback helped write that measure. He joined Dirksen, Mansfield and Johnson himself in arguing that an outright ban would be a constitutional gamble.

"The choice," Mansfield told the Senate, "is between the course of risk and the course of sureness, the course of speed and the course of possible delay."

Mansfield said the leaders' proposal would put the poll tax issue before the Supreme Court more swiftly than the Kennedy amendment.

Arm Attorney General

The Massachusetts senator insisted his version would better arm the attorney general for a court battle over poll taxes.

Dirksen disagreed.

"Let's resolve this matter as it ought to be resolved, with a proper respect for our states and our federal-state system" the Republican leader said. "If you can tell the states, 'You can't impose a poll tax,' why can't you tell them, 'You can't impose a cigarette tax, or any other tax?'"

"I say that we ought to do the job if we're going to do it, and do it right now," Kennedy countered.

"Why are we asking the Supreme Court to make this declaration unless we are willing to assume this responsibility?" he asked.

Assistants Vote For

While the two floor leaders opposed the amendment, both of the assistant leaders voted for Kennedy's proposal. They are Sens. Russell B. Long, D-Ala., and Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif.

Thirty-nine Democrats and six Republicans voted for the amendment. Twenty-four Democrats and 25 Republicans, including Sens. Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska of Nebraska voted against it.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy D-N.Y., who once was attorney general, voted with his brother. The showdown aligned the Kennedy's against Johnson, for the administration was firmly opposed to the poll tax ban.

While Johnson declared himself a foe of poll taxes, he said legal advisers had told him a ban would be questionable on constitutional grounds.

France Bows To U.S. On Germany

London (AP)—France Tuesday gave up its attempt to squeeze the United States out of an ultimate settlement of the German problem.

The development brought relief to the whole North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), and Secretary of State Dean Rusk arranged an overnight flight to London to seek unity in two other vital areas — the Vietnamese and the Dominican.

Rusk, scheduled to arrive at about 2 a.m. CST Wednesday, hoped to still fears among some NATO members that President Johnson is risking a head-on clash with the Communist world.

The German question highlighted the opening of the three-day spring meeting of NATO foreign ministers.

Ball Men Victorious

The U.S. delegation, with Undersecretary George W. Ball sitting in for Rusk, won an initial victory in the series of arguments Washington is conducting with Paris on world policy matters.

The United States, Britain and France agreed on a declaration calling for the reunion of divided Germany on the bases of self-determination, freedom and peace.

American sources said the draft—to be presented to the NATO ministers Wednesday—will make it clear that the United States has a vital interest in the German question.

Reunion Duty

This draft also carries a specific reference to the responsibility of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union—the four victorious Allied powers in World War II—for seeing that Germany is reunited.

At the opening session several delegates expressed understanding for the reasons governing American actions in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, but also made their concern clear.

Several of the day's speakers hinted that they would have liked earlier consultation by the Americans before the U.S. Marines moved into Santo Domingo.

Pleasant Surprise

The American - British-French declaration on Germany came as a pleasant surprise to many of the foreign ministers in the 15-nation alliance.

Buried in the diplomatic technicalities of this document was a single sentence reaffirming that a German solution is as essential to the interests of the United States as it is to European nations.

That sentence ran counter to the position taken by President Charles de Gaulle in February when he declared that the settlement of Germany's future is primarily a European problem.

The U.S. - British-French declaration was reported by British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart to all the NATO foreign ministers for their endorsement. Its terms were agreed at a private dinner Monday that brought together Ball, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder and Stewart. Publication of the declaration is expected Wednesday.

Making It Official

Bonn, Germany (AP)—Official announcement of the establishment of German-Israeli diplomatic relations will be made Thursday, the West German government press office reported.

Mitchell Declines Comment On Werve Statement About May 22 Party Fete

Democratic State Chairman John Mitchell of Kearney declined to comment Tuesday on National Committeeman Marvin Werve's statement that he is not helping to promote the party's Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Lincoln May 22.

But Mitchell said ticket sales are "in high gear," and surpass 1964 sales at this point.

"With Frank Morrison Jr. handling ticket sales in Douglas County and excellent cooperation from Douglas County Chairman Sam Cooper and his committee, we expect Douglas County to have fine representation in Lincoln," Mitchell said.

Werve had said "a good number" of Douglas County Democrats would forego the dinner.

The dinner is being held in Lincoln this year, Mitchell said, as a result of unanimous recommendations from the party's state central committee and state executive committee. It will be held in Omaha in 1966.

No speaker has yet been named for the Lincoln event, which is scheduled for Pershing Auditorium.

Crampton Wins Colonial Golf

. . . KNUDSON FALLS TO 2ND

Fort Worth, Tex. (AP)—Bruce Crampton erased a lingering nightmare with a four-under-par 66 Tuesday and won the $100,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament by three strokes. He carded a 72-hole total of 276.

The handsome Australian swept past several challengers with a birdie string beginning at the 13th to win his second tournament of the year and a plump paycheck totaling $20,000.

He birdied four of the last six holes for a 34-32-66 to overtake George Knudson on the final nine and coast to a rain-delayed triumph over four other contenders.

Knudson, who lost the tournament lead with a bogey at the 10th hole, carded a closing par 70 for 279 and second place, worth $11,500.

Chi Chi Rodriguez, Gardner Dickinson Jr., Tony Lema and Don January shared third place at even par 280. Rodriguez, clowning and joking with the crowd, closed with a 68.

Crampton's victory over the water-soaked, 7,132-yard Colonial course helped wipe out a disastrous finish here in 1962.

Three years ago he approached the final green needing only a par for the title, but his approach shot landed in a lake and he took a double-bogey 6. A day earlier he could have seized the third-round lead with a par at the final hole, but his second shot also flew into the water. It also resulted in a double bogey.

Legislature Gives Approval To NU Stadium Growth

The State Legislature Tuesday approved a 6,000 seat addition to the University of Nebraska Memorial Stadium.

It authorized, through adoption of a legislative resolution, the issuance of up to $225,000 in revenue bonds to finance the construction.

The addition will be built by the Peter Kiewit and Sons' Construction Co. of Omaha at the north end of the stadium. It will boost permanent seating capacity to nearly 53,000.

Nebraska Ranked 19th In Selling Hunting Permits

Nebraska ranked 19th nationally in hunting licenses, tags, stamps and permits sold during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1964, according the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Nebraska ranked 24th in gross receipts for hunting. The state ranked 30th in fishing permits and 34th in money received for fishing.

Hunters in Nebraska spent $1,259,020 for 392,106 permits and fishermen paid out $683,226 for 620,633 licenses.

Former Hastings Golf Coach Going To SoDak School

Hastings (AP)—Steve Bindas, who recently resigned as physical educaton co-ordinator and golf coach for the Hastings school system, has announced acceptance of a new post.

Bindas said Tuesday he will become athletic director and assistant professor of physical education at General Beadle State college, Madison, S.D., July 1.

Bindas recently coached Hastings golfers to their seventh Big Ten Conference golf title in eight years.

No successor has been named.

AK-Sar-Ben Boosts Stakes

Omaha — General Manager Tom Brock Tuesday announced an increase in the stakes, handicaps and feature money distribution at Ak-Sar-Ben for the remainder of the 1965 meeting.

The boost was made possible because of the new agreement with the HBPA which now gives 42% of the mutuel take and breakage for purse monies.

Eleven stakes and handicaps were boosted. Top increase goes to the George Brandeis Memorial Handicap, upped from $15,000 to $20,000. This gives Ak-Sar-Ben three $20,000 races for the 1965 meeting. The $20,000 Gold Cup and the $20,000 Ak-Sar-Ben Handicap will remain the same.

The Ak-Sar-Ben Governors' Handicap which will be run this Saturday was upped from $12,500 to $15,000.

The King's Plate Handicap on May 31 also was jumped from $12,500 to $15,000 along with the Ambassador's Handicap on June 5.

The 4-H Handicap, the Ak-Sar-Ben Juvenile Stakes and the Ak-Sar-Ben Breeders' Special will all be jumped from $10,000 to $12,500.

Troopers Sent To Quell New Teamster Violence

Lawrenceburg, Tenn. (UPI) — About 75 Teamster Union pickets attacked a group of law officers outside a violence-plagued bicycle plant Tuesday and Gov. Frank Clement rushed state troopers back to the scene.

A sheriff and a police officer suffered head injuries and the town's police chief had two broken ribs.

Clement, obviously angered, did not disclose the number of troopers sent to the Murray Ohio Co. plant, saying he would use "whatever number is necessary."

"Somebody better intervene, or we have anarchy," Clement declared.

The Teamsters overpowered the small group of law officers when they tried to clear pickets who blocked nonstrikers attempting to enter the plant.

Officers' Injuries

Sheriff Harold Brown was bruised on the chest and face, and blood vessels in one of his eyes were ruptured by a blow. Police Chief B. P. Scogging, who said he was "kicked and stomped," was treated for two broken ribs. Policeman Eugene Grant received a head injury when struck by a stick.

The attack was the first of several incidents of violence to result in serious injury. Earlier, parked cars of nonstrikers were riddled by rifle fire and equipment at the plant was damaged in shooting and dynamiting incidents.

Teamsters Local 327 began a walkout at the plant March 3, charging the firm with unfair practices. The Teamster's lost an election in which employes voted on the question of union representation.

The plant was closed by the walkout, but has since reopened with about 1,500 of its 2,500 employes returning to work.

Clement sent the state troopers here last month to "avert violence" in the labor dispute, but after a week of little disturbance, they were withdrawn and local authorities left in charge.

As nonstrikers arrived for work Tuesday, pickets patrolled the plant entrance blocking cars. Several Teamsters sat in the roadway with arms locked, chanting, "We shall not be moved."

Sheriff Brown walked into the group and attempted to arrest one of the men, identified as David Lindsey. At this time, pickets converged on the sheriff.

Svoggins and Grant were inrured when they went to Brown's aid. About five other officers temporarily cleared the group and brought the injured men to a local hospital for treatment.

Three of the Teamsters were arrested. Brown ordered a warrant for arrest of Lindsey on charges of assaulting an officer and resisting arrest. The sheriff said Lindsey had been arrested a week ago for allegedly slashing tires of a Murray Ohio truck.

TWO PICKETS . . . Teamsters hustled to jail.

UC's Holbrook Accepts Position In Washington

Dr. D. W. Holbrook, director of college relations at Union College, has accepted the post of president of the Home Study Institute in Washington, D.C.

Holbrook

The institute serves as the extension division for the 10 colleges and two universities in North America that are sponsored by the Seventh-day Adventist church and is also a member of the National University Extension Association.

Dr. and Mrs. Holbrook and their two children served in Latin America for 10 years before coming to Union College in 1960. They will move to Washington, D.C., immediately following spring graduation exercises at Union.

Court To Rule Today On Apportioning

The fate of the Nebraska Legislature's reapportionment bill will be announced in federal district court in Omaha at 11 a.m. Wednesday, it was announced here.

The case was heard recently by a three-judge federal panel in Lincoln.

Judge Richard Robinson said a decision would be filed on legislative bill 628 on behalf of the panel.

The current Legislature reapportioned itself by increasing the membership from 49 to 50, giving Douglas County two more senators and combining two northeast Nebraska districts.

The bill was passed in an attempt to comply with the U.S. Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote edict, and the bill was submitted to the federal judicial panel for a test of its compliance with the Supreme Court's decision.

New Nurse Hired By Health Board

Announcement of the hiring of a new nurse was made at the monthly meeting of the City-County Health Board Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Velma Weber, a graduate nurse, was hired to replace Karen Allen who has left Lincoln.

Discussed at the meeting were the office furnishings for the new offices being constructed for the board. No action was taken, however, since this will have to be determined at the annual budget meeting in early June.

Six of the nine members of the board were present for the meeting.

Car-Bike Crash Injures Boy, 14

Dennis Clare, 14, of 3825 Apple St. was in fair condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital Tuesday evening after a car-bicycle accident at about 34th and Y.

Police said the boy and another youth were riding their bicycles two abreast east on Y when young Clare's bike collided with a car driven by Dennis M. Albert, 22, of 3340 Y. Albert was westbound on Y.

Police said young Clare's bicycle did not have a headlight or reflector on it. He suffered abrasions, lacerations and possible internal injuries, hospital authorities said.

Enterprise Co. Apparent Low On Postal Unit

Wichita Kan. (AP) — Enterprise Co., 1941 Y St. Lincoln submitted an apparent low bid of $12,350 per year for building a postal station in Lincoln.

The regional post office here said five bids were received on the project, to be known as Station "B" and that a contract will be awarded after officials study all proposals. This is expected to take 30 to 45 days.

The department has specified a building with 7,505 square feet, plus a loading dock of 1,230 square feet and a parking area of 18,736 square feet. The facility is to be located on the north side of Arapahoe St., between 13th and 14th streets in Lincoln.

The department has an option on the site which will be assigned to the successful bidder.

The building will be handled under the department's lease arrangement. The successful bidder will construct the facility and lease it to the department for 10 years with four five-year options to renew the lease.

Woman Dies In Omaha Accident

Omaha (AP) — Mary Coleman, 50, Omaha, was dead on arrival at a hospital shortly before midnight Monday after a two-car crash in north Omaha.

Police identified the driver of the other car as Albert Perkins, 22, also of Omaha. He was treated at a hospital and released.

A passenger in the Perkins' car, Richard Rice, 22, Omaha, was reported in serious condition Tuesday. He suffered severe facial injuries.

Prof. Oscar Bennet of Nebraska Wesleyan University will direct the performances, slated July 16-19 at Pinewood Bowl.

Nebraskans Say Unicameral Has Worked In State

Providence R.I. (AP) — Two Nebraskans told a political science symposium at Providence College Tuesday night that by "most any count" the one house legislature in Nebraska has given a good account of itself since it was created in 1937.

Dr. Adam C. Breckenridge, vice chancellor and dean of faculties at the University of Nebraska, and Michael P. Russillo, a retired Navy rear admiral and former member of the Nebraska Legislature, both suggested one change in the Nebraska setup.

They suggested the election of legislators under party labels rather than on a nonpartisan basis on which they are now chosen.

Both men said the Nebraska Legislature has rules that they said prevent hasty legislation, including a rule that no bill can be passed for at least five days after its introduction.

Ted's Move To Ban State Poll Taxes Loses

Washington (AP)—Backing its Democratic and Republican leaders, the Senate refused Tuesday to write a ban on state poll taxes into President Johnson's Negro voting rights bill.

The 49-45 decision was built upon alliances which saw freind and foe of the Johnson bill stand together.

With it, the Senate rejected an amendment first proposed by Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., to rule out the poll tax as a qualification for voters in state and local elections.

Instead, it stuck to the version proposed by Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Congress' Declaration

Their measure would arm the attorney general with a congressional declaration that there is evidence that poll taxes are used in some areas to deny Negro voting rights, and send him to court to challenge the levies still imposed in Alabama, Mississippi, Virginia and Texas.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenback helped write that measure. He joined Dirksen, Mansfield and Johnson himself in arguing that an outright ban would be a constitutional gamble.

"The choice," Mansfield told the Senate, "is between the course of risk and the course of sureness, the course of speed and the course of possible delay."

Mansfield said the leaders' proposal would put the poll tax issue before the Supreme Court more swiftly than the Kennedy amendment.

Arm Attorney General

The Massachusetts senator insisted his version would better arm the attorney general for a court battle over poll taxes.

Dirksen disagreed.

"Let's resolve this matter as it ought to be resolved, with a proper respect for our states and our federal-state system" the Republican leader said. "If you can tell the states, 'You can't impose a poll tax,' why can't you tell them, 'You can't impose a cigarette tax, or any other tax?' "

"I say that we ought to do the job if we're going to do it, and do it right now," Kennedy countered.

"Why are we asking the Supreme Court to make this declaration unless we are willing to assume this responsibility?" he asked.

Assistants Vote For

While the two floor leaders opposed the amendment, both of the assistant leaders voted for Kennedy's proposal. They are Sens. Russell B. Long, D-Ala., and Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif.

Thirty-nine Democrats and six Republicans voted for the amendment. Twenty-four Democrats and 25 Republicans, including Sens. Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska of Nebraska voted against it.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy D-N.Y., who once was attorney general, voted with his brother. The showdown aligned the Kennedy's against Johnson, for the administration was firmly opposed to the poll tax ban.

While Johnson declared himself a foe of poll taxes, he said legal advisers had told him a ban would be questionable on constitutional grounds.

France Bows To U.S. On Germany

London (AP)—France Tuesday gave up its attempt to squeeze the United States out of an ultimate settlement of the German problem.

The development brought relief to the whole North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), and Secretary of State Dean Rusk arranged an overnight flight to London to seek unity in two other vital areas — the Vietnamese and the Dominican.

Rusk, scheduled to arrive at about 2 a.m. CST Wednesday, hoped to still fears among some NATO members that President Johnson is risking a head-on clash with the Communist world.

The German question highlighted the opening of the three-day spring meeting of NATO foreign ministers.

Ball Men Victorious

The U.S. delegation, with Undersecretary George W. Ball sitting in for Rusk, won an initial victory in the series of arguments Washington is conducting with Paris on world policy matters.

The United States, Britain and France agreed on a declaration calling for the reunion of divided Germany on the bases of self-determination, freedom and peace.

American sources said the draft—to be presented to the NATO ministers Wednesday—will make it clear that the United States has a vital interest in the German question.

Reunion Duty

This draft also carries a specific reference to the responsibility of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union—the four victorious Allied powers in World War II—for seeing that Germany is reunited.

At the opening session several delegates expressed understanding for the reasons governing American actions in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, but also made their concern clear.

Several of the day's speakers hinted that they would have liked earlier consultation by the Americans before the U.S. Marines moved into Santo Domingo.

Pleasant Surprise

The American - British-French declaration on Germany came as a pleasant surprise to many of the foreign ministers in the 15-nation alliance.

Buried in the diplomatic technicalities of this document was a single sentence reaffirming that a German solution is as essential to the interests of the United States as it is to European nations.

That sentence ran counter to the position taken by President Charles de Gaulle in February when he declared that the settlement of Germany's future is primarily a European problem.

The U.S. - British-French declaration was reported by British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart to all the NATO foreign ministers for their endorsement. Its terms were agreed at a private dinner Monday that brought together Ball, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder and Stewart. Publication of the declaration is expected Wednesday.

Mitchell Declines Comment On Werve Statement About May 22 Party Fete

Democratic State Chairman John Mitchell of Kearney declined to comment Tuesday on National Committeeman Marvin Werve's statement that he is not helping to promote the party's Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Lincoln May 22.

But Mitchell said ticket sales are "in high gear," and surpass 1964 sales at this point.

"With Frank Morrison Jr. handling ticket sales in Douglas County and excellent cooperation from Douglas County Chairman Sam Cooper and his committee, we expect Douglas County to have fine representation in Lincoln," Mitchell said.

Werve had said "a good number" of Douglas County Democrats would forego the dinner.

The dinner is being held in Lincoln this year, Mitchell said, as a result of unanimous recommendations from the party's state central committee and state executive committee. It will be held in Omaha in 1966.

No speaker has yet been named for the Lincoln event, which is scheduled for Pershing Auditorium.

Making It Official

Bonn, Germany (AP)—Official announcement of the establishment of German-Israeli diplomatic relations will be made Thursday, the West German government press office reported.

Stock Market Mixed, Lower

New York (AP) — Selective strength—with aluminums outstanding—enlivened a stock market which went through its third straight session of irregular decline Tuesday. Trading was fairly active.

Volume was 5.16 million shares compared with 5.6 million Monday.

The list was mixed at the start, drifted downward uneven'y, then staged a partial recovery late in the day.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which was off 2.25 at mid-session, closed with a decline of only .50 at 935.92.

The market, analysts say, has been going through a kind of consolidation phase since reaching a series of historic highs last week.

One bright spot in the generally dragging market was Chrysler which ran up 1¾ to 53¾ on 177,200 shares, making it the most active stock.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .8 to 352.9 with industrials off 1.2, rails off .7 and utilities up .1.

Of 1,595 issues traded, 664 declined and 457 advanced. New highs for the year totaled 76 and new lows 26.

Despite the preponderance of losers in the over-all list, gainers outnumbered losers by 9 to 5 among the 15 most-active issues, with American Motors unchanged.

Rubbers and airlines were generally higher but the trend was generally lower among steels, electronics, drugs and rails.

An irregularly lower price trend prevailed also on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 2.12 million shares compared with 2.3 million Monday.

Corporate bonds were lower. U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Grain Market Hit By Profit Cashing

Chicago (AP)—Profit cashers, fearful of a bearish government crop report, reversed the recent firm trend in wheat futures Tuesday and drove all contracts into losses on the Board of Trade.

All other grains and soybeans finished steady to firm after a late moderate flurry of buying which followed generally dull dealings most of the day.

The government estimate of winter wheat crop production was 977.7 million but the report was not issued until after the market closed.

At the close, soybeans were ⅛-1¼ cents a bushel higher, May $2.83½-⅝; wheat ½ to 1 cent lower, May $1.46½-¾; corn ¼-¾ higher, May $1.33-32⅞; oats ¼-½ higher, May 71¼ cents; rye unchanged to ¼ higher, May $1.18¼.

Troopers Sent To Quell New Teamster Violence

Lawrenceburg, Tenn. (UPI) — About 75 Teamsters Union pickets attacked a group of law officers outside a violence-plagued bicycle plant Tuesday and Gov. Frank Clement rushed state troopers back to the scene.

A sheriff and a police officer suffered head injuries and the town's police chief had two broken ribs.

Clement, obviously angered, did not disclose the number of troopers sent to the Murray Ohio Co. plant, saying he would use "whatever number is necessary."

"Somebody better intervene, or we have anarchy," Clement declared.

The Teamsters overpowered the small group of law officers when they tried to clear pickets who blocked nonstrikers attempting to enter the plant.

Officers' Injuries

Sheriff Harold Brown was bruised on the chest and face, and blood vessels in one of his eyes were ruptured by a blow. Police Chief B. P. Scogging, who said he was "kicked and stomped," was treated for two broken ribs. Policeman Eugene Grant received a head injury when struck by a stick.

The attack was the first of several incidents of violence to result in serious injury. Earlier, parked cars of nonstrikers were riddled by rifle fire and equipment at the plant was damaged in shooting and dynamiting incidents.

Teamsters Local 327 began a walkout at the plant March 3, charging the firm with unfair practices. The Teamster's lost an election in which employes voted on the question of union representation.

The plant was closed by the walkout, but has since reopened with about 1,500 of its 2,500 employes returning to work.

Clement sent the state troopers here last month to "avert violence" in the labor dispute, but after a week of little disturbance, they were withdrawn and local authorities left in charge.

As nonstrikers arrived for work Tuesday, pickets patrolled the plant entrance blocking cars. Several Teamsters sat in the roadway with arms locked, chanting, "We shall not be moved."

Sheriff Brown walked into the group and attempted to arrest one of the men, identified as David Lindsey. At this time, pickets converged on the sheriff.

Svoggins and Grant were inrured when they went to Brown's aid. About five other officers temporarily cleared the group and brought the injured men to a local hospital for treatment.

Three of the Teamsters were arrested. Brown ordered a warrant for arrest of Lindsey on charges of assaulting an officer and resisting arrest. The sheriff said Lindsey had been arrested a week ago for allegedly slashing tires of a Murray Ohio truck.

TWO PICKETS . . . Teamsters hustled to jail.

UC's Holbrook Accepts Position In Washington

Dr. D. W. Holbrook, director of college relations at Union College, has accepted the post of president of the Home Study Institute in Washington, D.C.

Holbrook

The institute serves as the extension division for the 10 colleges and two universities in North America that are sponsored by the Seventh-day Adventist church and is also a member of the National University Extension Association.

Dr. and Mrs. Holbrook and their two children served in Latin America for 10 years before coming to Union College in 1960. They will move to Washington, D.C., immediately following spring graduation exercises at Union.

Car-Bike Crash Injures Boy, 14

Dennis Clare, 14, of 3825 Apple St. was in fair condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital Tuesday evening after a car-bicycle accident at about 34th and Y.

Police said the boy and another youth were riding their bicycles two abreast east on Y when young Clare's bike collided with a car driven by Dennis M. Albert, 22, of 3340 Y. Albert was westbound on Y.

Police said young Clare's bicycle did not have a headlight or reflector on it. He suffered abrasions, lacerations and possible internal injuries, hospital authorities said.

Court To Rule Today On Apportioning

The fate of the Nebraska Legislature's reapportionment bill will be announced in federal district court in Omaha at 11 a.m. Wednesday, it was announced here.

The case was heard recently by a three-judge federal panel in Lincoln.

Judge Richard Robinson said a decision would be filed on legislative bill 628 on behalf of the panel.

The current Legislature reapportioned itself by increasing the membership from 49 to 50, giving Douglas County two more senators and combining two northeast Nebraska districts.

The bill was passed in an attempt to comply with the U.S. Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote edict, and the bill was submitted to the federal judicial panel for a test of its compliance with the Supreme Court's decision.

New Nurse Hired By Health Board

Announcement of the hiring of a new nurse was made at the monthly meeting of the City-County Health Board Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Velma Weber, a graduate nurse, was hired to replace Karen Allen who has left Lincoln.

Discussed at the meeting were the office furnishings for the new offices being constructed for the board. No action was taken, however, since this will have to be determined at the annual budget meeting in early June.

Six of the nine members of the board were present for the meeting.

Enterprise Co. Apparent Low On Postal Unit

Wichita, Kan. (AP) — Enterprise Co., 1941 Y St., Lincoln, submitted an apparent low bid of $12,350 per year for building a postal station in Lincoln.

The regional post office here said five bids were received on the project, to be known as Station "B", and that a contract will be awarded after officials study all proposals. This is expected to take 30 to 45 days.

The department has specified a building with 7,505 square feet, plus a loading dock of 1,230 square feet and a parking area of 18,786 square feet. The facility is to be located on the north side of Arapahoe St., between 13th and 14th streets in Lincoln.

The department has an option on the site which will be assigned to the successful bidder.

The building will be handled under the department's lease arrangement. The successful bidder will construct the facility and lease it to the department for 10 years with four five-year options to renew the lease.

Woman Dies In Omaha Accident

Omaha (AP) — Mary Coleman, 50, Omaha, was dead on arrival at a hospital shortly before midnight Monday after a two-car crash in north Omaha.

Police identified the driver of the other car as Albert Perkins, 22, also of Omaha. He was treated at a hospital and released.

A passenger in the Perkins' car, Richard Rice, 22, Omaha, was reported in serious condition Tuesday. He suffered severe facial injuries.

Prof. Oscar Bennet of Nebraska Wesleyan University will direct the performances, slated July 16-19 at Pinewood Bowl.

Nebraskans Say Unicameral Has Worked In State

Providence, R.I. (AP) — Two Nebraskans told a political science symposium at Providence College Tuesday night that by "most any count" the one house legislature in Nebraska has given a good account of itself since it was created in 1937.

Dr. Adam C. Breckenridge, vice chancellor and dean of faculties at the University of Nebraska, and Michael P. Russillo, a retired Navy rear admiral and former member of the Nebraska Legislature, both suggested one change in the Nebraska setup.

They suggested the election of legislators under party labels rather than on a nonpartisan basis on which they are now chosen.

Both men said the Nebraska Legislature has rules that they said prevent hasty legislation, including a rule that no bill can be passed for at least five days after its introduction.

Baker Plans Suit On Pilot's Estate; Calls Secretary's Death A Tragedy

Ocean City, Md. (UPI)—Former Senate aide Bobby Baker said Tuesday he will file a lawsuit against the estate of a pilot killed along with his secretary, Carole Tyler, in a crash in the Atlantic Ocean here Sunday.

Baker said he will file against the estate of Robert O. Davis, 43, a stunt pilot.

Baker, whose legal actions are handled by noted Washington lawyer Edward Bennet Williams, said the suit he plans "will be one of the most interesting lawsuits the country has ever seen."

'Trying To Show Off'

He said Davis was "reckless and just trying to show off when it happened."

Miss Tyler, 26, a key witness in a Senate probe of Baker's business activities, was killed with Davis when the old single engine Waco biplane they were in plunged into the Atlantic about 200 yards from Baker's Carousel Motel. The two were on an apparent joyride.

Maryland medical examiner Dr. Russell S. Fisher said an autopsy Tuesday revealed death was caused by drowning. He said no alcohol was found in the bloodstream of either victim.

Wreckage of the plane was recovered Tuesday and taken to Ocean City Airport where it could be examined by federal aviation officials.

Personal Tragedy

Baker, obviously emotionally upset over Miss Tyler's death, called it a deep personal tragedy to his family.

"When the whole world was against me, she stood by my side," he said. "The hardest thing I ever had to do in my life was call the girl's mother and tell her Carole was dead."

Davis had been a pilot for the Chafin Coal Co. in Huntington, W. Va., until the firm sold its plane. He was said to be independently wealthy and had been unemployed since. A former B17 pilot in World War II, he was married and the father of two sons. He arrived at the hotel about a week ago on a fishing trip with a Huntington friend.

Security Tighter After Tito Threat

Oslo, Norway (AP)—Security precautions were tightened Tuesday after Oslo police received warnings of a possible threat to visiting Yugoslav President Tito, informed sources reported. The nature of the threat was not stated.

Tito arrived with his wife Monday for a four-day state visit.

There were more police on guard in Oslo than for the visit last fall of the then Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, a reliable source said.

IRVING BERLIN IS 77

Composer Irving Berlin turned 77 Tuesday and said he was not particularly impressed by the fact. "It leaves me cold," he said. Berlin is still working at his trade—writing popular songs.

Sorensen Slated To Attend U.S. Education Meet

Lt. Gov. Philip C. Sorensen was scheduled to attend a National Education Conference Wednesday in Washington, D.C.

Sorensen said the conference is aimed at determining what the states can do to more effectively exercise their responsibility in education.

Sorensen was to be in Charleston, S.C., Thursday, Friday and Saturday for the national lieutenant governor's conference. He will appear on a panel discussion to put in a good word for Nebraska's one-house Legislature.

He will make another appearance on behalf of the Unicameral system next Monday in Milwaukee, Wis., during the Milwaukee Sentinel's "Forum for Progress" program.

Dolls grabbed a giant share of the $1 billion toy market this Christmas. Dolls these days do everything but change their own diapers. They walk, talk, wink, drink, burp, flirt, sniffle, sneeze, laugh and sing. They wear wigs, blow bubbles and twist.

Heat Warms Up Great Modesty Fence Debate

Boston (AP)—The mercury's rise to 88 added heat to the controversy over whether young women in meager wraps should sunbathe along the Charles River in view of passing motorists.

It was the hottest day of the year in Boston, and the girls were on the banks of the Charles defending their rights.

One in a scanty bikini said, "It's the passengers, not the drivers, who gawk."

The Automobile Legal Association has proposed that a modesty fence be built to eliminate what it feels has become a traffic hazard.

The Boston University coed said, "A modesty fence would ruin the beautiful view—the sailboats and the crew team and the river."

Johnson To Brief Nation Thursday

Washington (UPI) — President Johnson plans to go before the nation Thursday with an updated report in the international situation—his second such briefing in less than two weeks.

The White House declined to characterize the speech as a major one but said Johnson planned to "review" the world scene.

Stock Market Mixed, Lower

New York (AP) — Selective strength—with aluminums outstanding—enlivened a stock market which went through its third straight session of irregular decline Tuesday. Trading was fairly active.

Volume was 5.16 million shares compared with 5.6 million Monday.

The list was mixed at the start, drifted downward unevenly, then staged a partial recovery late in the day.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which was off 2.15 at mid-session, closed with a decline of only .55 at 930.92.

The market, analysts say, has been going through a kind of consolidation phase since reaching a series of historic highs last week.

One bright spot in the generally dragging market was Chrysler which ran up 1½ to 53½ on 177,200 shares, making it the most active stock.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .8 to 341.9 with industrials off 1.2, rails off .7 and utilities up .1.

Of 1,395 issues traded, 664 declined and 457 advanced. New highs for the year totaled 73 and new lows 26.

Despite the preponderance of losers in the over-all list, gainers outnumbered losers by 9 to 5 among the 15 most active issues, with American Motors unchanged.

Rubbers and airlines were generally higher but the trend was generally lower among steels, electronics, drugs and rails.

An irregularly lower price trend prevailed also on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 2.12 million shares compared with 2.3 million Monday.

Corporate bonds were lower. U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Hog Prices Are Steady To Weak

Omaha (AP)—Butcher hogs sold steady to weak at the opening Tuesday, later turning fully steady. Fed steers were steady while prices on heifers were fully steady. Wooled and spring lambs sold steady.

Grain Market Hit By Profit Cashing

Chicago (AP)—Profit cashers, fearful of a bearish government crop report, reversed the recent firm trend in wheat futures Tuesday and drove all contracts into losses on the Board of Trade.

All other grains and soybeans finished steady to firm after a late moderate flurry of buying which followed generally dull dealings most of the day.

The government estimate of winter wheat crop production was 977.7 million but the report was not issued until after the market closed.

At the close, soybeans were ⅛-1¼ cents a bushel higher, May $2.83½-⅝; wheat ½ to 1 cent lower, May $1.46½-⅝; corn ⅛-⅜ higher, May $1.33-32⅞; oats ⅛-⅞ higher, May 71⅞ cents; rye unchanged to ¼ higher, May $1.18¼.

Baker Plans Suit On Pilot's Estate; Calls Secretary's Death A Tragedy

Ocean City, Md. (UPI)—Former Senate aide Bobby Baker said Tuesday he will file a lawsuit against the estate of a pilot killed along with his secretary, Carole Tyler, in a crash in the Atlantic Ocean here Sunday.

Baker said he will file against the estate of Robert O. Davis, 43, a stunt pilot.

Baker, whose legal actions are handled by noted Washington lawyer Edward Bennet Williams, said the suit he plans "will be one of the most interesting lawsuits the country has ever seen."

'Trying To Show Off'

He said Davis was "reckless and just trying to show off when it happened."

Miss Tyler, 26, a key witness in a Senate probe of Baker's business activities, was killed with Davis when the old single engine Waco biplane they were in plunged into the Atlantic about 200 yards from Baker's Carousel Motel. The two were on an apparent joyride.

Maryland medical examiner Dr. Russell S. Fisher said an autopsy Tuesday revealed death was caused by drowning. He said no alcohol was found in the bloodstream of either victim.

Wreckage of the plane was recovered Tuesday and taken to Ocean City Airport where it could be examined by federal aviation officials.

Personal Tragedy

Baker, obviously emotionally upset over Miss Tyler's death, called it a deep personal tragedy to his family.

"When the whole world was against me, she stood by my side," he said. "The hardest thing I ever had to do in my life was call the girl's mother and tell her Carole was dead."

Davis had been a pilot for the Chafin Coal Co. in Huntington, W. Va., until the firm sold its plane. He was said to be independently wealthy and had been unemployed since. A former B17 pilot in World War II, he was married and the father of two sons. He arrived at the hotel about a week ago on a fishing trip with a Huntington friend.

Security Tighter After Tito Threat

Oslo, Norway (AP)—Security precautions were tightened Tuesday after Oslo police received warnings of a possible threat to visiting Yugoslav President Tito, informed sources reported. The nature of the threat was not stated.

Tito arrived with his wife Monday for a four-day state visit.

There were more police on guard in Oslo than for the visit last fall of the then Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, a reliable source said.

IRVING BERLIN IS 77

Composer Irving Berlin turned 77 Tuesday and said he was not particularly impressed by the fact. "It leaves me cold," he said. Berlin is still working at his trade—writing popular songs.

Sorensen Slated To Attend U.S. Education Meet

Lt. Gov. Philip C. Sorensen was scheduled to attend a National Education Conference Wednesday in Washington, D.C.

Sorensen said the conference is aimed at determining what the states can do to more effectively exercise their responsibility in education.

Sorensen was to be in Charleston, S.C., Thursday, Friday and Saturday for the national lieutenant governor's conference. He will appear on a panel discussion to put in a good word for Nebraska's one-house Legislature.

He will make another appearance on behalf of the Unicameral system next Monday in Milwaukee, Wis., during the Milwaukee Sentinel's "Forum for Progress" program.

Dolls grabbed a giant share of the $1 billion toy market this Christmas. Dolls these days do everything but change their own diapers. They walk, talk, wink, drink, burp, flirt, sniffle, sneeze, laugh and sing. They wear wigs, blow bubbles and twist.

Heat Warms Up Great Modesty Fence Debate

Boston (AP)—The mercury's rise to 88 added heat to the controversy over whether young women in meager wraps should sunbathe along the Charles River in view of passing motorists.

It was the hottest day of the year in Boston, and the girls were on the banks of the Charles defending their rights.

One in a scanty bikini said, "It's the passengers, not the drivers, who gawk."

The Automobile Legal Associaton has proposed that a modesty fence be built to eliminate what it feels has become a traffic hazard.

The Boston University coed said, "A modesty fence would ruin the beautiful view—the sailboats and the crew team and the river."

Johnson To Brief Nation Thursday

Washington (UPI) — President Johnson plans to go before the nation Thursday with an updated report in the international situation—his second such briefing in less than two weeks.

The White House declined to characterize the speech as a major one but said Johnson planned to "review" the world scene.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

I arrived in London at night without a hotel room. And since I was recommended and put up for membership in the elite Curzon House Club, I hustled over for a lodging for the night.

"I'm afrai sir, we've only one room vacant," said the hall porter. "The Ascot and everyone in from the country, you know."

He led me up some creaking stairs. Put me in an antique brass birdcage elevator. Past rooms with dowager duchesses playing cards. He opened the door and stood aside for me to go in.

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, it was quaint I give it that. The roof was a trifle slanted. The window opened quaintly on chimney pots. The room was about the size of a salmon can.

He hung my bag in one of those chest things they call an armoire. Which immediately toppled over from the weight.

"Afraid we'll 'ave to put the bag on the floor, sir," said the porter. "The room's quite cozy. In Lord Curzon's day—the third Lord 'owe—I believe it was used by one of the chambermaids.

"But 'ere you won't be disturbed at all. Cawn't 'ear the clatter of the chips, not 'ere you won't."

The chips?' I asked.

"The roulette chips and the banging of the fruit machines—the one-armed bandits I believe you say."

"What kind of club is this?" I asked.

"Why Curzon 'ouse is a gaming club, sir," he said. "I thought you knew that."

☆ ☆ ☆

The Club (I find) was built in 1705 by the third Viscount Howe. It housed various members of the family for more than 150 years.

I went downstairs and got a drink. The rooms were all hung with great oil paintings, gone dark with age. They showed be-wigged Curzons looking stern in their lace clothing.

"The Duke and Duchess of York lived here later, sir," said the bar man. "Before they became King George VI and Queen Elizabeth."

☆ ☆ ☆

"What happened to the house after that?" I asked. "When did gambling move in?"

"After that," said the bar man, "It became a club for old ladies. Dowagers from the country shopping in town. Titled ladies who lived here all the time.

"Then it was turned into a gaming club—though naturally the old ladies retained rooms and membership.

"Oh, dear, oh, dear, how they complained if they were charged more than seven and six for dinner!"

Seven and six is $1.05. The Curzon House Club restaurant is managed by Albert Claes who used to run the Mirabelle, the smartest restaurant in London.

"What did they care if it was pheasant on the menu, sir? It was seven and six they paid when it was chicken and bread sauce. And seven and six they intended to pay.

"It was difficult to make the restaurant pay for itself. For they were in there the minute the dinner bell was rung. And everything on the plate and asking for second helpings. And two sweets if you please."

"And are they still here?" I asked him.

"Ah, no. They've gone, bless their hearts. Some left—for the gaming annoyed them. And some passed on to their rewards, as you might say.

"So now it's a gaming club to drop into. Or, members like yourself who want to stay the night or so. No regular guests."

☆ ☆ ☆

And when I woke in the morning, the pigeons were cooing quaintly among the chimney pots.

A few other guests were rising—all of us competing for the community bath down the creaking hall.

I didn't want to be that regular. Or that quaint. So I moved over to the swank Carlton Tower. With room service and a bath all my own.

JOHN WILKINSON
AUTO DEPARTMENT STORE
500 No. 48th
LINCOLN

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK UNTIL 10 PM

I arrived in London at night without a hotel room. And since I was recommended and put up for membership in the elite Curzon House Club, I hustled over for a lodging for the night.

"I'm afrai sir, we've only one room vacant," said the hall porter. "The Ascot and everyone in from the country, you know."

He led me up some creaking stairs. Put me in an antique brass birdcage elevator. Past rooms with dowager duchesses playing cards. He opened the door and stood aside for me to go in.

☆ ☆ ☆

Well, it was quaint I give it that. The roof was a trifle slanted. The window opened quaintly on chimney pots. The room was about the size of a salmon can.

He hung my bag in one of those chest things they call an armoire. Which immediately toppled over from the weight.

"Afraid we'll 'ave to put the bag on the floor, sir," said the porter. "The room's quite cozy. In Lord Curzon's day—the third Lord 'owe—I believe it was used by one of the chambermaids.

"But 'ere you won't be disturbed at all. Cawn't 'ear the clatter of the chips, not 'ere you won't."

The chips?' I asked.

"The roulette chips and the banging of the fruit machines—the one-armed bandits I believe you say."

"What kind of club is this?" I asked.

"Why Curzon 'ouse is a gaming club, sir," he said. "I thought you knew that."

☆ ☆ ☆

The Club (I find) was built in 1705 by the third Viscount Howe. It housed various members of the family for more than 150 years.

I went downstairs and got a drink. The rooms were all hung with great oil paintings, gone dark with age. They showed be-wigged Curzons looking stern in their lace clothing.

"The Duke and Duchess of York lived here later, sir," said the bar man. "Before they became King George VI and Queen Elizabeth."

☆ ☆ ☆

"What happened to the house after that?" I asked. "When did gambling move in?"

"After that," said the bar man, "It became a club for old ladies. Dowagers from the country shopping in town. Titled ladies who lived here all the time.

"Then it was turned into a gaming club—though naturally the old ladies retained rooms and membership.

"Oh, dear, oh, dear, how they complained if they were charged more than seven and six for dinner!"

Seven and six is $1.05. The Curzon House Club restaurant is managed by Albert Claes who used to run the Mirabelle, the smartest restaurant in London.

"What did they care if it was pheasant on the menu, sir? It was seven and six they paid when it was chicken and bread sauce. And seven and six they intended to pay.

"It was difficult to make the restaurant pay for itself. For they were in there the minute the dinner bell was rung. And everything on the plate and asking for second helpings. And two sweets if you please."

"And are they still here?" I asked him.

"Ah, no. They've gone, bless their hearts. Some left—for the gaming annoyed them. And some passed on to their rewards, as you might say.

"So now it's a gaming club to drop into. Or, members like yourself who want to stay the night or so. No regular guests."

☆ ☆ ☆

And when I woke in the morning, the pigeons were cooing quaintly among the chimney pots.

A few other guests were rising—all of us competing for the community bath down the creaking hall.

I didn't want to be that regular. Or that quaint. So I moved over to the swank Carlton Tower. With room service and a bath all my own.
